Kennedy Sees No Early Halt In Crises; 10,000 More Men Ordered To Europe

Gen. Taylor Due There

U.S. Intervention In S. Viet Nam Termed Possible

WASHINGTON (AP) — The possibility of direct U.S. military intervention in South Viet Nam appeared to be sharpened today by President Kennedy's decision to send Gen. Maxwell D. Taylor on an urgent mission to assess the growing Communist threat to the Southeast Asian country.

Taylor, a top Kennedy military adviser, is scheduled to leave Sunday, make a fast survey of the increasingly dangerous situation, then give Kennedy an "educated military guess" on the size of the Communist menace and steps that could be taken to meet it. Officials said the U.S.-supported government of President Ngo Dinh Diem is coming under very heavy Red pressure.

The President announced the Taylor mission at a news conference Wednesday at which he also made clear that he will send Ambassador Llewellyn Thompson back to Moscow shortly to resume exploratory talks with Soviet leaders on possible settlement of the Berlin crisis.

Thompson, in addition, is expected to warn the Soviets anew of the dangers of expanding con-

Rayburn's Stricken By Pneumonia

Cancer-Afflicted Speaker Of House Remains Critical

DALLAS, Tex. (AP)—Sam Rayburn, stricken with incurable cancer and harried by pneumonia, remained critically ill today.

The condition of the 79-year-old speaker of the House worsened Wednesday. His temperature shot to 103 degrees and he lost consciousness. But then he rallied.

Baylor Hospital has not reported any change in his condition since the 5:30 p.m. medical bulletin Wednesday which said: "Mr. Rayburn remains critically ill but now replies to questions and generally shows improvement. His pulse and blood pressure are within normal limits. His temperature is dropping and this afternoon it has approached normal. He shows signs of responding to treatment. Antibiotics and positive pressure are being continued."

Dr. Robert F. Short Jr., the congressman's chief physician, said in reply to questions that Rayburn was receiving treatment only for pneumonia. He said there had been no toxic effects from the three cancer treatments given to Rayburn they would be suspended until the pneumonia has been controlled.

Dr. Short said Rayburn was put on the critical list because of pneumonia and not from any worsening of the cancer.

"Pneumonia is something that can be cured," he added.

The doctor said the pneumonia developed Tuesday afternoon and that Rayburn lapsed into unconsciousness during the night.

The "positive pressure" that the doctor referred to utilizes a machine to force air into Rayburn's lungs, relieving the heart of added work. Dr. Short said Rayburn also is being given oxygen and that he is being fed intravenously.

Rayburn entered the hospital 10 days ago, saying he was suffering from back pains caused by lumbago. Tests showed that he had been stricken with incurable cancer.

Burglars Get $200

Safe Ripped Out

Burglars ripped a floor safe out of its concrete foundation and obtained $200 early this morning at the Highway Oil Co. gas station on Route 68, about a mile west of Midland.

Ohio Township Constable Bernard Zlatovich, left, inspects the area where the safe was dug out, and George Peebles of East Palestine, manager, holds a chunk of the concrete which the burglars broke through.

Scratches on the pavement in front of the station indicated where the burglars had dragged out the safe.

The small safe weighed from 200 to 300 pounds.

Ohio Township police were notified when Peebles discovered the safe missing at 5:55 a. m. He estimated the safe contained about $200, including night receipts.

Entrance to the two - room station was gained by tearing out a hole in the thin wall at the rear, just big enough for a person to slip through.

The station was broken into sometime after Fred Wolfe of Midland, night attendant, closed at 12:10 a. m. and Constable Zlatovich checked at 1:15 a. m.

Chunks of the 3- to 4-inch concrete, which surrounded the sides and bottom of the safe, were piled in the next room by the burglars. Some chunks remained in the hole.

Peebles said apparently nothing else was taken. Mike Haydin, township constable, was also at the scene and the Roches-

Africa Bloc Threatens To Quit UN

Foreign Minister Waits Instructions After Censure Talk

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP) —Stung by an unprecedented censure from the General Assembly, South African Foreign Minister Eric Louw today awaited instructions from his government amid new speculation the republic may quit the United Nations.

Louw angrily charged that the censure of his policy speech by an overwhelming vote of 67-1 was part of a prearranged campaign by African nations to smear his government.

"We had been forewarned this would happen," Louw declared after a parade of African delegates denounced his speech as insulting to their governments and the African people.

African delegates were infuriated by Louw's charge that many of the African governments were attacking his government to divert attention from appalling economic conditions and illiteracy in their own countries. The Africans also resented his announcement that South Africa would continue its policy of apartheid—strict race segregation — despite the U.N.'s disapproval.

South Africa walked out of the General Assembly six years ago when its white supremacist policies were censured. It has threatened to pull out of the U.N. altogether if pushed too far.

Recalling the warning, delegates noted that this was the first time any U.N. representative had ever been censured for a speech.

The censure motion put in by Liberia labeled Louw's address "offensive, fictitious and erroneous."

South Africa cast the sole negative vote but 20 nations abstained. The United States, Britain, France and six other countries did not participate in the ballot, and three other nations were absent.

Explaining why the United States did not take part in the vote, Ambassador Adlai E. Stevenson said: "While we reject the views of the foreign minister of South Africa on the subject of apartheid and have so stated many times, we resolutely support his right—and the right of every speaker before the General Assembly—to state his views."

In the protracted U.S.-Soviet negotiations over an interim secretary-general to succeed the late Dag Hammarskjold, the United States was studying a new Soviet compromise proposal.

Gravest Danger Era In History, He Declares

Troops

WASHINGTON (AP)—An additional 10,000 air and ground troops have been ordered to Europe to bolster the Allied garrison manning the line between West Germany and the Communist East.

They are in addition to the 40,000 Army troops beginning to deploy abroad in the first phase of a program to increase conventional war capability against possible Red aggression. By year's end, U.S. forces in Europe will total about 300,000.

About half the 10,000 are Army men, the other half Air National Guardsmen.

The Pentagon said Wednesday that the 3rd Armored Cavalry Regiment, with a strength of about 3,000 men, would go overseas at an early date. Another 2,000 soldiers also will be sent to handle and guard weapons and equipment being stored against the possibility that full-sized Army divisions might go later.

Eleven fighter squadrons of federalized Air National Guard units, with a total manpower of about 5,000 pilots and support personnel, will start heading overseas Nov. 1.

The ground and air units will be added to five Army divisions, elements equaling another division, and 17 tactical air squadrons now in West Germany and France.

Both the ground and air units in this new augmentation are equipped and trained for conventional warfare.

Kennedy

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Kennedy sees no easy or early halt to East-West collisions which have pushed mankind to, as he views it, the gravest danger point in all history.

"There still are very major differences," he says, between the Western powers and the Soviet Union.

The talks he and Secretary of State Dean Rusk have had with Soviet Foreign Minister Andrei A. Gromyko in the last few weeks have failed to produce immediate hope of achieving agreement on Berlin, Kennedy told his news conference Wednesday.

"Our ambition is to protect our vital interests without a war which destroys and doesn't really represent a victory for policy," Kennedy said. He added that Americans are rightfully concerned in this age of annihilating weapons because: "We happen to live in the most dangerous time in the history of the human race."

Other areas of conflict exist outside Germany, he said—and announced he is dispatching Gen. Maxwell D. Taylor for an on-scene survey of South Viet Nam.

Taylor, the President's military adviser, leaves Sunday and will meet with Vietnamese President Ngo Dinh Diem and U.S. officials to discuss ways of helping South Viet Nam cope with expanding Communist attacks.

Taylor also may visit Laos and Cambodia.

A crowd of 396 newsmen and visitors attended the news conference, which also could be seen across the country via live television. It was the Chief Executive's 16th news conference in Washington, the first in nearly 1½ months and the first opened to televising as it happened since March.

Kennedy, wearing his usual news conference dark blue suit and purple tie, provided a few chuckles but for the most part was solemn in tone and manner.

Ohio Air Guard Units Headed For Europe

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Ohio's Air National Guard wing headquarters, including supporting units, one of its fighter squadrons and the 123rd aircraft control and warning squadron at Blue Ash are among the recently activated Air Guard units headed for Europe.

Not included in the Defense Department list of units which will start eastward Nov. 1 weret he 164th Tactical Fighter Squadron at Mansfield and the 162nd Tactical Fighter Squadron at Springfield. Both are part of the state's 121st Tactical Fighter Wing and have been on active duty in their home areas since Oct. 1.

Also left off the list was the state's remaining Air Guard squadron, the 112th Tactical Fighter Squadron at Toledo, part of the Indiana wing.

With the exception of the Blue Ash group, all of the units headed for Europe are presently based at Lockbourne Air Force base near Columbus.

They include:

Headquarters, 121st Tactical Fighter Wing; 166th Tactical Fighter Squadron; 121st Aircraft and Maintenance Squadron; 121st Consolidated Aircraft Maintenance Squadron; 21st Air Base Group Headquarters; 121st Supply Squadron; 121st Transportation Squadron; 121st Air Police Squadron; 121st Civil Egnineer Squadron; 121st Operations Squadron; 121st Tactical Hospital and the 164th Weather Flight.

News of the move came as a surprise to the air guardsmen who have received no orders yet. The Defense Department report did not show the exact location the units will be transferred to.

High Court Rules

Ex-Policemen's Appeals Denied

The Ohio Supreme Court has rejected the appeals of Ira Cunningham, former city policeman, and Jerome (Jerry) Raimond, onetime special officer, on convictions of a 1952 burglary of the Burbick Hardware Co. store.

Cunningham, 55, currently serving a 1-5-year term for attempted bribery of a juror, and Raimond, 35, of Newell, face 1-15-year prison terms for the burglary.

THE HIGH court at Columbus, which heard arguments in the case Friday from County Prosecutor William Brokaw and Atty. Hugo Alexander of Steubenville, counsel for the pair, issued its ruling Wednesday.

The official notification of the decision had not yet been received by county officials this morning, and the defendants have seven days in which to file new motions in the case with possible recourse to the U. S. Supreme Court.

The 7th District Court of Appeals previously reversed the 1958 conviction of the two men, on grounds the case had not been tried within the prescribed three court periods after indictments were returned in 1956.

THE OHIO Supreme Court, in an appeal filed by Prosecutor Brokaw, overruled the appellate court on the issue, and the appellate court later upheld the conviction, with the defendants in turn taking the case to the high court.

The action at Columbus indicated the 1956 police burglary scandal may be nearing the end of its final chapter.

Prosecutor Brokaw said previously that he would not bring to trial any of the remaining indictments connected with the original police investigation and subsequent actions.

Robert McBane, former officer who pleaded guilty to eight of the nine original indictments involving him, four regular officers and two ex-special officers, has been free on bond for five years.

Pilot In X15 Hits Record 40 Miles Up

EDWARDS AIR FORCE BASE, Calif. (AP)—In the most dangerous X15 flight yet, a pilot set a world's record for going up—to prove this important point about coming down:

That an astronaut doesn't have to ride back to earth as a prisoner in a falling capsule—but can fly safely through the earth's atmosphere in a winged craft and land where he wishes.

Air Force Maj. Bob White Wednesday set a new world's altitude record for winged flight, 40 miles, and then made a belly-flopping reentry into the atmosphere which cracked the windshield of the rocket plane.

The plane dropped spread-eagle into the atmosphere the way a diver belly-flops into a swimming pool. The stress and friction heat would have torn a conventional plane apart.

The method spreads the heat of re-entry over a large area of the plane. Wednesday's successful flight proved techniques which may be used in re-entries on future Dyna - Soar and Apollo manned orbital flights in winged rocket craft, scientists said.

White said the windshield broke as the plane hit the thickening atmosphere at 60,000 or 70,000 feet. He said the crack, on the outer glass panel of the X15's windshield, didn't interfere with his control of the plane.

The temperature on the X15's surface reached 900 degrees—300 under the maximum the X15 was designed to withstand.

White reached an altitude of 215,000 feet — more than eight miles higher than the previous X15 record, 169,600 feet.

Sewage Rate Notices To Be Sent Firms

Midland Authority To Notify Crucible, Mackintosh Plants

The Midland Municipal Authority Wednesday evening decided to notify the Crucible Steel Co. and Mackintosh-Hemphill Co. that sewage rates will be adopted next week.

The authority plans to pass a resolution at its meeting next Wednesday evening to adopted industrial and residential sewage rates.

Borough Council recently leased the new sewage treatment plant to the authority.

During discussion, it was brought out that the authority may charge residents in January for the last quarter of the year, October through December.

Then the authority may begin section billing, dividing the town into three parts, one paying for one month, later a second section paying two months, and later a third section paying for three months, until all three sections are alternately paying for three months.

Rates will be published and cards will be sent residents and industries informing them of the new rates. Industries would be billed monthly.

In other business, the authority approved additional repairs to the water department building by

$5,000 Given To Help City's Parking Plan

Chamber Group Contributes Funds To Raze Ceramic

The downtown improvement committee of the Chamber of Commerce announced today it has made a $5,000 contribution toward the cost of razing the old Ceramic Theater building to help expedite a project to convert the site into a municipally - operated metered parking lot.

The announcement came as the city prepared to issue a new call for bids on the demolition work after rejecting the lone offer of $16,630 filed Friday.

The Chamber committee's donation, in effect, gives the city an overall total of $65,000 with which to work rather than the $60,000 made available through Council issuance of self-liquidating bonds.

Out of the $60,000, the city already has paid $45,000 to heirs of the Tallman Estate, meeting a previously-stipulated price for the towering old building.

The $16,630 bid that was filed with the Board of Control for the demolition would have pushed the cost of the project over the $60,000 provided by Council and the site still would not have been ready for use.

The cost of blacktopping the site, installing meters, constructing walks and performing other

Woman Misses Turn, Auto Rams Utility Pole

A woman motorist escaped unhurt early Wednesday night when her auto struck a utility pole after failing to round the right-angle turn at Elizabeth St. and Pennsylvania Ave., police reported.

The crash damaged the hood and grill of a 1960 four-door sedan operated by Mrs. Olive V. Zeder, 305 W. 6th St., officers said. It was timed at 6:47.

Mrs. Zeder told police she failed to negotiate the curve while driving east about 20 miles an hour and the auto crossed to the opposite side of the street and hit the utility pole.

France Is Pressed On Quitting Bizerte

TUNIS (AP)—President Habib Bourguiba demanded today that France agree to the principle of quitting its giant Bizerte base. He laid this down as a condition before Tunisia will sign any political or economic agreement with the French.

Bourguiba did not specify any date for the eventual withdrawal.

Last month, in an effort to end the bitter crisis between Tunisia and France, Bourguiba proposed France keep the strategic base for the duration of the Berlin crisis.

November Draft Call For Army Is 20,000

WASHINGTON (AP) — A draft call for 20,000 men in November was issued Wednesday. All will go into the Army.

The November quota is the same as that for October, but is 5,000 less than the September quota when the first full impact of the military buildup came.

Woman Hurt Against Side Of City Bus

A 73-year-old woman pedestrian was hurt in a mishap with a bus this morning at 5th and Market Sts. and police continued investigation of another traffic accident a short time later that involved a Wellsville ambulance headed for City Hospital and an auto on W. 8th St. near Chestnut St.

Injured in the Market St. mishap was Mrs. Margarette Howard, 1368 Etruria St., who was bumped by an Inter - City Transit Co. bus operated by John William Taylor, 36, of 304 Washington St.

Mrs. Howard was detained at City Hospital for treatment of a possible injury to the right foot.

The bus driver told police he had just completed a turn off E. 5th St. with the traffic light in his favor when he heard someone shout from the street.

He said he halted and found Mrs. Howard lying on Market St. on the right side of the bus. He said she apparently walked into the side of the bus.

R. E. Goodman, 925 Denver St., a witness, told police Mrs. Howard walked into the side of the bus. Police had not taken a statement from the injured woman.

The collision on W. 8th St. involved an ambulance of the Haugh Funeral Home at Wellsville, operated by William Roberts, and

Soviet A-Tests Reported Affecting Some U.S. Food

WASHINGTON (AP) — Fallout from Soviet nuclear tests has introduced radioactive iodine 131 into fresh food supplies in many areas in the southeastern United States and probably throughout the eastern half of the country, the Public Health Service announced today.

"However, present fallout does not warrant undue public concern, nor initiation of public action designed to limit the intake of radioactive substances," Surgeon General Luther L. Terry said.

The service said its announcement was based on analysis of milk in six cities—New Orleans, La.; Atlanta, Ga.; Charleston, S.C.; Jackson, Miss.; Tampa, Fla., and St. Louis, Mo.

The Soviet Union resumed nuclear testing Sept. 1. Since then, according to President Kennedy's disclosure Wednesday at a news conference, the Soviet Union has fired more than 20 nuclear explosions into the atmosphere.

Iodine is a source of potential concern because physicians say extensive overdoses might result in cancer or other injury to the thyroid.

Three weeks ago, the top-level Federal Radiation Council cut sharply its recommended maximum safe limit on the intake of radioactive iodine 131. The cut was recommended particularly for the protection of children.

Under the old standard, a daily intake of up to approximately 1,300 micro-microcuries was considered acceptable. A micro-microcurie is a measure of radioactivity.

Under the council's new recom-

of the trials held in connection with the burglaries, McBane, now living out of the county with permission of the court, is expected to be called back for disposition of his cases, officials said.

Dallas Bishop, the other former special officer, served a prison term for a 1952 entering of the Smith & Phillips Co.

Louis (Mike) Stuttler, 38, was taken to the Ohio State Penitentiary in June to serve a term for a 1954 burglary of the Burbick store in which a fingerprint was prime evidence. The former officer had appealed the conviction, which was reversed by the appellate court, which in turn was reversed by the Ohio Supreme Court.

Raimond was convicted in 1956 of receiving goods stolen from the store, but the verdict was overruled by the appellate court.

CUNNINGHAM was convicted in 1959 of attempting to bribe a city drugstore clerk who had been summoned as a prospective witness in the Burbick burglary trial in which he and Raimond were convicted, and Robert Carroll, another ex-officer, was acquitted.

Robert Hanna, former officer, was acquitted of a burglary of the Smith and Phillips Co. in the first trial held in 1956. Cunningham and Raimond were acquitted of an entering of the Berman Lumber Co. that same year.

Seven cases still are on the books, including enterings at the J. C. Penney Co., Pearl China Co., Duquesne Distributing Co., American Legion Post 4 and Winland Lumber Co.

flict in Southeast Asia and to urge that they cooperate in trying to prevent an outbreak of open warfare which could spread beyond South Viet Nam.

As the President discussed the Southeast Asian and Berlin situations in response to news conference questions, the impression grew among his hearers that he is grappling with the complex and interlocking problems of crises on two fronts.

Other administration officials said his decisions on Southeast Asia when Taylor returns can hardly be made without consideration of American force commitments and possible further needs in the East-West dispute over Berlin.

The President himself gave a universal significance to the problems of war and peace in today's world by referring to the destructive potential of any conflict that leads into the use of nuclear weapons.

"Our ambition is to protect our vital interests without a war," he said. "We happen to live in the most dangerous time in the history of the human race," he added. "We move through a period of maximum hazard."

He left no doubt that he intends to use every resource of diplomacy to minimize conflict and try to find peaceful solutions for disputes with the Sino-Soviet bloc.

Firemen's Auxiliary Waits Dinner Tonight

"finishing touches" has been estimated at $6,000.

Mayor Bert H. Goodballet and Safety - Service Director Robert Owen, who comprise the Board of Control, officially rejected the $16,630 razing bid Tuesday. It had been filed by the Cleveland Wrecking Co. of Cincinnati.

The mayor said a new legal advertisement for bids has been issued in hopes more than one offer will be received and that as a result the city will obtain a more favorable price.

In any event, the board could not have accepted the Cincinnati firm's bid because it would have exceeded the amount provided by Council for the overall project.

The Chamber's committee is comprised of Edward Derr and Edwin Maloney, co - chairmen, Ralph A. Finley, Don Eckert and W. Leland Thompson.

With $45,000 already paid out for the building and $6,000 seen required for final work on the lot, the overall total of $65,000 would leave approximately $14,000 for the demolition cost.

The Chamber committee first approached Council in January with the idea of converting the Ceramic site into a parking facility. Later, its members joined in negotiations with the Tallman heirs that ended in cutting the selling price of the theater from $90,000 to $45,000.

Plans for the project were made public in March, when Solicitor Joseph W. Cooper announced to Council the Tallman heirs had signed an agreement to accept $45,000. The price covered the building alone, as heavy equipment and seats were sold out piecemeal before the city took possession.

mendations, a range beginning as low as 100 micro-microcuries a day for a year is indicated as a possible danger point that would require the most stringent kinds of control. The council stressed the hazard to small children of concentrations of iodine 131 in their diets, particularly in milk.

In the period Sept. 20-29, the health service said, the highest iodine measurements for each of the six cities were:

New Orleans, 530 micro-microcuries per liter (1.056 quarts) in milk collected on Sept. 25; Atlanta, 320, Sept. 25; Charleston, 270, Sept. 22; Jackson, Miss., 460, Sept. 27; Tampa, 140, Sept. 22, and St. Louis, 500, Sept. 27.

County VFW Sets Dinner For New Chaplain

Preliminary plans for a departmental and district banquet Nov. 11 honoring Fr. Warren Braun of Leetonia, national chaplain, were reported at a meeting of the Columbiana County Veterans of Foreign Wars Council Wednesday night at Columbiana Post 5532.

The event will be held at Leetonia. Lou Feldman of Pennsylvania, past national commander, will be guest speaker. A parade will be held. Emmett Daniels of Wellsville, county commander, and Carl Lamonche of Columbiana are heading the arrangements.

Fr. Braun reported on the national council meeting at Kansas City.

Harry Davidson of Dover, district inspecting officer, conducted an inspection. Frank Lawrence of Dover, district commander, was a guest.

A $10 donation was made toward the purchase of new colors for the district color guard. The council also voted to sponsor an issue of District Chatter, a newsletter.

The council endorsed Leroy Schell of Steubenville for national judge advocate at the 1962 election. Rex Rich, clerk of county commissioners and a past county commander, reported on new levies being sought by the commissioners for operating expenses to benefit the County Home.

Next meeting is Nov. 8 at Wellsville Post 5647.

It Isn't Easy For Britain

It sounds like something to have been expected when the British government tells Soviet Foreign Minister Andrei A. Gromyko it will back the United States in Berlin. But it isn't easy for Britain to make even an obvious commitment to favor anything that might help Germans.

No British government can lose sight of the popular British feeling that Germany is still the source of chief concern—that what happens to Berlin is relatively unimportant. Britons wouldn't fight for Berlin.

They wouldn't fight for West Germany, if it were a matter of free choice. In two wars Germans have done their best to destroy Britain, and their best was very good. They tried to destroy Britain with air power, first with zeppelins and cumbersome bombers, then with high-level bombers and missiles.

They did their best to cut out the heart of British manpower at Dunkirk. They precipitated World War II, as they had precipitated World War I, by treating British treatiest as scraps of paper and challenging British governments to defend their national honor.

At the climax of the events of the '30s, they brought Britain to shame by humiliating its prime minister with a betrayal at Munich. They collaborated with Ireland to make trouble for Britain and used Irish ports for submarine operations against British shipping.

Like the Russians, Britons and their public officials swallow hard when told about the necessity of doing thus and so in behalf of the Germans, whether East Germans or West Germans. Only Americans have the rare privilege of being able to forget completely what the Germans did in two wars to the countries they tried to obliterate and the hordes of people they killed in the process.

British Foreign Secretary Lord Home is reported to have told his fellow Conservatives at Brighton on Wednesday that the Western Allies at last have convinced Gromyko they will stand together against Russia keeping open the access routes to Berlin. The unmentioned triumph of Lord Home in this regard would be to convince his fellow Conservatives that Britain should lift a finger to defend its deadliest enemy of the past

Hup, Two, Three, Four—Halt!

If that fit-as-a-fiddle little lady named Bonnie Prudden who has been trying to improve the physical lot of her fellow Americans isn't watched, she will unload one more task on motherhood.

Mothers, she seems to be saying, are going to have to show more initiative in stepping up the physical fitness of their families. If this means anything, it means mothers will have to add systematic family exercises to their routine.

Mother will spring out of bed at 6 a.m. and do pushups before leaping into the kitchen to organize a good healthful breakfast. In the meantime she will have turned out her brood, including the chief brooder, and lined them up for toe-taps, swivel-hipping, neck-wobbling and biceps-flexing.

Who else but Mother will organize family play on Saturdays and Sundays, to develop underdeveloped bodies? Hup, two, three, four—off they'll go o'er brack and on fern—halt! Then for more pushups, leg-ups, trunk-ups, hands on hips, bend right, two, three, four, bend left, two, three, four. Then for a Boy Scout trot back to town—no automobile. Automobiles are for flabbies.

Mother will thrive on this, as she thrives on washing, ironing, sweeping, chauffeuring, gardening, bedmaking and her other casual chores. What with one thing and another—hup, two, three, four—Mother will be lithe as a goat, graceful as a panther, strong as a tiger and dumb as an ox if she lets herself in for being a drill sergeant on top of her duties as a maintenance man, short-order cook, decorator, laundress, psychiatrist, designer, librarian, car-pool superintendent, educational consultant, wife, mother, fishing companion and hostess. There isn't that much time in a day.

OHIO Isn't Mentioned Now

A fellow with a long memory was wondering what became of the pre-World War II threat of "OHIO"—Over the Hill in October. He said here we are again with a military buildup in progress and he hadn't heard about absences without leave.

By mid-October, most of the 155,300 National Guardsmen and Reservists called up since the Kennedy administration began to strengthen the armed forces will be on duty. Of 133,000 men to be ordered into the Army, nearly 120,000 already are on the job. Eighteen squadrons of Air Force reserves with 435 planes are on the job.

In every part of the country citizens are aware of other citizens who either have left or soon will leave for military duty. But it's a fact that all this has been done so far with a minimum of the joshing reflected in "Over the Hill in October"—and not all the joshing was funny. Americans didn't have their hearts in mobilization before World War II hit them. If the Japanese hadn't shocked them to action by attacking Pearl Harbor, mobilization would have been a difficult task.

This, too, should have bearing on whether or not the United States is developing the "credibility" to do what it has the "ability" to do if it thinks it must do it. There's no joshing at all in 1961.

Advance Notice

As a small reminder for the tri-state district's superstitious — self-confessed or secret—tomorrow will be Friday the Thirteenth, a time for beware and care.

To the so-called realists, the day of bewitchment should serve as notice that the true wing-ding season of goblins, Halloween, is but 17 days away, and some stocking up on treats is in order.

While reminding is on the docket, the goblins of all ages would do well to remember that Halloween falls on Oct. 31, and "trick or treating" is out of joint two and three days before.

Also, the traditional treat is a neighborhood thing, and not an excuse for district-wide excursions for handouts.

Even witches and goblins should "play the game."

We Only Died Once

You don't have to be a watch-bird or a worry-wart to know this is the time to put anti-freeze in the family car. Thanks to out great, good friends the advertisers, all the grim things that can happen to motorists who put this off are never far from our minds after Oct. 1.

This may lead in time to a more perfect world, assuming the world would be more perfect if all necessary things were done ahead of time. All furnaces would be repaired during July and August. All screens would be installed before the first fly was hatched. All storm windows would be securely in place before the first snowflake fell.

No one would run out of gas, butter, milk or clean shirts. But would such a world represent perfection if to achieve it we had to be scared into doing our duty?

Our anti-freeze is in. It isn't like the bad old days when we waited to freeze up, then put in the anti-freeze after unspeakable complications with the consequences of neglect. But is isn't necessarily better than the old days, because then we only died once.

Today, the idea is to make us die a little each time the horrible consequences of neglect are hammered home. Did you put in your anti-freeze, use hair oil, brush your teeth? It's like living with a nagging wife.

The Once Over

By H. I. Phillips

Department of Alcoholic Studies, begun at Yale 40 years ago by late Prof. Yandell Henderson, has been transferred to Rutgers. Maybe Yale figures that when a department has been studying cause and effect of drinking for nearly half-century without solving matter it ain't trying.

Eli began study of alcoholism away back when a college could afford to buy samples of American liquors. It was, in fact before four-to-one dry martini had completely changed American behavior patterns. Study started in prohibition days when all drinks were so mysterious they needed special research. Even prohibition beer had a strange effect on human beings.

Why Yale took on the job is not known, but it had big advantage due to fact it is a college in city center where saloon and cafe drinking are close at hand and can be studied without taxi fares. You can leave any laboratory at Yale and find a bar within two blocks if not across the street.

All colleges make a study of liquor to some extent, with the old grads helping supply special study material at football and reunion time. Today, however, no college can afford high cost of liquor samples, and national institute has provided a quarter million dollars to college which would take over job. (Rutgers won and chose the north goal with the wind at its back.)

Study from now on should include not only effects of liquor but problem of how anybody can afford to drink. If there are any ceremonials in transfer of study from Yale to Rutgers how about an Eli toast "Here's how" to Rutgers, with Whiffenpoofs singing "Sweet Adeline"?

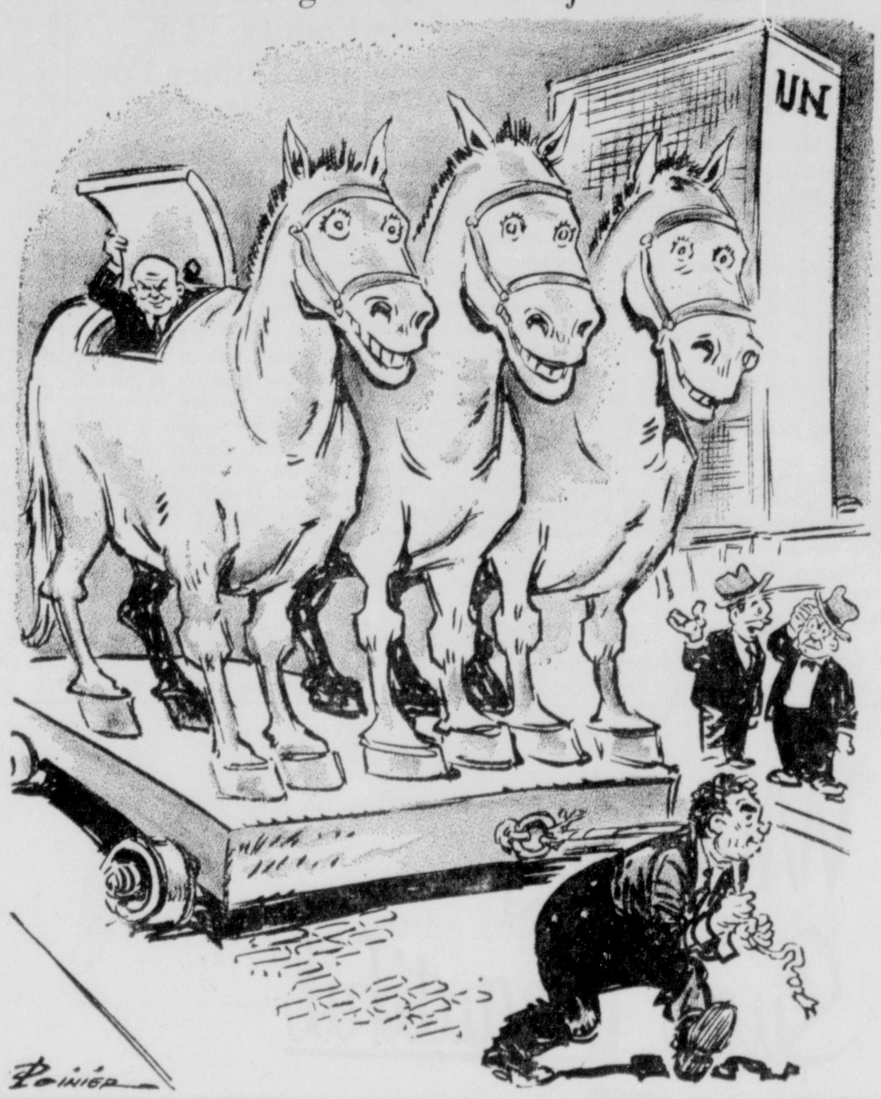
BROADWAY PRODUCER says he will help playgoer beat high cost of show tickets, by abolishing out-of-town tryouts and hold them in New York with public admitted at cut rates. He says he would let public be the critics. This is bravery beyond call of duty. Many an author and producer might get shot long before opening night.

Sherpa mountain climbers have formed a union. They want a sliding scale, obviously. Possibly with time and a half for encounters with Abominable Snowman.

Something Called A 'Trojan Troika'



U.S. Drops Local's Union Status

By Victor Riesel

When cane-carrying Mike Quill, looking dapper enough to have come off Park Ave. instead of out of the subways, swung into the lobby of the Hotel Commodore in New York, he reached for a belly laugh. "I'm not so clean myself," said he, "so why should I oppose the Teamsters?"

Victor Riesel

But he did not know the contents of the Treasury's Internal Revenue Service (IRS) Docket No. 94,562. Otherwise "Mike" might not have been so free swinging with his comparisons as he joined 150 other national labor chiefs in their high command session.

Docket 94,562 is the packet containing the financial records of Jimmy Hoffa's intimate friend, Joey Glimco, slugger par excellence, and boss of many a Chicago Teamster local.

Joey G. comes by this power understandably — what with a record of at least 22 arrests ranging from charges of murder to charges of disorderly conduct.

THERE ALSO IS a conviction for larceny. But that is not in the docket. In it are the Treasury Department's charges that Glimco owes the government at least some $145,000.

Glimco, an officer and business representative of Taxicab Drivers, Maintenance and Garage Helpers Union, International Brotherhood of Teamsters, Local 777 is beind dunned by the government for some $95,600 in "deficiencies" and some $49,500 in penalties. This is on money drawn from the union.

It isn't only the Glimco docket which should fascinate the Quill contingent. There are six other inter-related dockets. They are now in the U.S. Tax Court.

Among these seven is a docket for union Local 777 itself. The rest are the charges against five other officers.

The union itself is charged with owing the government some $94,000 for taxes due in 1956, and for 1957 some $121,380.

That's right. The union has just been denied tax-exempt status retroactive to 1956.

MARK THIS WELL. This means that the Internal Revenue Service is charging that this local is not a union, but, in effect, is run for the benefit of one or more private persons.

This means that the union's income can be taxed just as if it were a corporation. Thus, if the union's income is less than $25,000 a year, the tax would run about 30 per cent. If the income is higher — and which of the Teamster locals is not! — the tax runs to 52 per cent of the monies collected.

Of course, the union is protesting in tax court that it has been a bona fide labor union organized since 1941. But the tax court judges may reject this. And this decision may be upheld by a court of appeals. There could be a crack at the Supreme Court. But this is not likely.

IF THE COURTS uphold the Internal Revenue Service, a precedent will have been set. Unions not meeting the standards of Internal Revenue could be subject to millions of dollars in taxation —just as any business.

If such a precedent is set, the responsibility will rest on those who mulcted unions — and not on those who were mocked for battling the looters.

This is not a campaign against unions by the Treasury Department. It is part of the methodical review of strategy between high Treasury officials and Attorney General Robert Kennedy. It goes deeper than the locals themselves.

Glimco and five of his colleagues in arms have been denied by the IRS the right to charge off as legitimate expenses such items as the cost of running their cars, unexplained tabs, hotel expenses and money drawn for the 1957 Teamsters convention in Miami Beach. IRS has also insisted that "Christmas money" be counted as income.

THIS "CHRISTMAS MONEY," for example, ran from $500 to $2,500-a-year. The hotel tabs for Glimco ran at the Oak Park Arms Hotel in Oak Park, Ill., for instance, from $474 to $2,557-a-year.

The Treasury went back to 1954. It could dig further. But the test is for '54 through '57. During these years, for example, IRS says that Glimco forgot to add from $30,921 to $47,220 to his annual take.

This is just the beginning. It is fair that it be determined which union is of the working people and which is created to see how much can be taken from these working people.

Mr. Quill had better check his enthusiasms until the courts decide.

Purely Personal

By Truman Twill

Like the man said, you can't stay in a state of emergency indefinitely. The Berlin Crisis now is the Berlin Situation—and give it a few more months to simmer down and no one will remember how things were before the Wall.

Unaccustomed as I am to "samples," my gratitude for a "stadium seat" delivered after I'd inquired why somebody didn't make 'em (on the order of boat seats) was deep and warm. I took the "sample" to my annual out-of-town game and used it for three and one-half quarters. The lady I go to football games used it the rest of the time. She raved about it, too.

I cannot remember when any autumn has produced so many perfect days back to back as have been enjoyed so far in the first half of October this year.

It is the conviction of everybody I've ever sounded out on this that if personalities could be kept from clashing, our complex enterprises could accomplish miracles that are now beyond our wildest dreams.

I am impressed by the statistical evidence that unionism is past its peak in this country, though I always have thought its peak was higher than it ever could have been without the artificial help it received from laws tailored to a particular situation in the '30s and later in World War II.

If politicians wonder what will happen to them if they go too far, they should read up on recent French history, to see how Charles De Gaulle knocked political heads together with the approval of Frenchmen sick of politics for its own sake.

As the owner-driver of a well-known economy automobile, I am still waiting for statistics that will bear out something I believe to be true—that per million miles traveled in the United States, the safest auto transportation is in small, low-powered automobiles.

I wince when Andrei Gromyko speaks fluent English in interviews in the United States because Dean Rusk, as far as I know, couldn't inquire for directions to the nearest bus stop in Russian.

I wish the people who quote J. Edgar Hoover about Communism would quote him about one kind of anti-Communism that scares me worse than Communism. Persons who hook up with this kind of extremism, says the FBI director, would do well to recall a recent lesson from history: "Both Hitler and Mussolini were against Communism."

Nothing infuriates me like a public official who criticizes taxpayers for not paying enough, though the taxpayer has been sweating it out all his life. I wrote off the new secretary of health, education and welfare—whatshisname—when he chided people like me for not paying enough for education. No official in his right mind would do such a fool thing.

The thing most baffling about foldups like the Cincinnati Reds against the New York Yankees is the fact they're psychological, not mechanical. Many of the Cincinnati players, if they wore Yankee uniforms, would be stars. Many who have switched to Yankee uniforms have been transformed.

Want to know what the point of diminishing return is? It's what happens when the price of gasoline is jacked up so high by taxation that users buy economical cars, which accounts for a drop of nearly one-half of one per cent in Ohio in the latest fiscal year. This is what caused small automobiles to become popular in Europe, where gasoline costs up to 75 cents a gallon.

I swallow hard when I read that Europeans will be coming to the United States as tourists. I can imagine what will happen when an Englishman asks for warm beer in an American pub.

Soviet Blackmail

By David Lawrence

West Should Use Pressure Upon Russia

America and the West today are negotiating with the Soviet Union under duress. What is even more unfortunate is that Nikita Khrushchev controls the duress. He can threaten a war and yet never intend to start a war. His adversaries seem to be at his mercy.

David Lawrence

Is that the position in which anyone should ever find himself at a bargaining table?

This question has aroused a good many people, inside and outside government, to say to President Kennedy that the United States government and its allies must produce some leverage.

They must have something so powerful to use — other than nuclear war — that the Soviet premier will not wish to continue his blackmail tactics.

What leverage is there available? There have been, for example, suggestions that a definite plan for economic blockade should be made and announced.

There have been suggestions also that a plan to cut off all financial dealings between the East and West should also be fully developed and announced. The severance of diplomatic relations is still another possibility.

Matters of this kind have been considered by the Western governments but unhappily the public knows very little about them — nor do the Soviets.

There seems to be a feeling in Washington that the situation must not be aggravated and that nothing must be done to offend the sensibilities of the men in the Kremlin lest they start a war.

These are the arguments, however, of the weak and the craven. The President is being told day in and day out by various advisers just how he can surrender.

One suggestion is that the West should give up its present occupation rights in West Berlin and share their zones with the Soviets. The plan also contemplates a camouflage — locating some United Nations activities in West Berlin as a sort of cover for the surrender by the West.

All this might confuse many Americans and even satisfy pacifist sentiment, but it would not be lost on Moscow.

The meaning of the concessions at Munich in 1938 was not lost on Hitler. Many who felt in 1938 that Munich meant "peace in our time" discovered their error a few weeks later.

UNFAMILIARITY with the cult of evil men who take over governments may result in misconceptions once — but the world should not be misled again by a dictator's tactics.

The behavior of Nikita Khrushchev and his messenger boy — Andrei Gromyko— should not be misunderstood.

The Communists are out to get all they can — short of war. They may well reason that there is no need to engage in a war if they can get what they want without a war.

The Kremlin stands to lose nothing out of the Berlin crisis. It stands ready to grab something. It has already sealed off East Berlin and says that West Berlin can be "free" when it is internationalized and Soviet troops are stationed there to guard the western sector along with the Allies.

East Berlin, however, would be retained by East Germany for its capital, and the Allies would have to stay out. This would be surrender with a capital "S" no matter how many euphemisms are employed to make it appear to be a reasonable settlement.

Certainly if the Soviets stand to lose nothing, they will increase their demands and will press them to the utmost.

THE WEST is losing out because it will not use its leverage. It can mobilize the opinion of the whole world but hesitates to do so.

Soviet Russia is a nation of 200 million prisoners. The Communist bloc has many millions more.

Does any high official in the West dare even to make a speech urging the peoples behind the Iron Curtain to throw off their yoke? Are they told of the advantages to them from an economic standpoint if they become free nations?

Is there such a thing as a leadership that is "bold and imaginative"?

This is a phrase our so-called liberals employ so often in discussing domestic matters, but it seems even more apropros in foreign policy.

If Russia loses nothing by threatening war, the world will be kept in a perpetual crisis for years. If the West truly organizes a quarantine to cut off the Communist bloc — and withholds aid from the non-aligned countries unless they, too, join in the quarantine — the mere statement of such a plan would cause hesitation in the Kremlin and incite the peoples behind the Iron Curtain to an unrest that the Communist leaders would be anxious to quell. At least it's a form of unused leverage.

Czechoslovak Wall

Red Guards Watch Border

MIKULOV, CZECHOSLOVAKIA

The Berlin wall is only the most recent of the barriers sealing the Communist empire.

Here, beneath the shadow of a medieval castle, in gently rolling farmland, is another just as dour. In wooden watchtowers soldiers have machine guns aimed not at neighboring Austria but at Czechoslavakia itself. A strip of plowed land about 25 feet wide gives gunners a clear field of fire at any seeking to leave Czechoslovakia.

Sown in this plowed land are not grain but land mines. Inside are three rows of electrified barbed wire.

THIS IS NO product of Western anti-Communist imagination. It is, one must believe, an accurate appraisal by the Czechoslovak authorities of what is needed to keep their people home.

The official explanation is that it is intended to keep out Western "spies and saboteurs" and it no doubt could do this too.

One realizes the sharp contrast driving across the formidable barrier on the way to Moscow from Italy.

The Austrian customs station was a strictly civilian operation without a gun in sight, cornfields and vineyards all around. There was quick inspection of passports and car documents, a matter of a minute or two, before exit from Austria was permitted.

Then came the 500-yard drive across no-man's-land.

The cumbersome formalities mean you have left the Western world. You count out currency.

"No, we have no camera."

"The only radio we have is the one built in the car."

"What's in this bag?"

"Open up the motor."

Then a suspicious waving on into the brilliantly sunlit countryside. It has rich farmlands, lovely villages and immaculate cities. The chief impression is of well-kept houses, gleaming with fresh paint, of flower beds around each one, of new well designed and well built apartment houses, of busy factories and a laughing people.

OF ALL THE peoples in the Communist world, the Czechs look and act most like Western Europeans. The women have the latest hair styles and the latest clothes. Men in the street of Brno would fit just as easily into Vienna or Frankfurt.

The roads are crowded with vacationers in their own cars, with young couples off to the country on motor bikes and scooters.

Everywhere there are efficient, fully equipped bright red and yellow service stations—almost the only Western-style ones behind the Iron Curtain. There isn't a "peace and friendship" or "long live Communism" sign to be seen.

If it weren't for that border, if it weren't for the speeches of the leaders and the dictorial decrees, you wouldn't tell present day Czechoslovakia from present day Western civilization.

Ancient City

JERUSALEM, Israel

Remains of an ancient Israelite settlement dating to King David's time 3000 years ago have been uncovered near the Ein Gev settlement on the Eastern shore of the Sea of Galilee.

The discovery was made this month by an expedition that had been digging in the region for three days.

The site was reported to be about 150 yards from the sea shore and to be yielding a rich treasure of religious artifacts and other relics.

The site is not far from that of the ancient Byzantine city of Sussita. The architecture of the settlement was described as typical of previous finds dating to about the Tenth Century B.C.

Name of the settlement, which was said to lie astride the ancient caravan route to Damascus, was not known. It was believed to have been destroyed by the Assyrian invasion of the Eighth Century.

Burglary

ter barracks of the Pennsylvania State Police were notified.

Pennsylvania State police said two other stations of the Highway Oil Co. were burglarized last night — one on Route 30, near the West Virginia state line, and the other on Route 51, the Salem-Unity Rd., near East Palestine.

At the Route 30 station, Walter Cooper, manager, said the station closed about 11 last night and the burglary was discovered at 8:15 a. m. today. The safe there was broken open and an unspecified amount of money taken. The thieves broke through the wall to gain entrance.

Peebles, manager of the station near Midland, was taken to City Hospital about 9:40 a. m. with spasms near the heart, his wife said, after learning other stations of the company were also broken into last night.

Model Of New Road Displayed At City Hall

A three-dimensional scale model of the new California Hollow-West End Freeway as it will look when completed was placed on display Wednesday afternoon at City Hall.

Furnished by the State Highway Department, the model was put on display in the main corridor of the building, just outside Mayor Bert H. Goodballet's office.

The model shows the new road's path through the city, particularly detailing the series of ramps at an interchange at the point where it crosses W. 8th St. To help orient the viewer, the model includes various West End landmarks such as City Hospital, Westgate School and the sewage treatment plant.

Less Travel On Pike Cited In September

CLEVELAND (AP) — There were 1,222,596 passenger cars and trucks traveling on the Ohio Turnpike during September—or 28,405 less than the same month a year ago—the turnpike commission reported today.

For the first nine months of this year, 9,764,465 vehicles used the toll road, compared with 9,939,491 for the three quarters of 1960.

Toll revenue also was slightly below last year's figures. For September, the turnpike had receipts from tolls of $1,936,289, compared with $1,992,547 for the same month in 1960. The nine-month period produced tolls of $15,293,145 — or $545,544 below a year ago.

High Rise Garden

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Preparing a garden was a long haul for James M. Smith and his wife.

The garden is on the roof of a 38-room apartment building which Smith owns. He and his wife carried 10 tons of earth up a fire escape to plant the garden.

Declaring "we move through a period of maximum hazard," he ticked off steps his administration has taken in an effort to build up the country's nuclear and conventional forces. That buildup has dashed hope for a tax cut next year, he said. The government still aims for a balanced budget—an aim he said is threatened only by further demands for defense spending.

Kennedy made no promise against a tax increase but said he wouldn't want to saddle the country with a tax burden that would strangle its economic resources.

Asked if he was disturbed by Republican criticism of his foreign policy — criticism in which former President Dwight D. Eisenhower has participated — Kennedy said "everyone is free to make any attacks they want." He would prefer constructive suggestions, Kennedy said, "but I would never suggest that the battle of the mimeograph machines between the Republican committee and the Democratic committee should cease."

Kennedy classified the Gromyko talks as illuminating and said Ambassador Llewellyn Thompson would continue the exchanges in Moscow.

an auto driven by Kathleen Kraft of Fisher Park, police said.

First reports said the auto emerged from former Chestnut St., a detour being used during the freeway construction, and was involved in the crash with the ambulance, which was headed east on W. 8th St.

The ambulance was taking Mrs. Edward Welch, 1609 Lincoln Ave., Wellsville, to City Hospital for treatment for injuries suffered in a fall down steps at home. She suffered a cut head and bruised shoulder.

In the ambulance with Mrs. Welch were her mother, Mrs. Alice Faris, 605 17th St., Wellsville, and her sister, Lex Rebecca Faris. Mrs. Faris said they were shaken up in the crash. Mrs. Welch was admitted to the hospital for further treatment.

Police said no one was hurt in the collision. An East Liverpool ambulance was summoned to continue the trip to City Hospital with the injured woman after the Haugh ambulance was involved in the collision.

The pedestrian was hurt about 10 a. m. and the crash in West End came a short time later. Shortly before noon, the West End accident still was under investigation.

10 Red Police Hunt Defector In West Berlin

BERLIN (AP)—Ten East Berlin police invaded West Berlin territory today hunting for a defecting comrade, West police reported.

When West police rushed to the scene, the East police retreated behind the barbed wire barrier into their own sector.

The incident, regarded by the Western authorities as a serious border violation, occurred at 3 a.m.

West police said the Vopos—as the East police are dubbed by West Berliners — were evidently searching for one of four of their comrades who fled to the West during the night.

The raid took place near the elevated railroad station Wilhelmsruh, on the northern part of the French sector border.

The East police blocked civilian traffic Wednesday night for an hour at the Friedrich Strasse crossing point, the only one available for foreigners.

All traffic both ways was held up until a loudspeaker truck operated by the West Berlin city government stopped broadcasting a program of news and commentary to the East.

Clyde Tschantz, Lisbon realtor, opened the Vallandigham homestead along W. Lincoln Way, which is now for sale.

Brief business was held at the museum and plans were made to have a guest speaker at the meeting next month.

Driver Cited After Wreck

An East Palestine area man was charged with drunken driving after his car hit a utility pole on Route 14 Wednesday night, one of three area mishaps reported yesterday by the Ohio Highway Patrol at Lisbon.

Leslie Juillerat, 49, of East Palestine R. D. 1 made a left turn from Route 14 north onto Route 170 near Unity, and his car veered into a utility pole about 11:15 p. m.

Juillerat, who was unhurt, was charged with driving while intoxicated. His car received minor damage, officers said.

Moderate damage was reported to a car driven by Leoti Lillian Romigh, 54, of Homeworth R. D. 1, and a pickup truck operated by Frederick William Bansberg, 57, of Homeworth R. D. 1 on County Rd. 401 north of Homeworth, which collided yesterday.

Bansberg attempted to pass the auto as the woman made a left turn.

Lela Gertrude Devall, 48, of Beloit R. D. was cited for failure to stop in the assured clear distance after her car hit the rear of one operated by Gilbert Bamer, 36, of Alliance R. D. on Township Rd. 801 near Homeworth.

Bamer had stopped suddenly to avoid hitting a small child who ran onto the road, officers said.

City Pair Nabbed On Assault Case In West Virginia

An East Liverpool couple wanted for felonious assault on an elderly Parkersburg man was taken into custody Wednesday afternoon by Capt. Robert Pyle and Patrolman Charles A. Winters on a warrant from the Wood County sheriff's office.

Police identified the pair as Lija Jack Farnsworth and Mary Potts Reese, who sometimes uses the last name Farnsworth. Waiving extradition to West Virginia, they were taken to the County Jail at Lisbon, where Wood County sheriff's deputies are scheduled to take custody today.

The East Liverpool officers arrested the pair on Shadyside Ave., acting on a telegram received Monday afternoon from Wood County authorities. Police said the couple's last known local address was on a houseboat near the Newell Bridge.

Police said Parkersburg authorities alleged the pair assaulted an elderly man with a hatchet or an ax. Farnsworth admitted the assault, but said he struck the man only with his fists, police said.

Ship Strike Settled After Two Weeks

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—A two-week deck officers strike that idled 44 ships along the West Coast has ended.

Spokesmen for the Masters, Mates and Pilots Union and for the shipowners, represented by the Pacific Maritime Association, credited U.S. Undersecretary of Labor Willard Wirtz with bringing the two sides together.

Wirtz called it a compromise. Neither side seemed very happy with the settlement.

The union voted 335-252 to return to work today. The three-year contract still is subject to a referendum of the union membership.

Most of the ships idled were not expected to sail until Friday because today is Columbus Day.

Both sides agreed to negotiate further on six issues, including such key items as pension plan revisions and establishment of a mechanization fund.

The deck officers reportedly asked a 15 per cent increase and a one-year contract while the shipowners offered an 11 per cent increase in a four-year contract. Current pay and fringes range from $14,000 to $27,500 a year.

Spreading of work was a principal result of Wednesday's agreement. Masters will get 90 days vacation a year, an increase of 20 days. Relief crews will be hired out of union halls, instead of from smaller ships. Casual workers, who had been getting no vacation, will get five days of vacation a month.

Port relief officers and ships officers will receive $3.89 an hour for night relief work in U.S. ports whether or not cargo is involved.

No other wage figures were announced.

Health and welfare payments for each man will be increased from 50 cents to $1.15 per day.

Salvation Army Services Varied

Distributing dolls and toys at Christmas to area youngsters, who aren't on Santa's list, is just one of the varied year-around services of the Salvation Army, one of the agencies sharing in Community Fund proceeds. This first of six articles on participating agencies discusses the "Army's" service to the community.

Working out of the citadel at 109 West 3rd St. is a group of only 32 uniformed volunteers yet they have provided aid and comfort to more than 100 times their own number.

Some 584 families in East Liverpool, 64 in Wellsville, 17 in Chester and Newell, 16 in Salineville and another 139 families in nearby suburban areas, a total of 820 families, each with an average of four persons, have received aid from the Salvation Army in the past year.

This family service program takes many forms. Sometimes, clothing is needed, perhaps food for hungry children, coal or other fuel to warm the aged, another will need transportation in seeking medical care, and many seek wise counseling on a multitude of family problems.

The Salvation Army's spiritual and social welfare ministry goes further than extending the "helping hand" to those who are down. In the youth program, more than 600 meetings for young people have been held in the past year. These events include recreational, educational, religious and character - building activities. In addition, 28 children and 29 adults from the area participated in the Salvation Army's camp program this last summer.

The Salvation Army works diligently, too, to restore the criminal to the habits of responsible living. Representatives conducted 64 religious services in local and County Jails, bringing a spiritual message to more than 800 prisoners.

The "Army's" "League of Mercy" volunteers have devoted nearly 400 hours to visiting the sick and the aged in area hospitals and nursing homes. Through this program they visited nearly 2,400 patients, taking them small gifts, or reading materials, and offering spiritual comfort through conducted religious services.

Members of the armed forces are not forgotten. Nearly 150 inductees have been given "send-off" kits this year.

In another phase, 641 transients were given assistance in the form of meals, lodging, travel expense, or clothing.

Besides these direct community services, regional facilities of the Salvation Army are also available to meet local needs.

Among these are the Men's Social Service Centers, where homeless men have an opportunity to reclaim their lives. There are homes for unwed mothers and Harbor Light Centers where the alcoholic can and get help with his problem.

When help is needed in locating a missing relative or friend, local officers can call on the resources of the Army's Missing Persons Bureau.

Young women from this area, going to large metropolitan centers to find jobs, to further their studies, or to embark on careers, find home-like accommodations in the Evangeline residences, women's clubs the Salvation Army maintains in all big cities.

Just a little more than a third of the Salvation Army's annual budget is provided through the Community Fund campaign. The other two-thirds must be raised somehow by the salvationists themselves.

8 Citadel Cadets Will Make Trip

Eight delegates from the Salvation Army will attend the quadrennial Corps Cadet Congress in New York City this weekend.

They include Bob Hathorn, Bob McHenry, James Smith and Brenda Smith, higher grade Corps Cadets, and Karen Craven and Beverly Hildebrand, lower grade, and Mrs. Stella Craven, counselor. Mrs. William Hathorn, major, will accompany the group leaving this afternoon and returning Monday.

Lt. Robert Stillwell of Long Beach, Calif., will be featured speaker. He was a star football player at the University of Southern California from 1947-49.

Saturday evening, Miss Hildebrand and Bob Hathorn will participate in a selected choric group from Northeastern Ohio in presentation of the Scripture.

About 1,500 delegates are expected.

Volcano-Stricken Population Saved, Sailing To New Site

CAPE TOWN, South Africa (AP) — The entire population of volcano-stricken Tristan da Cunha sailed sadly toward the 20th century today.

The Dutch liner Tsisadane Wednesday night rescued the 260 men, women and children who had fled the island for refuge on nearby Nightingale Island, an uninhabited rock, after Tristan was shaken by earthquakes and volcanic eruptions.

The liner is expected at Cape Town Tuesday.

The Tristanians wept on bidding farewell to their primitive homeland in the South Atlantic where they have lived an 18th century existence virtually cut off from the rest of the world.

An official of the British Embassy in Pretoria is flying here to arrange for the transportation of the islanders to England. Only about a dozen of the islanders had ever left Tristan before; the rest have never seen a train, automobile or town.

Officials said it would not be safe for anyone to touch foot on the island until at least 10 days after the eruptions end.

There was some doubt whether the 42-square mile island—covered mostly by a 7,640-foot volcano—ever would be habitable again.

GIs GUARDING WEST BERLIN

West Berlin's 5,000 G. I.'s make up the only sizable American military unit behind the Iron Curtain, a living pledge of U. S. readiness to defend the city despite the immensely superior Communist forces that surround it.

Berlin is 110 miles from the border of the West German federal republic, where the nearest American bases are. The countryside in between is held by many divisions of Soviet and East German Communist troops. U. S. strength in Berlin consists of just two infantry battle groups, a single tank company and housekeeping units at Tempelhof Air Base. British and French allies have an additional 6,000 men.

Training in Berlin is keyed especially to how battles are fought in cities. Troops also do a lot of practice on controlling riots, with a view to helping West Berlin police if the Communists should try to take over by mob action.

None of this makes the life of American soldiers in Berlin particularly grim. On the contrary, it's an agreeable town and the post is much sought after.

About 1,500 men have wives with them, and their families average more than two children. The army has built attractive apartments that accommodate nearly all. Officers with the rank of major and above—several hundred of them—get private houses or duplex apartments.

The army and air force maintain four American movie houses, and a full set of shops, clubs and sports fields. There is a golf course, and swimming and boating on Berlin's lakes.

The G. I.'s, in training, at leisure, are pictured here.

Sgt. Stanley Thornburgh of Denton, Ky., uses rope to climb up wall of house during training in dummy village.

With foot on buddy's shoulder, a G. I. climbs through window during combat practice in dummy village built by U. S. Army near sector border of West Berlin.

SOLDIERS of the U. S. West Berlin unit carry the Stars and Stripes on way to parade ground.

Laden with bundles, Master Sergeant Norman Sipes' family returns from shopping. Sergeant, from Seattle, Wash., holds James, 2, while wife, Opal, and Norman, 4, follow.

An off-duty task, but a pleasant one. SP4 Class David Gardener of San Mateo, Calif., feeds his five-month-old son, Igor, while his Berlin-born wife, Ingrid, looks on.

Health Experts Warn Flu Season Is Near

By The Associated Press

What to do if you get the flu, how throat swabs may help stop some heart disease, and a new aid for heart surgeons are subjects for Focus on Health:

Flu This Fall?

Health experts warn another flu season approaches. While the chance of an epidemic cannot be predicted, certain protective measures can be taken. Pregnant women, the elderly and people with chronic diseases should be vaccinated.

Here are other suggestions from the Connecticut State Department of Health:

Stay away from sick people. If flu breaks out, keep away from crowds. Be sure to wash your hands well before eating — and don't use glasses or other utensils that others have used. Get plenty of sleep. Avoid being chilled. If you do get sick, call your doctor and go to bed—for your good and the good of others.

Medical Messenger

A new attack against rheumatic fever and rheumatic heart disease involves the Post Office Department.

Chicago doctors are getting throat swab kits suitable for mailing as the latest aid to diagnosing the disease that brings on rheumatic fever. Caught in the early stages it can be cured.

A type of streptococcus germ sets the stage for rheumatic fever. Doctors will be able to take a throat swab from a sick patient, seal it in an envelope and mail it to a laboratory where the type of germ can be identified.

If the specimen is the dangerous kind, the doctor can find out quickly before rheumatic fever has a chance to develop. The mail-in system was devised by the Chicago Heart Association and Board of Health.

Heartbeat Trigger

In the heart there is a critical bundle of nerves which controls the heartbeat.

Some children are born with defective hearts. For surgeons trying to repair those hearts, the heartbeat center is often a hazard.

An operation in which surgeons try to mend a hole between two chambers of the heart comes dangerously close to the heartbeat trigger. Injury occurs in perhaps 10 per cent of these operations and may lead to death.

Now a new electronic instrument can exactly locate the center in a matter of minutes. Developed at the Children's Hospital Medical Center, Boston the device is expected to completely eliminate the possibility that the heartbeat trigger will be injured during open heart surgery.

Commercial Space Flights Could Be Reality By 1975

By ALTON BLAKESLEE
Associated Press Science Writer

NEW YORK (AP)—If your children are eager to go rocketing into space, tell them to start saving their money.

Commercial manned space flights could be a reality by 1975-80, a space researcher predicted today.

Space transportation techniques are expected to develop rapidly in the next 20 years, greatly reducing the cost of a round-trip from earth into an orbit, or to the moon, said H. H. Koelle of the George E. Marshall Space Flight Center at Huntsville, Ala.

This could be the timetable, Koelle told the space flight report to the nation sponsored by the American Rocket Society:

Large, orbiting space stations carrying men in 1968-69.

A permanent, manned station on the moon, 1970.

A lunar settlement by 1975.

Manned expeditions to other planets starting in the 1972-74 period.

Round-trips from earth to low latitude orbits involving 5,000 men every year by 1975. Several men would be involved in each trip.

About 500 annual man round-trips from earth to moon by 1975.

Commercial manned space flights developing in the 1975-80 period.

"It will be witnessed by the middle-aged generation of today, with the younger generation of today taking an active part in it," Koelle suggested.

His prepared paper did not estimate the cost of the round-trip ticket into orbital flight or to the moon.

Hancock Residents Cautioned On Fires

Hancock County residents have been reminded to use caution in outdoor burning during the West Virginia forest fire season which opened Oct. 1 and continues through Dec. 31.

Oliver Johnson, county agricultural agent, said all burning in the first season must be done between 5 p. m. and 5 a. m.

"If any burning during the permissible hours results in damage to another's property, this shall be considered evidence that the burning was not safe, and was in violation of the state forest fire law," Johnson said.

Red Congress Opens Tuesday

Nervous Strain Indicated In Ranks Of Communists

Soviet policy under Nikita Khrushchev appears to be riding high, but the Communist chief has plenty of headaches, at home and in the world Communist camp outside the U.S.S.R. Some of these problems are likely to become evident during the 22nd Soviet Communist party congress which opens in Moscow next week. In the following article, AP News Analyst William L. Ryan outlines some of the problems and gives some of the background on what the congress is.

By WILLIAM L. RYAN
Associated Press News Analyst

The Soviet Communist party opens its 22nd congress Tuesday. Intensive propaganda promises it will mark the beginning of a march to Communist world supremacy. To dramatize Communist prospects, the Kremlin may even time a new spectacular space shot for the congress opening.

Despite the showmanship, there are in the background suspicious signs of nervous strain in Soviet party and world Communist ranks.

Premier Khrushchev, first secretary and party chief, promises the congress will be a turning point. It will consider a 20-year program to build the "base" of communism. Theoretically, the U.S.S.R. has built "socialism." Communism, implying promise of abundance, is many years away.

Party congresses in their 63 years of history often have been billed as momentous turning points. Many have cloaked internal struggled. In recent years congresses provided—as the 22nd will—platforms to consider problems and strategy.

What is the party congress?

The congress supposedly is the party's ruling body, to which the central committee and its directing presidium are responsible. Required to meet once every three years, it is made up of functionaries from major political subdivisions of the U.S.S.R. It is supposed to hear and pass on programs of the central committee and party presidium, amend programs and statutes, fix tactical lines on fundamental policy questions and elect various party leaders.

Actually it does none of this, instead merely applies the automatic stamp of approval. The congress is window-dressing for a claim to democracy. Under Stalin the dictator's hand-picked politburo was the law. Under Khrushchev, the key body appears to be the central committee, where his own political machine has been strong enough to outmaneuver his enemies in the past.

The 20th congress in 1956 rocked world communism. Khrushchev, by then clearly the boss, denounced the dead Stalin as a murderer and egomaniac.

Early in 1959, with a Berlin crisis fading away, the 21st congress ostensibly was concerned with approving a seven-year economic plan. Actually it cloaked a world strategy meeting. By then the problem of the balky Red Chinese was much in evidence. Despite Chinese resistance, the congress was forerunner of the intense peace offensive that brought Khrushchev to the United States for a visit to President Eisenhower.

Since then Khrushchev has turned truculet again—perhaps because of pressure, perhaps even because his leadership was at stake. He turned back to the brink of war policy practiced by Stalin in attempts to push communism forward by violent aggressiveness.

Khrushchev had stood for the notion that the U.S.S.R. could so build its economy that its political and economic drives would make communism invincible in the world without the risk of nuclear war. It was a cautious policy.

But while a half dozen years of supremacy by Khrushchev made headway for communism with the economic and political infiltration in many areas, Soviet Communists added no new slices of real estate to the empire. Indeed, in some respects, they experienced losses.

For hard-shell Stalinists, the world revolution moved too slowly. Communists were set back in the Middle East, notably in Iraq. Moscow quarreled with Gamal Abdel Nasser, spokesman for Arab nationalism. Communism was hesitant about pushing ahead in Indochina. It was plagued by ideological bickering with Yugoslav Communists on one hand and Chinese on the other. It made no headway in economically flourishing Europe. It gained Cuba, but that was dumped in its lap and was by no means reliable or secure.

Inside the Communist world there were political and economic strains. Attempts to integrate the European Red bloc economies brought problems to individual Communist governments.

There were strains in the U.S.S.R. itself. Party propaganda makes no bones about the fact that "building communism" will mean many more years of labor for a people impatient to share in riches now poured into heavy industry to build world power.

All in all, Khrushchev goes to the congress with a raft of troubles. Signs indicate he can ride them out, but in all likelihood he will have to make compromises to do so.

'College Day' Sessions Set At Chester, Newell Schools

Matriculation fees, sororities and fraternities, and the excitement of campus life are probably dominant thoughts this week of Chester and Newell high school students in anticipation of "College Day" observance Monday.

Representatives of 13 West Virginia colleges will furnish information on choosing a career, enrollment fees and other aspects of higher education in discussion groups with Chester and Newell pupils Monday afternoon at Wells High School in Newell.

This will be the first "College Day" event for the two schools in northern Hancock County. One was held previously for Weirton students.

Forty-seven students from Chester High and 55 from Wells have registered for interviews and discussions with the college representatives.

Principal E. Russell Slack of Wells High said discussions with the college representatives and Chester students will be held from 1 to 2:20. Newell students will meet with the college officials from 2:20 to 4 in the auditorium.

Acting as counselors, the college officials will discuss entrance requirements, costs of room and board and books, areas in which to seek degrees and other questions.

Parents have been invited to attend and discuss their questions with the representatives.

The delegation will include Elmer W. Bostow of Alderson - Broaddus College, Robert A. Sandercox of Bethany, Dr. Ralph E. Kirkman of Concord, Arthur F. Southwick of Davis & Elkins.

Robert Melott of Marshall, William J. Briggs of Morris Harvey, President E. E. Church of Potomac State, Dr. Joseph A. Bartell of West Liberty, Koester Colville of West Virginia Institute of Technology.

A. D. Longhouse of West Virginia University, Mrs. Kent Kessler of West Virginia Wesleyan, John R. Linke of Wheeling College and James B. Weaver of Salem College.

The committee of Wells High faculty members who have worked with Principal Slack in arranging the "College Day" includes Mrs. Jean George, Mrs. Janet Houk, John Robison and Mrs. Ruth Shilling.

Weygandt Issues Writ In Test Of Schools Quotas

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — A case testing the right of the state to set up quotas on admissions to the industrial schools in Lancaster and Delaware got under way Wednesday in the Ohio Supreme Court.

Chief Justice Carl V. Weygandt issued an alternative writ of mandamus requiring Mental Hygiene Director Robert A. Haines to admit a 16-year-old Cincinnati youth to the Boys Industrial School or, by Oct. 25, say why he should not be compelled to do so.

Hamilton County Juvenile Court Judge Benjamin Schwartz brought his suit after Haines said an Aug. 15 freeze on admissions to the industrial schools prevented acceptance of the youth.

Asst. County Prosecutor R. O. Lilley obtained the alternative writ at an informal conference with the chief justice over objections of Theodore R. Saker, first assistant attorney general who represented Haines.

Saker contended statutes created in the department of mental health and correction specifically provide discretion for admitting and discharging inmates of the two schools. He said the freeze, recently lifted at the girls' school near Delaware, was made to relieve overcrowding.

Gov. Michael V. DiSalle ordered the freeze.

At the time of the freeze, a quota system was established, whereby counties could commit juvenile delinquents on the basis of population and other factors as industrial school vacancies permitted.

State Auditor Honored By Cleveland Club

CLEVELAND (AP)—State Auditor James A. Rhodes was named the Ripon Club's "man of the year" Wednesday night, but he sidestepped questions on his availability as a candidate for governor in 1962.

When newsmen asked Rhodes whether he would be a gubernatorial candidate, he replied: "No comment."

State Republican Chairman Ray C. Bliss, asked how he felt about Rhodes as a candidate for governor, answered: "I speak for the Republican Party and that organization has made no endorsement yet."

More than 2,500 Republicans paid $10 a plate to see Rhodes receive an engraved tray symbolizing his selection as the club's award winner.

Rites To Be Saturday For AP Writer, 48

PITTSBURGH (AP) — Funeral services will be held Saturday for Gilbert P. Staley, correspondent for the Associated Press in Pittsburgh.

Staley, 48, died early Wednesday of a heart attack in St. Joseph's Hospital in Pittsburgh. He was stricken late Tuesday in his home in suburban Castle Shannon.

2 Ohio Escapees Are Arraigned In Car Theft Charge

BAKERSFIELD, Calif. (AP) — Two Ohio teen-agers who say they escaped from the Apple Creek State Hospital in Ohio a month ago have been arraigned in superior court here on auto theft charges.

The youths are Roy Lee Seymore, 18, Columbus and Clifford White, 19, of Rt. 1, Ironton. They were apprehended Oct. 6 in a car stolen in nearby Maricopa.

Detective O. J. Harber quoted the youths as saying they jumped a guard at the hospital Sept. 10 and took his keys. Harber said the youths related that they then stole a car and, accompanied by two other escapees, drove to Los Angeles. Since then they said they have stolen two other cars.

They said the other two youths who made the trip with them are staying in the Los Angeles area.

Detectives said they have wired Ohio authorities, telling them the youths had been apprehended, but have not received confirmation of their escape story.

Five other psychopathic patients escaped from the hospital's top security ward, but three were captured the next day in stolen vehicles. Two were caught in Medina and the third was captured on the Ohio Turnpike in a truck.

Still at large are Ronald Melvin of Washington Court House, Ohio, and John Raynor of Seattle, Wash. A hospital official had described them as not being particularly dangerous.

Add dill seed to an oil-and-vinegar dressing and serve over julienne beets and crisp greens; garnish with slices of hard-cooked egg. Canned beets are inexpensive and convenient.

Rayen Travels Here Friday

Youngtown Club Shows Fast Backs

East Liverpool had to contend with the power of Canton Central last week and tomorrow night at Patterson Field it will be the overall speed of Youngstown Rayen. Kickoff is set for 7:45 p. m.

The scouting report on the Youngstown eleven reads "fast backfield." Rayen is fresh from handing Youngstown North a 38-20 setback last Saturday when halfback Ralph Coleman, a 155-pound speedster, scored five touchdowns.

Two were of the long variety while three others were of shorter yardage.

Coach Ralph Robinette in his 10th season at Rayen faced a rebuilding campaign when the season opened and so far has held his forces at even keel with a2-2 record.

The veteran Youngstown mentor lost 25 boys from a team that tasted defeat only once in the 1960 season.

In the opener this year, Coach Lou Venditti's Canton Lincoln tripped Rayen, 14-8. Robinette's crew dropped a 30-8 decision to Youngstown East before winning its last two over Woodrow Wilson, 16-14, and last week over North.

Paired with Coleman at the other halfback spot is Jack Klein, a 160-pound senior. The other main threat in the Rayen backfield is junior quarterback Rick Ballantine. The 190-pounder is a good runner and rated a better than average passer although Rayen is known to stick pretty much to a ground game.

Ballantine played as a regular last year in his sophomore season.

The fullback for Rayen will be Harvey Gelfand, a 175-pounder.

The Rayen line will be nothing like East Liverpool faced last week in Canton Central which averaged 200-pound along the forward wall, but it is big.

At ends will be Roy Winston, 190-pound junior, and Willie Donaldson, 160-pound senior. Jay Brownlee, a sophomore at 205 pounds, will be at one tackle while Tom Nunizato, a 175-pound junior, is slated for the other slot.

The guard spots will be handled by Gerald Allen, a 170-pound senior, and Fred Fabry (215). Louis Santangelo, a 195 - pound junior, will be at center.

Robinette's 1960 team also won the City Championship of Youngstown, going undefeated in games with other city schools.

OSU, Northwestern OK Athlete Aid Plan

CHICAGO (AP)—Ohio State and Northwestern have voted approval of the Big Ten's proposed new aid-to-athletes program, but Illinois has voted against it.

The three schools are the only ones to vote on the matter thus far, an Associated Press survey showed. Indiana and Purdue have not yet set a date for voting. Wisconsin and Iowa are expected to act in a week or so. Minnesota and Michigan are scheduled next month. Michigan State is to vote today.

The new program drops the "need" factor for financial aid to athletes but tightens scholastic entrance requirements.

It was approved conditionally at the conference's spring meeting in Iowa City and now must be reviewed by each school before a final vote is case at the December meetings in Chicago.

Haven't Reached Full Potential

Hickey Feels 49ers Can Get More From 'Shotgun'

By HARRY JUPITER

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—After shutting out his last two National Football League opponents 49-0 and 35-0, Coach Red Hickey says his San Francisco 49ers still haven't developed all of the explosive potential of his shotgun offense.

The 49ers beat the Los Angeles Rams 35-0 last Sunday and clobbered the Lions at Detroit the week before that.

In both games, the 49ers used the shotgun all the way, utilizing all three of their quarterbacks.

There was a lot of criticism of the shotgun formation before it became so spectacularly successful.

In beating Los Angeles Sunday, the 49ers had touchdown drives of 81 yards in 10 plays, 80 yards in 11 plays, 80 yards in 10 plays, 77 in 6 and 93 in 13.

The Packers beat the 49ers 30-10 at Green Bay, the only 49er loss this season, and Hickey figures there were two reasons for the loss.

"The Packers have a great team, no doubt about it," Hickey said, "but we didn't use our shotgun enough against 'em. We used the shotgun about half the time and the T the rest."

Hickey had the shotgun in mind when he drafted UCLA's Bill Kilmer as his first draft choice. Kilmer is one of the three alternating quarterbacks, along with veteran John Brodie and second-year man Bobby Waters.

Italians Are Confident Over U.S. In Davis Cup

ROME (AP) — A determined U.S. tennis team vowed today to jar confident Italians who expect their Davis Cup squad to beat the Americans easily in the interzone final.

The Americans were not predicting victory for themselves, as Italian sports writers and tennis buffs were doing for Italy. But the Americans were not conceding either.

Many Italians were forecasting a 5-0 victory once play starts Friday. One was Marquis Ferrante Cavriani, a former non-playing captain of the Italian Davis Cup team and now an official of the Italian Tennis Federation.

Told of the marquis's prediction, Donald Dell of Bethesda, Md., said: "If I were them, I would not bet on it."

David Freed, non-playing captain of the American team, admitted the Italians had the edge "on paper." But he said the encounter was wide open.

Other members of the American team—Jon Douglas, of Santa Monica, Calif., Whitney Reed of Alameda, Calif., and Martin Riessen of Evanston, Ill.—were equally confident in their ability to halt the favored Italians.

But Italian tennis fans thought the Americans, short on experience in Davis Cup play, would have a tough time winning a match against the veteran Italian team of Nicola Pietrangeli, Fausto Gardini and Orlando Sirola.

After four days of strenuous workouts on the red clay courts at the Rome Tennis Club, where the matches will be played, Freed scheduled only a light workout today.

Douglas and Gardini meet in the first match Friday. Then Reed and Pietrangeli collide.

On Saturday the doubles match will be played. The Italians plan to use Sirola and Pietrangeli. Freed intends to team Dell with one of the other three American players, possibly Riessen.

Douglas and Pietrangeli meet in Sunday's first singles match. Gardini and Reed play the final match of the encounter.

Scheffing Is AL's Manager Of Year

By JERRY GREEN
Associated Press Sports Writer

DETROIT (AP)—Bob Scheffing, a weather - beaten ex - catcher who'd been fired by the Chicago Cubs, became manager of the Detroit Tigers before the 1961 season knowing he faced an obstacle course.

He took over one of baseball's most mixed-up clubs, guided it to second place and Wednesday was named the American League's manager of the year in The Associated Press' annual poll.

"I'm grateful to the fellows on the team," Scheffing said when he learned of the honor on arrival at his home in Scottsdale, Ariz., Wednesday night. "They deserve the award, not me."

Scheffing said he was very happy about the award. He added that he expected the Tigers to have about the same club next season as they had this year.

"But we've got to improve our pitching and bench," he said. "Our hitting is good. But we have to improve our defense, too."

Scheffing received 105 votes from 174 voting members of the Baseball Writers' Association of America. Second to Scheffing was Ralph Houk, the man who replaced Casey Stengel as manager of the Yankees. Houk received 62 votes. Bill Rigney of the Los Angeles Angels received 6 and Jimmie Dykes, fired recently by the Cleveland Indians, 1. The voting was based on regular season play with the Yankees' victory in the World Series not considered.

"Bob deserves this honor more than anyone," said Rick Ferrell, Tiger vice president. "He had a fine year and we're real proud of him."

Ohio State's Top Quarterback Is Hurt In Practice

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Ohio State's strenuous football practice sessions claimed another victim Wednesday, one which may cause reshuffling the backfield.

Top quarterback Bill Mrukowski of Elyria had to leave the workout early after being kicked in the leg. His departure moved John Mummey of Painesville in the No. 1 signal calling post.

Mummey, after being shuffled between fullback and quarterback through most of his career with the Buckeyes, supposedly had been placed for good in the fullback slot behind All-America Bob Ferguson.

Mrukowski's ailment ran the Buckeye sick list to 11 and nearly all of them are front line performers.

Of the group, only two, guard Jim Bearss of Toledo and end Bob Middleton of Marion have been ruled out of Saturday's game with Illinois. Bearss has a shoulder separation and Middleton a fractured jaw. Another end, Chuck Bryant of Zanesville, is on the doubtful list with a neck injury.

Has Arm Operation

Stranahan Stages Rally To Capture Ohio Crown

AKRON, Ohio (AP)—It took a brilliant clutch performance for Frank Stranahan to win his third Ohio Open Golf Championship.

The Toledo pro made up a six-stroke deficit and edged Eddie Griffiths of Youngstown by sinking a 12-foot putt for a birdie three in a sudden death playoff Wednesday.

Midway through the 36 - hole finals, Griffiths, the 1957 Ohio Open champion, led the field by four strokes with 221 and was six strokes ahead of Stranahan.

But Griffiths had his troubles on the final 18, soaring to a 76, six over par, for a 287 total—seven over par. He muffed a four-foot putt on the last regulation hole that would have given him the championship.

Stranahan, who won the Open in 1948 as an amateur and last year as a professional, settled down to a steady round, shooting par 70 over the difficult 7,165-yard Firestone Country Club course.

He sank a five-foot putt on the last regulation hole to tie Griffiths. On the first sudden death hole, both were on in two, but Griffiths' putt from 30 feet was short. Griffiths had dropped in longer putts than that during his brilliant opening round Monday when he fired a 67. Stranahan then dropped a 12-foot putt for a birdie-three and the championship.

Asked what he was going to do next after winning the $500 first prize, Stranahan said he plans to play in the Japanese Open next month.

In third place was Leo Biagetti of Ashland, who led the field going into Wednesday's 36 - hole grind, but took a 76-73 and wound up with a 288 total for the 76-hole affair.

Jim Lucius, Troy Country Club pro, came in fourth with 290.

Don Stickney, a sophomore from Ohio State University, turned in the best amateur score, a 296.

Leaders among the 25 amateurs shared $875 in merchandise prizes. The prize list for professionals totaled $2,625. Thirty-nine professionals made the finals out of 100 who started Monday; 50 amateurs started the tournament.

Capacity Crowd Seen For Packers, Browns

CLEVELAND (AP)—Depending on the weather, the National Football League game here Sunday between the Cleveland Browns and the Green Bay Packers — who haven't met since 1956 — could draw a near-capacity crowd.

Less worried about attendance than the outcome is Cleveland Coach Paul Brown who advised his team Wednesday that "you have a chance but you have to be at your very best."

The coach said he considered the Packers one of the most solid teams in football.

"The packers are a possession football team," he said. "Watching one of their game movies we kept waiting for them to turn over the ball. They just seemed to keep it and keep it, marching down the field.

"You won't find a pair of harder running backs around than Paul Hornung and Jim Taylor. They are bruising runners."

Asked if he felt his team and the Packers were somewhat similar with an emphasis on running and strong defenses, Brown replied: "That's probably true. The football thinking of Vince (Lombandi) and myself runs along much the same lines. We have compared notes frequently the past few years."

Houk's New Pact Close To $40,000

By DON WEISS
Associated Press Sports Writer

NEW YORK (AP) — The New York Yankees, happily paying the price of their 19th World Series championship, are expected to sign Manager Ralph Houk to a two-year contract today at an estimated $40,000 a season.

The champs, who set the trend Wednesday by handing relief ace Luis Arroyo a bonus reported at $5,000 for his performance during the 1961 season, have called a news conference at which Houk's signing is expected to be announced.

The 42-year-old fighting major is anxious to get started on a no-telephone, much-fishing junket to Florida and Yankee General Manager Roy Hamey indicated the club is just as anxious to get him under contract before he heads south.

Houk signed a one-year contract for about $30,000 when he succeeded Casey Stengel as Yankee manager last fall. That he'll be back in charge next year and probably 1963 as well has been taken for granted. He is the third freshman manager in baseball history to win a World Series.

"He did a great job," Hamey said at the Yankee victory dinner Tuesday night. "When you consider the spot he was on, following Stengel, you'd have to say Ralph did an exceptional job.

"He had the respect of his players all the way and personally, I never worked with a better man in all my years. We didn't have a single difference."

Even Match Is Predicted In Ryder Cup

LYTHAM ST. ANNE'S, England (AP) — Two men who live and breathe golf dismissed the idea today that the Ryder Cup matches starting Friday will be a walkover for the Americans.

They are the men who should know — American team captain Jerry Barber and British captain Dai Rees.

Bookies have made the Americans 7-2 favorites to win the cup for the eleventh time in the two-day competition.

"The bookies must be insane," said Barber after leading his team through the second day of practice on the Royal Lytham St. Anne's course. "This match will be as even as it could be."

Rees, 48, playing in his ninth Ryder Cup, said: "Don't write us off. We were the long shots in the matches played in Britain four years ago—and we still won."

"Six of that winning team will be going against the Americans this week. We have a good chance to beat anyone."

"Of course the Americans have got a formidable team—they're always formidable," Rees said. "But I reckon we're in there with a real chance—and I'm not saying that just because I'm captain." In the first two days of practice, the British have produced scores that match or better those of the Americans.

But Bill Cox, former British Ryder Cup captain and now acknowledged as the foremost golf teacher in this country, watched the Americans playing Wednesday's fierce winds and said: "Practice scores can be very deceptive. The Americans are going over this course with a fine tooth comb, trying all sorts of different shots to find out which is the best way to play it. You can be sure they will hit their best form when it counts."

Ohio Congressman Praises U.S. Press

OXFORD, Ohio (AP)—Paul F. Schenck, member of Congress from the 3rd Ohio District, believes that on the whole the American press is "doing a remarkable job."

Addressing Miami University journalism students Wednesday, Schenck said, "I would want to see nothing done to control or censor the press, radio or television. When that time comes, it will be the beginning of the downfall of our country."

Lionel Taylor of the Denver Broncos set a professional football record in 1960 when he caught 92 passes.

President's Due Honorary Degree At N. Carolina

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Kennedy flies to North Carolina today to receive his 21st honorary degree, make a speech and watch airborne troops demonstrate their readiness for combat.

Kennedy was scheduled to take off from National Airport at 9:15 (Eastern Standard Time) for the one-hour flight to Raleigh-Durham airport.

Before traveling by motorcade to the University of North Carolina's Kenan Stadium at Chapel Hill, he planned a few remarks at the airport to open the North Carolina Trade Fair in Charlotte.

His airport talk was to be recorded on tape for immediate dispatch to Charlotte and broadcasting at the fair's opening ceremony.

University President William C. Friday and Chancellor William B. Aycock waited at Chapel Hill to introduce Kennedy to an anticipated crowd of about 33,000 and present him the honorary law degree at convocation exerises. Kennedy previously has received 19 honorary doctorates in law and one in science.

The chief executive's program called for leaving Chapel Hill just before noon for the hop to Ft. Bragg. He was scheduled to land at Pope Air Force Base, a part of the military reservation, at about 12:50 p.m.

U.S. Labor Chief To Join Met Talks

NEW YORK (AP)—Local 802 of the American Federation of Musicians and representatives of the Metropolitan Opera Association will meet here Friday under the baton of Secretary of Labor Arthur J. Goldberg.

The musicians and the Met agreed to arbitration of their labor dispute last August after the Met had announced cancellation of its 1961-62 season. The season was reinstated, and Goldberg was named as arbitrator.

Set With Dodgers

Alston Gets 9th Contract

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Walt Alston, quiet-spoken former school teacher, will manage the Los Angeles Dodgers again next year as they move into their new stadium in Chavez Ravine.

Dodger General Manager Buzzie Bavasi announced Wednesday night that Alston, 49, a resident of Darrtown, Ohio, will lead the Los Angeles club for the ninth consecutive season. He started in 1954 when Charlie Dressen quit because the Dodgers wouldn't give him a long-term contract.

Alston has been operating on a year-to-year basis ever since and has accounted for three National League championships, two world championships, two seconds, a third, fourth and seventh place. He is the oldest manager in the National League in point of service.

The Dodgers finished second this year, going into a 10-game tailspin after taking a two-game lead over Cincinnati. The team had an unusualy long string of injuries and the retirement of relief pitcher Ed Roebuck because of a sore arm added to Alston's problems.

There were rumors late in the season and during the World Series that Alston might not be rehired, but Bavasi said there was no basis for them. There may be certain changes in the coaching staff, but Bavasi said he and Alston would discuss the coaching situation in a few days when they meet to plan for the 1962 season.

Out Of The Air

By MARIE TORRE

The Year Of The TV Newsmen

In China, it's the year of the Cow; in American TV, it's the Year of the Newsman. What with more than 20 electronic reporters heading shows of their own and journalism the reigning category of current TV programming, the new season represents maximum effort on the part of TV newsmen. At least one reporter is pondering the question, "Is it too much?"

Marie Torre

"They're asking an awful lot of us this year," muses David Brinkley, who hates to think what happened to quiz shows and Westerns when they reached the point of overabundance. "I wonder how many of us will survive?"

THE MAJOR difference between Brinkley and his colleagues, or most of them, is that he's conditioned to the exigencies of the business.

In the continuing excitement engendered by his and Chet Huntley's casual approach to news reporting, it generally is forgotten that Brinkley has been toiling at NBC for 18 years, a period marked by more downs than ups.

"I'm reminded, as I work on my new show, of the time in '53 when I did a show just like it at NBC," said Brinkley, whose "Journal" opens Wednesday.

"A series that was to go on early Sunday afternoons had fallen through, and I was told, on short notice, to fill in. I had no budget. No help. No cameraman to rehearse with until minutes before each program.

"When I needed a picture from the Library of Congress, I had to get it myself and arrange to get a print of it myself.

"I DON'T THINK anybody ever saw the show. The only review I received was from Variety, which had nice things to say about it, incidentally. Anyway, I'll be doing basically the same show this season.

"Yes, I've thought of the possibility of its disappointing viewers and network executives who have come to expect an awful lot of me — and all the other newsmen. I'm not losing any sleep over it, however; if it doesn't work."

It may seem a far-fetched conclusion, but Brinkley's previous plaints about the loss of anonymity that accompanies TV fame bolsters the impression that he speaks with conviction when he expresses indifference to TV success.

FAME, HE complains, often interferes with his job as reporter.

"When I worked on newspapers," he recalls, "I often found that a good way to get a story was simply to move inconspicuously around where something was happening, to pretend to be just another member of the crowd, to ask questions and talk to people without saying I was a reporter.

"It's a good way to get natural, unrehearsed, unpostured reactions and comments. It's impossible to do that now, even wearing sunglasses.

"Sometimes, of course, being known to people helps get you into places otherwise inaccessible. But, on balance, being a 'personality,' if we must use that word, is a handicap."

It's Brinkley's ambition to return to newspaper work one day. He has something to say on that subject, too.

"THE PUBLIC has the impression that anybody who works in TV is rich. This is a myth," he states. "True, part of my NBC salary goes into a fund with which I hope to educate my kids, but once that's deducted and the taxes are taken out, I'm left with living expenses and nothing to save toward old age.

"The other night Arthur Goldberg, our secretary of labor, asked me about this very thing at a party. He asked, 'Is it true that those of you in show business have no pension plans, no retirement plans or any of the other benefits usually accorded to employes?'

"I told him it was the bitter truth. They pay us more than we're worth and then we're on our own."

HOW WESTERNS are declining! In the latest Nielsen report, only two Westerns showed—"Bonanza" and "Gunsmoke." In other months, at least five or six horse operas turned up in every Nielsen survey. . . .

Irritated by the consistent criticism of excessive violence leveled at "The Untouchables," star Robert Stack spoke out in Hollywood. "Don't judge the result, judge the cause. You don't judge the quality of an auto by how many people are killed in accidents," he noted, then added:

"The period we portray was a violent era, yet we do not actually show the violence to a great degree; we imply it. The criticism of 'Untouchables' is also a paradox; it's because the show is successful. If it weren't, there'd be no need to criticize. Lots of other shows with real violence have gone off the air because they were, in fact, just plain poor shows."

City Man's Trial Set On Indecent Assault

Trial of Ralph Byers, 35, of 313 Norton St., accused of indecent assault on a minor, will begin Monday before Common Pleas Court Judge Joel H. Sharp at Lisbon.

Byers was secretly indicted by the September Grand Jury after Juvenile Judge Louis Tobin sentenced him to a year in jail on a charge of contributing to the delinquency of the minor.

Atty. Carl Stoffer of Homeworth, representing Byers, argued in court Wednesday that this constituted double jeopardy but the court upheld the contention of Prosecutor G. William Brokaw that the charges are separate and trial was ordered.

Defecting Locals Due Charters

AFL-CIO Sees Member Exodus Of Hoffa Union

NEW YORK (AP) — AFL-CIO chiefs forecast today a substantial membership exodus from James R. Hoffa's Teamsters Union now that the federation has hung out a welcome sign.

George Meany, AFL-CIO president, said he was already busy processing affiliation applications from about 100 of the nearly 900 Teamsters locals.

The AFL-CIO Executive Council voted 24 to 2 Wednesday to authorize Meany to issue charters to locals defecting from Hoffa's rule. Federation officials said they have no idea how many Teamsters may thus decide to switch allegiance, but expect a sizable number.

Hoffa can be relied upon to fight back. He has said he will meet head-on any AFL-CIO threat to his union and is confident that "we'll come out on top."

Meany declined to speculate to newsmen whether the open bid for a Teamsters rebellion will result in a labor war.

"We don't go in for headbusting," Meany said. "You'll have to ask Mr. Hoffa about that."

Hoffa said in Detroit Wednesday night that he will sue Meany for $1 million on grounds of slander and libel. The Teamsters chief said the suit will be filed in U.S. District Court in Detroit next Monday.

Hoffa said he plans the court action because he wants to force Meany to try to prove his charges of corruption in the Teamsters Union.

The AFL-CIO Council sessions this week have brought bad news to Hoffa. He'd hoped to be invited to bring his expelled 1.5-million member union back into the federation. Instead, AFL-CIO leaders voted overwhelmingly to continue the Teamsters exile and to encourage bolts of Hoffa's members.

A grand jury at Orlando, Fla., also reindicted Hoffa Wednesday on mail fraud violation charges involving alleged misuse of $500,000 Teamsters funds in a land development scheme. A prior indictment was dismissed on technical grounds.

Hoffa may retaliate against the AFL-CIO by going ahead with a blueprint plan already authorized by the Teamsters to establish a union federation rivaling the AFL-CIO. Hoffa may seek to take away some of the AFL-CIO's own unions.

Bringing Up A Family

By GARRY C. MEYERS

Child's Allowance Should Be Planned

In haste to catch the school bus, 10-year-old Cindy calls upstairs to her mother, "My allowance!" The mother scurries around to find her purse and the smallest amount she can find in it is a five-dollar bill. Finally she says, "Take this, Cindy, and bring back the change this evening." Suppose they both forget all about it in the evening. Or suppose Cindy, having so much money, chose to spend a good deal of it for sweets or other luxuries. A few mornings later Cindy may express her need for money again, just as she is hurrying off to school.

Dr. Garry Meyers

NOW SUPPOSE Cindy has one or more brothers or sisters rushing off to school at the same time.

Under such conditions, an allowance plan won't work. And the orgy of emotions may be still more if money is doled out to each child when he says he needs it, just as he is leaving for school.

In either case, the wise parent will plan a day or more ahead to have adequate change on hand. I know a father who takes responsibility for such planning.

When each school child has a budgeted allowance which he receives on a certain day of the week, preferably on an evening before a school day, having the correct amount on hand will make it easier for both the child and his parents. Besides, the child then knows exactly how much money he has for a definite period and can govern his spending accordingly.

IT'S DESIRABLE for the child of the first or second grade upward to have learned to live for a week within a definite allowance. If he has not, he may gradually learn by practice in shorter periods, then slightly longer ones.

A good allowance plan is based on the regular daily needs of the child. After these needs are listed and totaled to cover a week, a small amount for pocket money should be added. All the items in this budgeted allowance should be reviewed with the child from time to time, and sometimes revised accordingly.

Many parents suppose their child is operating on an allowance when they give him what they call "pocket money". But a good allowance is budgeted ahead. The child lists his regular needs. Pocket money, for him to spend as he chooses, is listed separately. A problem is to keep this amount reasonably low. Most parents incline to make it too high under pressures from the child.

My bulletin "Allowances" may be had by sending a self - addressed stamped envelope to me in care of this newspaper.

Crane Boom Smashes W. 8th Traffic Signal

A stop sign has been erected as a temporary control on Chestnut St. at W. 8th St., where a traffic signal was smashed Tuesday by the boom of a big crane that was being moved across the four-lane "super-road."

The traffic signal had been erected about two weeks ago at the point where a Route 267 detour to Pleasant Heights was established because of the closing of lower Lisbon St.

Authorities said a big caterpillar tread crane went out of control as the operator was driving it downgrade on former Chestnut St., moving it across the four-lane "super-road" stretch. The crane operator jumped clear and the machine drifted into the intersection, halting when its boom caught on cables supporting the light.

Ike, Wife Complete Physical Checkups

WASHINGTON (AP) — Former President and Mrs. Dwight D. Eisenhower have completed "satisfactory examinations" in their annual physical checkups at Walter Reed Army Hospital.

Eisenhower, 71 next Saturday has undergone annual checkups since his Army days.

Keep In Trim

By IDA JEAN KAIN

Regular Exercise Keeps Figure Slender

Dieters, take action to get nature pulling for you. Fuel is burned according to the demand of the muscles for energy. All right, step up the muscle demand by life-giving exercise. Oh, how rewarding a little regular exercise can be! In fact, exercise often marks the difference between unexpected success and repeated failure.

Ida Jean Kain

Too often, dieters who find reducing slow going make the mistake of cutting down drastically on calories. This is neither the way to lose weight faster nor the way to keep your bounce while dieting. Bear in mind that the more food you can burn along with your fat, the better you will feel.

So, instead of paring down calories to semi-starvation level, which causes the body fires to burn low, have adequate amounts of the protective foods and step up exercise to burn the fuel along with body fat.

HOW MUCH outdoor exercise do you get? Physicians point out that the common feeling of fatigue and tension is often due to a lack of outdoor activity. Regular walking is the best and most natural exercise to take. Let me tell you about three career girls living in a large city who decided to put walking to the test.

At a point two miles from their destination, the girls would get off the subway and walk briskly the rest of the way to the office. One girl, however, changed her position and couldn't join her friends on their daily walk.

Result: A year later, the walkers were streamlined and in the pink of condition — no stenographer's spread. The other girl, alas, had gained ten unwanted pounds in the wrong spots.

Homemakers can perhaps fit the walk in during the late afternoon. Dieters can save the late-day energy pick-up to have as a treat at the finish of the walk.

And here's a challenge to mothers of young school-age children: Walk with the children to school, don't drive them. This may be the greatest favor you can do for your children as well as for yourselves.

—:—

ANY KIND of exercise which calls for the vigorous use of many muscles and increases the feeling of well-being is all to the good. The secret is regularity of exercise so the body is kept in toned condition.

Spasmodic spurts of physical exertion can cause harm. The medical profession warns against physical inactivity during the week followed by over-exertion on the weekends.

For the normal weights, exercise is the healthful way to control weight. For the overweights, the perfect way to reduce is to combine protective diet with regular exercise. You'll not only lose the burdensome excess pounds, but you'll come alive!

Local Groups Hold Key To Ford Return

DETROIT (AP) — Individual problems at 25 local bargaining units heldt he key today to resumption by Ford Motor Co. following the agreement Wednesday night with the United Auto Workers Union on a new three-year national labor contract.

UAW President Walter P. Reuther said he would recommend to the union's Ford National Council this afternoon that the settlement be approved and a nationwide strike which began 10 days ago be ended.

However, strikes will continue at the 25 local units which have unresolved problems, pending a review of all issues by the international executive board tonight.

Reuther said locals with "legitimate specific problems" will be authorized by the board to continue to strike. But he expressed hope such problems would be resolved in time to permit the company to return to production by Monday.

"We'd like to get the men back to work as soon as possible," said Malcolm L. Denise, Ford vice president-labor relations who led the Ford bargaining team. "Monday would be fine with us."

In another union action Wednesday night the international board ordered a new ratification vote by Local 72 at Kenosha, Wis., on the American Motors profit-sharing contract. The 12,000-member local rejected the pact by 63 votes in a slim turnout Sunday.

Two final pieces of the non-economic section ofthe national Ford contract were settled at a four-hour bargaining session on Wednesday night.

The two sides agreed to the economic sections of the contract just prior to the strike Oct. 3. The walkout came over the non-wage sections with production standards, union representation, outside contracting and the Ford steel plant proving the major stumbling blocks.

The contract closely matches the General Motors settlement of last month.

Execution Set Nov. 10 For Officer's Slayer

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — The Ohio Supreme Court has set Nov. 10 for the execution of James R. Buck, 24, convicted Akron police slayer.

The court rejected Buck's appeal from his first-degree murder conviction Wednesday. He had been convicted of fatally shooting policeman Floyd Weatherholt March 25, 1960.

Chico Marx, 70, Comedian, Dies Of Heart Attack

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — Leonard Marx, a tailor's son who wanted to be a businessman but instead became Chico of the Marx brothers comedy team, is dead at 70.

Chico, oldest member of the impossibly irreverent brothers whose vaudeville and movie fans included low-brows and intellectuals alike, died of a heart ailment Wednesday. He had been ill for several months.

Chico and brothers Groucho (Julius), Harpo (Arthur), Zeppo (Herbert) and Gummo (Milton) transformed low comedy into high art for three decades—with their special brand of winks, whistles and wisecracks.

Their last movie was in 1949, entitled "Love Happy," and the cast included an obscure blonde actress, Marilyn Monroe, in her first film.

Gummo and Zeppo entered private business years ago. Chico, who loved gambling, cards and golf, lived quietly in recent years.

Only Groucho, 66, is still an active performer. Harpo recently regained some prominence with "Harpo Speaks," an autobiography.

Jury To Decide Friday To Hear One Of Indicted

WARREN, Ohio (AP) — The Trumbull County grand jury will determine Friday whether it wants to hear one of seven men it indicted in an alleged shakedown of contractors on city sewer projects.

The man, Frank A. Cickelli, county Democratic Party chairman, Wednesday sought permission to appear before the jury when it reconvenes. He was subpoenaed to appear before the jury when it was in session last month, but was not called to testify.

Common Pleas Court Judge G. H. Birrell recalled the grand jurors to correct possible technical errors in the original indictments. Lynn B. Griffith Jr., county prosecutor, made the request.

The indictments have been under attack in motions filed in behalf of Cickelli, James Matash, a bondsman; and councilmen Raymond J. Little, Jack G. Flask and John Janosik. These five have not entered pleas.

Two others, James R. Soda, a contractor, and Paul Lamonge, former cafe owner, have pleaded innocent to the charges in the indictments. All seven are free under bond.

Police said the driver, Melvin Allen, 26, of Cleveland, faces possible traffic manslaughter charges.

Finegan Resigns Cleveland Post With AFL-CIO

CLEVELAND (AP) — AFL-CIO leaders now must find a successor to William Finegan, who has resigned as executive secretary of the Cleveland Federation of Labor.

Delegates from the unions Wednesday night approved Finegan's resignation amid only a few shouts of "No!" when a voice vote was called.

Finegan leaves a post he has held since the AFL-CIO merger in 1958 until Jan. 1. He will receive $16,900—a year's salary—as severance pay.

The CFL executive board approved the two conditions Tuesday and recommended acceptance by CFL delegates, a few of whom sought Finegan's ouster. The board's resolution also provided that a previous resolution demanding Finegan's ouster be tabled and that he continue as a delegate to the AFL-CIO.

Approval of the resignation came after Patrick J. O'Malley, federation president, asked the delegates not to get into a dispute over the resolution.

The resolution Wednesday night was recommended by a six-man committee appointed at the federation's September meeting. The committee investigated Finegan's alleged failure to carry through AFL-CIO policies.

Finegan was not at the meeting. Reports are he may accept a post with the Teamsters.

ANSWERS YOUR PROBLEMS

Dear Ann Landers: I have a problem which I've never seen in your column. Furthermore, I've never heard of anyone who has had this kind of trouble.

My husband insists that I leave the door to our apartment open between 5:30 and 6 in the evenin when he is expected home for dinner. He just hates to dig around for his key.

I should tell you that he usually carried a briefcase and some books, so I concede it may be a bit of a nuisance.

I've offered to unlock the door immediately if he will only knock, whistle or ring, but this isn't good enough! He can't stand to wait. He wants the door to be open so he can walk right in.

Yesterday he got so mad he yelled loud enough for the neighbors to hear: "If this door isn't open tomorrow I'm going to kick it down!"

What do you suggest? BROWBEATEN.

Dear Brow: Of course it would be more convenient if the door were open so he could walk right in. It would be even more convenient if there were no door at all. But a grown man should have sense enough to realize that if HE could walk in, so could any vagrant, theif or lunatic.

Tell him to grow up. A major symptom of infantile behavior is the inability to defer to others. The inconvenience of using his key is a trifle compared with what he stands to lose by insisting that you leave the door open.

A Slap In Time

Dear Ann: My 10-year-old daughter was behaving badly in a department store yesterday. She was running up and down the aisles, pulling dresses off the hangers and opening stock drawers. I told her repeatedly to stop it. She'd say, "Okay, Mommy," and two minutes later she'd do something else.

When my back was turned she climbed on a table and stuck her hand in a bird cage. This was the limit so I gave her a swat on the behind. She bawled for a minute then behaved perfectly.

A close friend who was with me criticized me for spanking the child in public. She said only low-class people do this and I should have waited until we got home. Do you agree?—CRTICIZED.

Dear Criticized: The most effective punishment is the kind handed out on the spot.

Time takes on strange dimensions to youngsters. An hour can seem like a week. Had you waited until you got home she might have forgotten that she behaved badly. My only criticism is that you didn't let her have it sooner.

Free Rider

Dear Ann Landers: A friend who works near my place of employment rides to and from work with me almost every day. Sometimes he invites a friend or two to ride along. This has been going on for almost two years.

Not once has he offered to buy gas or oil for the car. I wonder if he thinks a car runs on "Thank You." I am not a petty person, nor am I in bad financial shape, but I hate to be a sap. What are your feelings on this subject? —FREE TAXI.

Dear Free: People who accept favors should reciprocate in some manner. Perhaps your friend feels you would be insulted if he offered to fill the tank. An occasional gift would show appreciation. In any event, Thanks for the ride" day after day is not enough.

Ann Landers will be glad to help you with your problems. Send them to her in care of The Review, enclosing a stamped, self-addressed envelope.

Arraignment Slated In Columbus Slaying

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—A 38-year-old house builder was to be arraigned on a first-degree murder charge today for the slaying of his estranged wife's neighbor.

Arthur C. Nebb, subject of a nationwide search for nearly a month surrendered to County Prosecutor Earl W. Allison Wednesday.

He is accused of killing Estel Stepp Sept. 14, who was visiting Nebb's ex - wife, Bernice, at her home south of Columbus. Mrs. Nebb was wounded.

Mrs. Clara Cory, Nebb's attorney, said he telephoned her Wednesday morning, and she advised him to surrender.

Shrunken Head Taken From Nebraska Site

LINCOLN, Nebraska (AP) — Someone swiped the shrunken head from the University of Nebraska Museum.

What makes the loss so tough, explains museum director C. Bertrand Schultz, is that the 60 to 70-year old shrunken human head is irreplaceable.

Indians in South America — where this specimen originated— have been forbidden to shrink heads for some time.

Kennedy Sees No Early Halt In Crises; 10,000 More Men Ordered To Europe

Gen. Taylor Due There

U.S. Intervention In S. Viet Nam Termed Possible

WASHINGTON (AP) — The possibility of direct U.S. military intervention in South Viet Nam appeared to be sharpened today by President Kennedy's decision to send Gen. Maxwell D. Taylor on an urgent mission to assess the growing Communist threat to the Southeast Asian country.

Taylor, a top Kennedy military adviser, is scheduled to leave Sunday, make a fast survey of the increasingly dangerous situation, then give Kennedy an "educated military guess" on the size of the Communist menace and steps that could be taken to meet it. Officials said the U.S.-supported government of President Ngo Dinh Diem is coming under very heavy Red pressure.

The President announced the Taylor mission at a news conference Wednesday at which he also made clear that he will send Ambassador Llewellyn Thompson back to Moscow shortly to resume exploratory talks with Soviet leaders on possible settlement of the Berlin crisis.

Thompson, in addition, is expected to warn the Soviets anew of the dangers of expanding con-

Rayburn's Stricken By Pneumonia

Cancer-Afflicted Speaker Of House Remains Critical

DALLAS, Tex. (AP)—Sam Rayburn, stricken with incurable cancer and harried by pneumonia, remained critically ill today.

The condition of the 79-year-old speaker of the House worsened Wednesday. His temperature shot to 103 degrees and he lost consciousness. But then he rallied.

Baylor Hospital has not reported any change in his condition since the 5:30 p.m. medical bulletin Wednesday which said: "Mr. Rayburn remains critically ill but now replies to questions and generally shows improvement. His pulse and blood pressure are within normal limits. His temperature is dropping and this afternoon it has approached normal. He shows signs of responding to treatment. Antibiotics and positive pressure are being continued."

Dr. Robert F. Short Jr., the congressman's chief physician, said in reply to questions that Rayburn was receiving treatment only for pneumonia. He said there had been no toxic effects from the three cancer treatments given to Rayburn they would be suspended until the pneumonia has been controlled.

Dr. Short said Rayburn was put on the critical list because of pneumonia and not from any worsening of the cancer.

"Pneumonia is something that can be cured," he added.

The doctor said the pneumonia developed Tuesday afternoon and that Rayburn lapsed into unconsciousness during the night.

The "positive pressure" that the doctor referred to utilizes a machine to force air into Rayburn's lungs, relieving the heart of added work. Dr. Short said Rayburn also is being given oxygen and that he is being fed intravenously.

Rayburn entered the hospital 10 days ago, saying he was suffering from back pains caused by lumbago. Tests showed that he had been stricken with incurable cancer.

Burglars Get $200

Safe Ripped Out

Burglars ripped a floor safe out of its concrete foundation and obtained $200 early this morning at the Highway Oil Co. gas station on Route 68, about a mile west of Midland.

Ohio Township Constable Bernard Zlatovich, left, inspects the area where the safe was dug out, and George Peebles of East Palestine, manager, holds a chunk of the concrete which the burglars broke through.

Scratches on the pavement in front of the station indicated where the burglars had dragged out the safe.

The small safe weighed from 200 to 300 pounds.

Ohio Township police were notified when Peebles discovered the safe missing at 5:55 a. m. He estimated the safe contained about $200, including night receipts.

Entrance to the two - room station was gained by tearing out a hole in the thin wall at the rear, just big enough for a person to slip through.

The station was broken into sometime after Fred Wolfe of Midland, night attendant, closed at 12:10 a. m. and Constable Zlatovich checked at 1:15 a. m.

Chunks of the 3- to 4-inch concrete, which surrounded the sides and bottom of the safe, were piled in the next room by the burglars. Some chunks remained in the hole.

Peebles said apparently nothing else was taken. Mike Haydin, township constable, was also at the scene and the Roches-

Foreign Minister Waits Instructions After Censure Talk

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP) —Stung by an unprecedented censure from the General Assembly, South African Foreign Minister Eric Louw today awaited instructions from his government amid new speculation the republic may quit the United Nations.

Louw angrily charged that the censure of his policy speech by an overwhelming vote of 67-1 was part of a prearranged campaign by African nations to smear his government.

"We had been forewarned this would happen," Louw declared after a parade of African delegates denounced his speech as insulting to their governments and the African people.

African delegates were infuriated by Louw's charge that many of the African governments were attacking his government to divert attention from appalling economic conditions and illiteracy in their own countries. The Africans also resented his announcement that South Africa would continue its policy of apartheid—strict race segregation — despite the U.N.'s disapproval.

South Africa walked out of the General Assembly six years ago when its white supremacist policies were censured. It has threatened to pull out of the U.N. altogether if pushed too far.

Recalling the warning, delegates noted that this was the first time any U.N. representative had ever been censured for a speech.

The censure motion put in by Liberia labeled Louw's address "offensive, fictitious and erroneous."

South Africa cast the sole negative vote but 20 nations abstained. The United States, Britain, France and six other countries did not participate in the ballot, and three other nations were absent.

Explaining why the United States did not take part in the vote, Ambassador Adlai E. Stevenson said: "While we reject the views of the foreign minister of South Africa on the subject of apartheid and have so stated many times, we resolutely support his right—and the right of every speaker before the General Assembly—to state his views."

In the protracted U.S.-Soviet negotiations over an interim secretary-general to succeed the late Dag Hammarskjold, the United States was studying a new Soviet compromise proposal.

Gravest Danger Era In History, He Declares

Troops

WASHINGTON (AP)—An additional 10,000 air and ground troops have been ordered to Europe to bolster the Allied garrison manning the line between West Germany and the Communist East.

They are in addition to the 40,000 Army troops beginning to deploy abroad in the first phase of a program to increase conventional war capability against possible Red aggression. By year's end, U.S. forces in Europe will total about 300,000.

About half the 10,000 are Army men, the other half Air National Guardsmen.

The Pentagon said Wednesday that the 3rd Armored Cavalry Regiment, with a strength of about 3,000 men, would go overseas at an early date. Another 2,000 soldiers also will be sent to handle and guard weapons and equipment being stored against the possibility that full-sized Army divisions might go later.

Eleven fighter squadrons of federalized Air National Guard units, with a total manpower of about 5,000 pilots and support personnel, will start heading overseas Nov. 1.

The ground and air units will be added to five Army divisions, elements equaling another division, and 17 tactical air squadrons now in West Germany and France.

Both the ground and air units in this new augmentation are equipped and trained for conventional warfare.

Ohio Air Guard Units Headed For Europe

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Ohio's Air National Guard wing headquarters, including supporting units, one of its fighter squadrons and the 123rd aircraft control and warning squadron at Blue Ash are among the recently activated Air Guard units headed for Europe.

Not included in the Defense Department list of units which will start eastward Nov. 1 weret he 164th Tactical Fighter Squadron at Mansfield and the 162nd Tactical Fighter Squadron at Springfield. Both are part of the state's 121st Tactical Fighter Wing and have been on active duty in their home areas since Oct. 1.

Also left off the list was the state's remaining Air Guard squadron, the 112th Tactical Fighter Squadron at Toledo, part of the Indiana wing.

With the exception of the Blue Ash group, all of the units headed for Europe are presently based at Lockbourne Air Force base near Columbus.

They include:

Headquarters, 121st Tactical Fighter Wing; 166th Tactical Fighter Squadron; 121st Aircraft and Maintenance Squadron; 121st Consolidated Aircraft Maintenance Squadron; 21st Air Base Group Headquarters; 121st Supply Squadron; 121st Transportation Squadron; 121st Air Police Squadron; 121st Civil Egnineer Squadron; 121st Operations Squadron; 121st Tactical Hospital and the 164th Weather Flight.

News of the move came as a surprise to the air guardsmen who have received no orders yet. The Defense Department report did not show the exact location the units will be transferred to.

Kennedy

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Kennedy sees no easy or early halt to East-West collisions which have pushed mankind to, as he views it, the gravest danger point in all history.

"There still are very major differences," he says, between the Western powers and the Soviet Union.

The talks he and Secretary of State Dean Rusk have had with Soviet Foreign Minister Andrei A. Gromyko in the last few weeks have failed to produce immediate hope of achieving agreement on Berlin, Kennedy told his news conference Wednesday.

"Our ambition is to protect our vital interests without a war which destroys and doesn't really represent a victory for policy," Kennedy said. He added that Americans are rightfully concerned in this age of annihilating weapons because: "We happen to live in the most dangerous time in the history of the human race."

Other areas of conflict exist outside Germany, he said—and announced he is dispatching Gen. Maxwell D. Taylor for an on-scene survey of South Viet Nam.

Taylor, the President's military adviser, leaves Sunday and will meet with Vietnamese President Ngo Dinh Diem and U.S. officials to discuss ways of helping South Viet Nam cope with expanding Communist attacks.

Taylor also may visit Laos and Cambodia.

A crowd of 396 newsmen and visitors attended the news conference, which also could be seen across the country via live television. It was the Chief Executive's 16th news conference in Washington, the first in nearly 1½ months and the first opened to televising as it happened since March.

Kennedy, wearing his usual news conference dark blue suit and purple tie, provided a few chuckles but for the most part was solemn in tone and manner.

High Court Rules

Ex-Policemen's Appeals Denied

The Ohio Supreme Court has rejected the appeals of Ira Cunningham, former city policeman, and Jerome (Jerry) Raimond, onetime special officer, on convictions of a 1952 burglary of the Burbick Hardware Co. store.

Cunningham, 55, currently serving a 1-5-year term for attempted bribery of a juror, and Raimond, 35, of Newell, face 1-15-year prison terms for the burglary.

THE HIGH court at Columbus, which heard arguments in the case Friday from County Prosecutor William Brokaw and Atty. Hugo Alexander of Steubenville, counsel for the pair, issued its ruling Wednesday.

The official notification of the decision had not yet been received by county officials this morning, and the defendants have seven days in which to file new motions in the case with possible recourse to the U. S. Supreme Court.

The 7th District Court of Appeals previously reversed the 1958 conviction of the two men, on grounds the case had not been tried within the prescribed three court periods after indictments were returned in 1956.

THE OHIO Supreme Court, in an appeal filed by Prosecutor Brokaw, overruled the appellate court on the issue, and the appellate court later upheld the conviction, with the defendants in turn taking the case to the high court.

The action at Columbus indicated the 1956 police burglary scandal may be nearing the end of its final chapter.

Prosecutor Brokaw said previously that he would not bring to trial any of the remaining indictments connected with the original police investigation and subsequent actions.

Robert McBane, former officer who pleaded guilty to eight of the nine original indictments involving him, four regular officers and two ex-special officers, has been free on bond for five years.

Pilot In X15 Hits Record 40 Miles Up

EDWARDS AIR FORCE BASE, Calif. (AP)—In the most dangerous X15 flight yet, a pilot set a world's record for going up—to prove this important point about coming down:

That an astronaut doesn't have to ride back to earth as a prisoner in a falling capsule—but can fly safely through the earth's atmosphere in a winged craft and land where he wishes.

Air Force Maj. Bob White Wednesday set a new world's altitude record for winged flight, 40 miles, and then made a belly-flopping reentry into the atmosphere which cracked the windshield of the rocket plane.

The plane dropped spread-eagle into the atmosphere the way a diver belly-flops into a swimming pool. The stress and friction heat would have torn a conventional plane apart.

The method spreads the heat of re-entry over a large area of the plane. Wednesday's successful flight proved techniques which may be used in re-entries on future Dyna - Soar and Apollo manned orbital flights in winged rocket craft, scientists said.

White said the windshield broke as the plane hit the thickening atmosphere at 60,000 or 70,000 feet. He said the crack, on the outer glass panel of the X15's windshield, didn't interfere with his control of the plane.

The temperature on the X15's surface reached 900 degrees—300 under the maximum the X15 was designed to withstand.

White reached an altitude of 215,000 feet — more than eight miles higher than the previous X15 record, 169,600 feet.

Sewage Rate Notices To Be Sent Firms

Midland Authority To Notify Crucible, Mackintosh Plants

The Midland Municipal Authority Wednesday evening decided to notify the Crucible Steel Co. and Mackintosh-Hemphill Co. that sewage rates will be adopted next week.

The authority plans to pass a resolution at its meeting next Wednesday evening to adopted industrial and residential sewage rates.

Borough Council recently leased the new sewage treatment plant to the authority.

During discussion, it was brought out that the authority may charge residents in January for the last quarter of the year, October through December.

Then the authority may begin section billing, dividing the town into three parts, one paying for one month, later a second section paying two months, and later a third section paying for three months, until all three sections are alternately paying for three months.

Rates will be published and cards will be sent residents and industries informing them of the new rates. Industries would be billed monthly.

Chamber Group Contributes Funds To Raze Ceramic

The downtown improvement committee of the Chamber of Commerce announced today it has made a $5,000 contribution toward the cost of razing the old Ceramic Theater building to help expedite a project to convert the site into a municipally - operated metered parking lot.

The announcement came as the city prepared to issue a new call for bids on the demolition work after rejecting the lone offer of $16,630 filed Friday.

The Chamber committee's donation, in effect, gives the city an overall total of $65,000 with which to work rather than the $60,000 made available through Council issuance of self-liquidating bonds.

Out of the $60,000, the city already has paid $45,000 to heirs of the Tallman Estate, meeting a previously-stipulated price for the towering old building.

The $16,630 bid that was filed with the Board of Control for the demolition would have pushed the cost of the project over the $60,000 provided by Council and the site still would not have been ready for use.

The cost of blacktopping the site, installing meters, constructing walks and performing other

Woman Misses Turn, Auto Rams Utility Pole

A woman motorist escaped unhurt early Wednesday night when her auto struck a utility pole after failing to round the right-angle turn at Elizabeth St. and Pennsylvania Ave., police reported.

The crash damaged the hood and grill of a 1960 four-door sedan operated by Mrs. Olive V. Zeder, 305 W. 6th St., officers said. It was timed at 6:47.

Mrs. Zeder told police she failed to negotiate the curve while driving east about 20 miles an hour and the auto crossed to the opposite side of the street and hit the utility pole.

France Is Pressed On Quitting Bizerte

TUNIS (AP)—President Habib Bourguiba demanded today that France agree to the principle of quitting its giant Bizerte base. He laid this down as a condition before Tunisia will sign any political or economic agreement with the French.

Bourguiba did not specify any date for the eventual withdrawal.

Last month, in an effort to end the bitter crisis between Tunisia and France, Bourguiba proposed France keep the strategic base for the duration of the Berlin crisis.

November Draft Call For Army Is 20,000

WASHINGTON (AP) — A draft call for 20,000 men in November was issued Wednesday. All will go into the Army.

The November quota is the same as that for October, but is 5,000 less than the September quota when the first full impact of the military buildup came.

Woman Hurt Against Side Of City Bus

A 73-year-old woman pedestrian was hurt in a mishap with a bus this morning at 5th and Market Sts. and police continued investigation of another traffic accident a short time later that involved a Wellsville ambulance headed for City Hospital and an auto on W. 8th St. near Chestnut St.

Injured in the Market St. mishap was Mrs. Margarette Howard, 1368 Etruria St., who was bumped by an Inter - City Transit Co. bus operated by John William Taylor, 36, of 304 Washington St.

Mrs. Howard was detained at City Hospital for treatment of a possible injury to the right foot.

The bus driver told police he had just completed a turn off E. 5th St. with the traffic light in his favor when he heard someone shout from the street.

He said he halted and found Mrs. Howard lying on Market St. on the right side of the bus. He said she apparently walked into the side of the bus.

R. E. Goodman, 925 Denver St., a witness, told police Mrs. Howard walked into the side of the bus. Police had not taken a statement from the injured woman.

The collision on W. 8th St. involved an ambulance of the Haugh Funeral Home at Wellsville, operated by William Roberts, and

Soviet A-Tests Reported Affecting Some U.S. Food

WASHINGTON (AP) — Fallout from Soviet nuclear tests has introduced radioactive iodine 131 into fresh food supplies in many areas in the southeastern United States and probably throughout the eastern half of the country, the Public Health Service announced today.

"However, present fallout does not warrant undue public concern, nor initiation of public action designed to limit the intake of radioactive substances," Surgeon General Luther L. Terry said.

The service said its announcement was based on analysis of milk in six cities—New Orleans, La.; Atlanta, Ga.; Charleston, S.C.; Jackson, Miss.; Tampa, Fla., and St. Louis, Mo.

The Soviet Union resumed nuclear testing Sept. 1. Since then, according to President Kennedy's disclosure Wednesday at a news conference, the Soviet Union has fired more than 20 nuclear explosions into the atmosphere.

Iodine is a source of potential concern because physicians say extensive overdoses might result in cancer or other injury to the thyroid.

Three weeks ago, the top-level Federal Radiation Council cut sharply its recommended maximum safe limit on the intake of radioactive iodine 131. The cut was recommended particularly for the protection of children.

Under the old standard, a daily intake of up to approximately 1,300 micro-microcuries was considered acceptable. A micro-microcurie is a measure of radioactivity.

Under the council's new recom-

of the trials held in connection with the burglaries, McBane, now living out of the county with permission of the court, is expected to be called back for disposition of his cases, officials said.

Dallas Bishop, the other former special officer, served a prison term for a 1952 entering of the Smith & Phillips Co.

Louis (Mike) Stuttler, 38, was taken to the Ohio State Penitentiary in June to serve a term for a 1954 burglary of the Burbick store in which a fingerprint was prime evidence. The former officer had appealed the conviction, which was reversed by the appellate court, which in turn was reversed by the Ohio Supreme Court.

Raimond was convicted in 1956 of receiving goods stolen from the store, but the verdict was overruled by the appellate court.

CUNNINGHAM was convicted in 1959 of attempting to bribe a city drugstore clerk who had been summoned as a prospective witness in the Burbick burglary trial in which he and Raimond were convicted, and Robert Carroll, another ex-officer, was acquitted.

Robert Hanna, former officer, was acquitted of a burglary of the Smith and Phillips Co. in the first trial held in 1956. Cunningham and Raimond were acquitted of an entering of the Berman Lumber Co. that same year.

Seven cases still are on the books, including enterings at the J. C. Penney Co., Pearl China Co., Duquesne Distributing Co., American Legion Post 4 and Winland Lumber Co.

flict in Southeast Asia and to urge that they cooperate in trying to prevent an outbreak of open warfare which could spread beyond South Viet Nam.

As the President discussed the Southeast Asian and Berlin situations in response to news conference questions, the impression grew among his hearers that he is grappling with the complex and interlocking problems of crises on two fronts.

Other administration officials said his decisions on Southeast Asia when Taylor returns can hardly be made without consideration of American force commitments and possible further needs in the East-West dispute over Berlin.

The President himself gave a universal significance to the problems of war and peace in today's world by referring to the destructive potential of any conflict that leads into the use of nuclear weapons.

"Our ambition is to protect our vital interests without a war," he said. "We happen to live in the most dangerous time in the history of the human race," he added. "We move through a period of maximum hazard."

He left no doubt that he intends to use every resource of diplomacy to minimize conflict and try to find peaceful solutions for disputes with the Sino-Soviet bloc.

Parking

"finishing touches" has been estimated at $6,000.

Mayor Bert H. Goodballet and Safety - Service Director Robert Owen, who comprise the Board of Control, officially rejected the $16,630 razing bid Tuesday. It had been filed by the Cleveland Wrecking Co. of Cincinnati.

The mayor said a new legal advertisement for bids has been issued in hopes more than one offer will be received and that as a result the city will obtain a more favorable price.

In any event, the board could not have accepted the Cincinnati firm's bid because it would have exceeded the amount provided by Council for the overall project.

The Chamber's committee is comprised of Edward Derr and Edwin Maloney, co - chairmen, Ralph A. Finley, Don Eckert and W. Leland Thompson.

With $45,000 already paid out for the building and $6,000 seen required for final work on the lot, the overall total of $65,000 would leave approximately $14,000 for the demolition cost.

The Chamber committee first approached Council in January with the idea of converting the Ceramic site into a parking facility. Later, its members joined in negotiations with the Tallman heirs that ended in cutting the selling price of the theater from $90,000 to $45,000.

Plans for the project were made public in March, when Solicitor Joseph W. Cooper announced to Council the Tallman heirs had signed an agreement to accept $45,000. The price covered the building alone, as heavy equipment and seats were sold out piecemeal before the city took possession.

mendations, a range beginning as low as 100 micro-microcuries a day for a year is indicated as a possible danger point that would require the most stringent kinds of control. The council stressed the hazard to small children of concentrations of iodine 131 in their diets, particularly in milk.

In the period Sept. 20-29, the health service said, the highest iodine measurements for each of the six cities were:

New Orleans, 530 micro-microcuries per liter (1.056 quarts) in milk collected on Sept. 25; Atlanta, 320, Sept. 25; Charleston, 270, Sept. 22; Jackson, Miss., 460, Sept. 27; Tampa, 140, Sept. 22, and St. Louis, 500, Sept. 27.

It will be patterned after the Dale Carnegie course for instructors. Application may be made through the Columbiana Boy Scout Council office or Robert Gray, district executive. Bennett Taylor Jr., council executive, will be in charge.

Robert Williams, Mrs. Thelma Headley and Mrs. Phil Garey were introduced as new roundtable members. Mrs. Jeanne Snow and Mrs. Doris Locke conducted handicraft sessions for den mothers.

Members of Pack 22 served refreshments. Members of Pack 25, assisted by Forrest McDonald and Richard McGeehan, presented a cub advancement ceremony.

The camping and activities committee will serve refreshments at the next roundtable Nov. 8 at the Y.

County VFW Sets Dinner For New Chaplain

Preliminary plans for a departmental and district banquet Nov. 11 honoring Fr. Warren Braun of Leetonia, national chaplain, were reported at a meeting of the Columbiana County Veterans of Foreign Wars Council Wednesday night at Columbiana Post 5532.

The event will be held at Leetonia. Lou Feldman of Pennsylvania, past national commander, will be guest speaker. A parade will be held. Emmett Daniels of Wellsville, county commander, and Carl Lamonche of Columbiana are heading the arrangements.

Fr. Braun reported on the national council meeting at Kansas City.

Harry Davidson of Dover, district inspecting officer, conducted an inspection. Frank Lawrence of Dover, district commander, was a guest.

A $10 donation was made toward the purchase of new colors for the district color guard. The council also voted to sponsor an issue of District Chatter, a newsletter.

The council endorsed Leroy Schell of Steubenville for national judge advocate at the 1962 election. Rex Rich, clerk of county commissioners and a past county commander, reported on new levies being sought by the commissioners for operating expenses to benefit the County Home.

Next meeting is Nov. 8 at Wellsville Post 5647.

It Isn't Easy For Britain

It sounds like something to have been expected when the British government tells Soviet Foreign Minister Andrei A. Gromyko it will back the United States in Berlin. But it isn't easy for Britain to make even an obvious commitment to favor anything that might help Germans.

No British government can lose sight of the popular British feeling that Germany is still the source of chief concern—that what happens to Berlin is relatively unimportant. Britons wouldn't fight for Berlin.

They wouldn't fight for West Germany, if it were a matter of free choice. In two wars Germans have done their best to destroy Britain, and their best was very good. They tried to destroy Britain with air power, first with zeppelins and cumbersome bombers, then with high-level bombers and missiles.

They did their best to cut out the heart of British manpower at Dunkirk. They precipitated World War II, as they had precipitated World War I, by treating British treatiest as scraps of paper and challenging British governments to defend their national honor.

At the climax of the events of the '30s, they brought Britain to shame by humiliating its prime minister with a betrayal at Munich. They collaborated with Ireland to make trouble for Britain and used Irish ports for submarine operations against British shipping.

Like the Russians, Britons and their public officials swallow hard when told about the necessity of doing thus and so in behalf of the Germans, whether East Germans or West Germans. Only Americans have the rare privilege of being able to forget completely what the Germans did in two wars to the countries they tried to obliterate and the hordes of people they killed in the process.

British Foreign Secretary Lord Home is reported to have told his fellow Conservatives at Brighton on Wednesday that the Western Allies at last have convinced Gromyko they will stand together against Russia keeping open the access routes to Berlin. The unmentioned triumph of Lord Home in this regard would be to convince his fellow Conservatives that Britain should lift a finger to defend its deadliest enemy of the past

Hup, Two, Three, Four—Halt!

If that fit-as-a-fiddle little lady named Bonnie Prudden who has been trying to improve the physical lot of her fellow Americans isn't watched, she will unload one more task on motherhood.

Mothers, she seems to be saying, are going to have to show more initiative in stepping up the physical fitness of their families. If this means anything, it means mothers will have to add systematic family exercises to their routine.

Mother will spring out of bed at 6 a.m. and do pushups before leaping into the kitchen to organize a good healthful breakfast. In the meantime she will have turned out her brood, including the chief brooder, and lined them up for toe-taps, swivel-hipping, neck-wobbling and biceps-flexing.

Who else but Mother will organize family play on Saturdays and Sundays, to develop underdeveloped bodies? Hup, two, three, four—off they'll go o'er brack and on fern—halt! Then for more pushups, leg-ups, trunk-ups, hands on hips, bend right, two, three, four, bend left, two, three, four. Then for a Boy Scout trot back to town—no automobile. Automobiles are for flabbies.

Mother will thrive on this, as she thrives on washing, ironing, sweeping, chauffeuring, gardening, bedmaking and her other casual chores. What with one thing and another—hup, two, three, four—Mother will be lithe as a goat, graceful as a panther, strong as a tiger and dumb as an ox if she lets herself in for being a drill sergeant on top of her duties as a maintenance man, short-order cook, decorator, laundress, psychiatrist, designer, librarian, car-pool superintendent, educational consultant, wife, mother, fishing companion and hostess. There isn't that much time in a day.

OHIO Isn't Mentioned Now

A fellow with a long memory was wondering what became of the pre-World War II threat of "OHIO"—Over the Hill in October. He said here we are again with a military buildup in progress and he hadn't heard about absences without leave.

By mid-October, most of the 155,300 National Guardsmen and Reservists called up since the Kennedy administration began to strengthen the armed forces will be on duty. Of 133,000 men to be ordered into the Army, nearly 120,000 already are on the job. Eighteen squadrons of Air Force reserves with 435 planes are on the job.

In every part of the country citizens are aware of other citizens who either have left or soon will leave for military duty. But it's a fact that all this has been done so far with a minimum of the joshing reflected in "Over the Hill in October"—and not all the joshing was funny. Americans didn't have their hearts in mobilization before World War II hit them. If the Japanese hadn't shocked them to action by attacking Pearl Harbor, mobilization would have been a difficult task.

This, too, should have bearing on whether or not the United States is developing the "credibility" to do what it has the "ability" to do if it thinks it must do it. There's no joshing at all in 1961.

Advance Notice

As a small reminder for the tri-state district's superstitious — self-confessed or secret—tomorrow will be Friday the Thirteenth, a time for beware and care.

To the so-called realists, the day of bewitchment should serve as notice that the true wing-ding season of goblins, Halloween, is but 17 days away, and some stocking up on treats is in order.

While reminding is on the docket, the goblins of all ages would do well to remember that Halloween falls on Oct. 31, and "trick or treating" is out of joint two and three days before.

Also, the traditional treat is a neighborhood thing, and not an excuse for district-wide excursions for handouts.

Even witches and goblins should "play the game."

We Only Died Once

You don't have to be a watch-bird or a worry-wart to know this is the time to put anti-freeze in the family car. Thanks to out great, good friends the advertisers, all the grim things that can happen to motorists who put this off are never far from our minds after Oct. 1.

This may lead in time to a more perfect world, assuming the world would be more perfect if all necessary things were done ahead of time. All furnaces would be repaired during July and August. All screens would be installed before the first fly was hatched. All storm windows would be securely in place before the first snowflake fell.

No one would run out of gas, butter, milk or clean shirts. But would such a world represent perfection if to achieve it we had to be scared into doing our duty?

Our anti-freeze is in. It isn't like the bad old days when we waited to freeze up, then put in the anti-freeze after unspeakable complications with the consequences of neglect. But is isn't necessarily better than the old days, because then we only died once.

Today, the idea is to make us die a little each time the horrible consequences of neglect are hammered home. Did you put in your anti-freeze, use hair oil, brush your teeth? It's like living with a nagging wife.

The Once Over

By H. I. Phillips

Department of Alcoholic Studies, begun at Yale 40 years ago by late Prof. Yandell Henderson, has been transferred to Rutgers. Maybe Yale figures that when a department has been studying cause and effect of drinking for nearly half-century without solving matter it ain't trying.

Eli began study of alcoholism away back when a college could afford to buy samples of American liquors. It was, in fact before four-to-one dry martini had completely changed American behavior patterns. Study started in prohibition days when all drinks were so mysterious they needed special research. Even prohibition beer had a strange effect on human beings.

Why Yale took on the job is not known, but it had big advantage due to fact it is a college in city center where saloon and cafe drinking are close at hand and can be studied without taxi fares. You can leave any laboratory at Yale and find a bar within two blocks if not across the street.

All colleges make a study of liquor to some extent, with the old grads helping supply special study material at football and reunion time. Today, however, no college can afford high cost of liquor samples, and national institute has provided a quarter million dollars to college which would take over job. (Rutgers won and chose the north goal with the wind at its back.)

Study from now on should include not only effects of liquor but problem of how anybody can afford to drink. If there are any ceremonials in transfer of study from Yale to Rutgers how about an Eli toast "Here's how" to Rutgers, with Whiffenpoofs singing "Sweet Adeline"?

Something Called A 'Trojan Troika'

By Victor Riesel

When cane-carrying Mike Quill, looking dapper enough to have come off Park Ave. instead of out of the subways, swung into the lobby of the Hotel Commodore in New York, he reached for a belly laugh. "I'm not so clean myself," said he, "so why should I oppose the Teamsters?" But he did not know the contents of the Treasury's Internal Revenue Service (IRS) Docket No. 94,562. Otherwise "Mike" might not have been so free swinging with his comparisons as he joined 150 other national labor chiefs in their high command session.

Victor Riesel

Docket 94,562 is the packet containing the financial records of Jimmy Hoffa's intimate friend, Joey Glimco, slugger par excellence, and boss of many a Chicago Teamster local.

Joey G. comes by this power understandably — what with a record of at least 22 arrests ranging from charges of murder to charges of disorderly conduct.

THERE ALSO IS a conviction for larceny. But that is not in the docket. In it are the Treasury Department's charges that Glimco owes the government at least some $145,000.

Glimco, an officer and business representative of Taxicab Drivers, Maintenance and Garage Helpers Union, International Brotherhood of Teamsters, Local 777 is beind dunned by the government for some $95,600 in "deficiencies" and some $49,500 in penalties. This is on money drawn from the union.

It isn't only the Glimco docket which should fascinate the Quill contingent. There are six other inter-related dockets. They are now in the U.S. Tax Court.

Among these seven is a docket for union Local 777 itself. The rest are the charges against five other officers.

The union itself is charged with owing the government some $94,000 for taxes due in 1956, and for 1957 some $121,380.

That's right. The union has just been denied tax-exempt status retroactive to 1956.

MARK THIS WELL. This means that the Internal Revenue Service is charging that this local is not a union, but, in effect, is run for the benefit of one or more private persons.

This means that the union's income can be taxed just as if it were a corporation. Thus, if the union's income is less than $25,000 a year, the tax would run about 30 per cent. If the income is higher — and which of the Teamster locals is not! — the tax runs to 52 per cent of the monies collected.

Of course, the union is protesting in tax court that it has been a bona fide labor union organized since 1941. But the tax court judges may reject this. And this decision may be upheld by a court of appeals. There could be a crack at the Supreme Court. But this is not likely.

IF THE COURTS uphold the Internal Revenue Service, a precedent will have been set. Unions not meeting the standards of Internal Revenue could be subject to millions of dollars in taxation —just as any business.

If such a precedent is set, the responsibility will rest on those who mulcted unions — and not on those who were mocked for battling the looters.

This is not a campaign against unions by the Treasury Department. It is part of the methodical review of strategy between high Treasury officials and Attorney General Robert Kennedy. It goes deeper than the locals themselves.

Glimco and five of his colleagues in arms have been denied by the IRS the right to charge off as legitimate expenses such items as the cost of running their cars, unexplained tabs, hotel expenses and money drawn for the 1957 Teamsters convention in Miami Beach. IRS has also insisted that "Christmas money" be counted as income.

THIS "CHRISTMAS MONEY," for example, ran from $500 to $2,500-a-year. The hotel tabs for Glimco ran at the Oak Park Arms Hotel in Oak Park, Ill., for instance, from $474 to $2,557-a-year.

The Treasury went back to 1954. It could dig further. But the test is for '54 through '57. During these years, for example, IRS says that Glimco forgot to add from $30,921 to $47,220 to his annual take.

This is just the beginning. It is fair that it be determined which union is of the working people and which is created to see how much can be taken from these working people.

Mr. Quill had better check his enthusiasms until the courts decide.

Purely Personal

By Truman Twill

Like the man said, you can't stay in a state of emergency indefinitely. The Berlin Crisis now is the Berlin Situation—and give it a few more months to simmer down and no one will remember how things were before the Wall.

Unaccustomed as I am to "samples," my gratitude for a "stadium seat" delivered after I'd inquired why somebody didn't make 'em (on the order of boat seats) was deep and warm. I took the "sample" to my annual out-of-town game and used it for three and one-half quarters. The lady I go to football games used it the rest of the time. She raved about it, too.

I cannot remember when any autumn has produced so many perfect days back to back as have been enjoyed so far in the first half of October this year.

It is the conviction of everybody I've ever sounded out on this that if personalities could be kept from clashing, our complex enterprises could accomplish miracles that are now beyond our wildest dreams.

I am impressed by the statistical evidence that unionism is past its peak in this country, though I always have thought its peak was higher than it ever could have been without the artificial help it received from laws tailored to a particular situation in the '30s and later in World War II.

If politicians wonder what will happen to them if they go too far, they should read up on recent French history, to see how Charles De Gaulle knocked political heads together with the approval of Frenchmen sick of politics for its own sake.

As the owner-driver of a well-known economy automobile, I am still waiting for statistics that will bear out something I believe to be true—that per million miles traveled in the United States, the safest auto transportation is in small, low-powered automobiles.

I wince when Andrei Gromyko speaks fluent English in interviews in the United States because Dean Rusk, as far as I know, couldn't inquire for directions to the nearest bus stop in Russian.

I wish the people who quote J. Edgar Hoover about Communism would quote him about one kind of anti-Communism that scares me worse than Communism. Persons who hook up with this kind of extremism, says the FBI director, would do well to recall a recent lesson from history: "Both Hitler and Mussolini were against Communism."

Nothing infuriates me like a public official who criticizes taxpayers for not paying enough, though the taxpayer has been sweating it out all his life. I wrote off the new secretary of health, education and welfare—whatshisname—when he chided people like me for not paying enough for education. No official in his right mind would do such a fool thing.

The thing most baffling about foldups like the Cincinnati Reds against the New York Yankees is the fact they're psychological, not mechanical. Many of the Cincinnati players, if they wore Yankee uniforms, would be stars. Many who have switched to Yankee uniforms have been transformed.

Want to know what the point of diminishing return is? It's what happens when the price of gasoline is jacked up so high by taxation that users buy economical cars, which accounts for a drop of nearly one-half of one per cent in Ohio in the latest fiscal year. This is what caused small automobiles to become popular in Europe, where gasoline costs up to 75 cents a gallon.

I swallow hard when I read that Europeans will be coming to the United States as tourists. I can imagine what will happen when an Englishman asks for warm beer in an American pub.

Soviet Blackmail

By David Lawrence

West Should Use Pressure Upon Russia

America and the West today are negotiating with the Soviet Union under duress. What is even more unfortunate is that Nikita Khrushchev controls the duress. He can threaten a war and yet never intend to start a war. His adversaries seem to be at his mercy.

David Lawrence

Is that the position in which anyone should ever find himself at a bargaining table?

This question has aroused a good many people, inside and outside government, to say to President Kennedy that the United States government and its allies must produce some leverage.

They must have something so powerful to use — other than nuclear war — that the Soviet premier will not wish to continue his blackmail tactics.

What leverage is there available? There have been, for example, suggestions that a definite plan for economic blockade should be made and announced.

There have been suggestions also that a plan to cut off all financial dealings between the East and West should also be fully developed and announced. The severance of diplomatic relations is still another possibility.

Matters of this kind have been considered by the Western governments but unhappily the public knows very little about them — nor do the Soviets.

There seems to be a feeling in Washington that the situation must not be aggravated and that nothing must be done to offend the sensibilities of the men in the Kremlin lest they start a war.

These are the arguments, however, of the weak and the craven. The President is being told day in and day out by various advisers just how he can surrender.

One suggestion is that the West should give up its present occupation rights in West Berlin and share their zones with the Soviets. The plan also contemplates a camouflage — locating some United Nations activities in West Berlin as a sort of cover for the surrender by the West.

All this might confuse many Americans and even satisfy pacifist sentiment, but it would not be lost on Moscow.

The meaning of the concessions at Munich in 1938 was not lost on Hitler. Many who felt in 1938 that Munich meant "peace in our time" discovered their error a few weeks later.

UNFAMILIARITY with the cult of evil men who take over governments may result in misconceptions once — but the world should not be misled again by a dictator's tactics.

The behavior of Nikita Khrushchev and his messenger boy — Andrei Gromyko— should not be misunderstood.

The Communists are out to get all they can — short of war. They may well reason that there is no need to engage in a war if they can get what they want without a war.

The Kremlin stands to lose nothing out of the Berlin crisis. It stands ready to grab something. It has already sealed off East Berlin and says that West Berlin can be "free" when it is internationalized and Soviet troops are stationed there to guard the western sector along with the Allies.

East Berlin, however, would be retained by East Germany for its capital, and the Allies would have to stay out. This would be surrender with a capital "S" no matter how many euphemisms are employed to make it appear to be a reasonable settlement.

Certainly if the Soviets stand to lose nothing, they will increase their demands and will press them to the utmost.

THE WEST is losing out because it will not use its leverage. It can mobilize the opinion of the whole world but hesitates to do so.

Soviet Russia is a nation of 200 million prisoners. The Communist bloc has many millions more.

Does any high official in the West dare even to make a speech urging the peoples behind the Iron Curtain to throw off their yoke? Are they told of the advantages to them from an economic standpoint if they become free nations?

Is there such a thing as a leadership that is "bold and imaginative"?

This is a phrase our so-called liberals employ so often in discussing domestic matters, but it seems even more apropros in foreign policy.

If Russia loses nothing by threatening war, the world will be kept in a perpetual crisis for years. If the West truly organizes a quarantine to cut off the Communist bloc — and withholds aid from the non-aligned countries unless they, too, join in the quarantine — the mere statement of such a plan would cause hesitation in the Kremlin and incite the peoples behind the Iron Curtain to an unrest that the Communist leaders would be anxious to quell. At least it's a form of unused leverage.

Czechoslovak Wall

Red Guards Watch Border

MIKULOV, CZECHOSLOVAKIA

The Berlin wall is only the most recent of the barriers sealing the Communist empire.

Here, beneath the shadow of a medieval castle, in gently rolling farmland, is another just as dour. In wooden watchtowers soldiers have machine guns aimed not at neighboring Austria but at Czechoslavakia itself. A strip of plowed land about 25 feet wide gives gunners a clear field of fire at any seeking to leave Czechoslovakia.

Sown in this plowed land are not grain but land mines. Inside are three rows of electrified barbed wire.

THIS IS NO product of Western anti-Communist imagination. It is, one must believe, an accurate appraisal by the Czechoslovak authorities of what is needed to keep their people home.

The official explanation is that it is intended to keep out Western "spies and saboteurs" and it no doubt could do this too.

One realizes the sharp contrast driving across the formidable barrier on the way to Moscow from Italy.

The Austrian customs station was a strictly civilian operation without a gun in sight, cornfields and vineyards all around. There was quick inspection of passports and car documents, a matter of a minute or two, before exit from Austria was permitted.

Then came the 500-yard drive across no-man's-land.

The cumbersome formalities mean you have left the Western world. You count out currency.

"No, we have no camera."

"The only radio we have is the one built in the car."

"What's in this bag?"

"Open up the motor."

Then a suspicious waving on into the brilliantly sunlit countryside. It has rich farmlands, lovely villages and immaculate cities. The chief impression is of well-kept houses, gleaming with fresh paint, of flower beds around each one, of new well designed and well built apartment houses, of busy factories and a laughing people.

OF ALL THE peoples in the Communist world, the Czechs look and act most like Western Europeans. The women have the latest hair styles and the latest clothes. Men in the street of Brno would fit just as easily into Vienna or Frankfurt.

The roads are crowded with vacationers in their own cars, with young couples off to the country on motor bikes and scooters.

Everywhere there are efficient, fully equipped bright red and yellow service stations—almost the only Western-style ones behind the Iron Curtain. There isn't a "peace and friendship" or "long live Communism" sign to be seen.

If it weren't for that border, if it weren't for the speeches of the leaders and the dictorial decrees, you wouldn't tell present day Czechoslovakia from present day Western civilization.

Ancient City

JERUSALEM, Israel

Remains of an ancient Israelite settlement dating to King David's time 3000 years ago have been uncovered near the Ein Gev settlement on the Eastern shore of the Sea of Galilee.

The discovery was made this month by an expedition that had been digging in the region for three days.

The site was reported to be about 150 yards from the sea shore and to be yielding a rich treasure of religious artifacts and other relics.

The site is not far from that of the ancient Byzantine city of Sussita. The architecture of the settlement was described as typical of previous finds dating to about the Tenth Century B.C.

Name of the settlement, which was said to lie astride the ancient caravan route to Damascus, was not known. It was believed to have been destroyed by the Assyrian invasion of the Eighth Century.

Burglary

ter barracks of the Pennsylvania State Police were notified.

Pennsylvania State police said two other stations of the Highway Oil Co. were burglarized last night — one on Route 30, near the West Virginia state line, and the other on Route 51, the Salem-Unity Rd., near East Palestine.

At the Route 30 station, Walter Cooper, manager, said the station closed about 11 last night and the burglary was discovered at 8:15 a. m. today. The safe there was broken open and an unspecified amount of money taken. The thieves broke through the wall to gain entrance.

Peebles, manager of the station near Midland, was taken to City Hospital about 9:40 a. m. with spasms near the heart, his wife said, after learning other stations of the company were also broken into last night.

Model Of New Road Displayed At City Hall

A three-dimensional scale model of the new California Hollow-West End Freeway as it will look when completed was placed on display Wednesday afternoon at City Hall.

Furnished by the State Highway Department, the model was put on display in the main corridor of the building, just outside Mayor Bert H. Goodballet's office.

The model shows the new road's path through the city, particularly detailing the series of ramps at an interchange at the point where it crosses W. 8th St. To help orient the viewer, the model includes various West End landmarks such as City Hospital, Westgate School and the sewage treatment plant.

Less Travel On Pike Cited In September

CLEVELAND (AP) — There were 1,222,596 passenger cars and trucks traveling on the Ohio Turnpike during September—or 28,405 less than the same month a year ago—the turnpike commission reported today.

For the first nine months of this year, 9,764,465 vehicles used the toll road, compared with 9,939,491 for the three quarters of 1960.

Toll revenue also was slightly below last year's figures. For September, the turnpike had receipts from tolls of $1,936,289, compared with $1,992,547 for the same month in 1960. The nine-month period produced tolls of $15,293,145 — or $545,544 below a year ago.

High Rise Garden

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Preparing a garden was a long haul for James M. Smith and his wife.

The garden is on the roof of a 38-room apartment building which Smith owns. He and his wife carried 10 tons of earth up a fire escape to plant the garden.

Declaring "we move through a period of maximum hazard," he ticked off steps his administration has taken in an effort to build up the country's nuclear and conventional forces. That buildup has dashed hope for a tax cut next year, he said. The government still aims for a balanced budget—an aim he said is threatened only by further demands for defense spending.

Kennedy made no promise against a tax increase but said he wouldn't want to saddle the country with a tax burden that would strangle its economic resources.

Asked if he was disturbed by Republican criticism of his foreign policy — criticism in which former President Dwight D. Eisenhower has participated — Kennedy said "everyone is free to make any attacks they want." He would prefer constructive suggestions, Kennedy said, "but I would never suggest that the battle of the mimeograph machines between the Republican committee and the Democratic committee should cease."

Kennedy classified the Gromyko talks as illuminating and said Ambassador Llewellyn Thompson would continue the exchanges in Moscow.

an auto driven by Kathleen Kraft of Fisher Park, police said.

First reports said the auto emerged from former Chestnut St., a detour being used during the freeway construction, and was involved in the crash with the ambulance, which was headed east on W. 8th St.

The ambulance was taking Mrs. Edward Welch, 1609 Lincoln Ave., Wellsville, to City Hospital for treatment for injuries suffered in a fall down steps at home. She suffered a cut head and bruised shoulder.

In the ambulance with Mrs. Welch were her mother, Mrs. Alice Faris, 605 17th St., Wellsville, and her sister, Lex Rebecca Faris. Mrs. Faris said they were shaken up in the crash. Mrs. Welch was admitted to the hospital for further treatment.

Police said no one was hurt in the collision. An East Liverpool ambulance was summoned to continue the trip to City Hospital with the injured woman after the Haugh ambulance was involved in the collision.

The pedestrian was hurt about 10 a. m. and the crash in West End came a short time later. Shortly before noon, the West End accident still was under investigation.

10 Red Police Hunt Defector In West Berlin

BERLIN (AP)—Ten East Berlin police invaded West Berlin territory today hunting for a defecting comrade, West police reported.

When West police rushed to the scene, the East police retreated behind the barbed wire barrier into their own sector.

The incident, regarded by the Western authorities as a serious border violation, occurred at 3 a.m.

West police said the Vopos—as the East police are dubbed by West Berliners — were evidently searching for one of four of their comrades who fled to the West during the night.

The raid took place near the elevated railroad station Wilhelmsruh, on the northern part of the French sector border.

The East police blocked civilian traffic Wednesday night for an hour at the Friedrich Strasse crossing point, the only one available for foreigners.

All traffic both ways was held up until a loudspeaker truck operated by the West Berlin city government stopped broadcasting a program of news and commentary to the East.

Clyde Tschantz, Lisbon realtor, opened the Vallandigham homestead along W. Lincoln Way, which is now for sale.

Brief business was held at the museum and plans were made to have a guest speaker at the meeting next month.

An East Palestine area man was charged with drunken driving after his car hit a utility pole on Route 14 Wednesday night, one of three area mishaps reported yesterday by the Ohio Highway Patrol at Lisbon.

Leslie Juillerat, 49, of East Palestine R. D. 1 made a left turn from Route 14 north onto Route 170 near Unity, and his car veered into a utility pole about 11:15 p. m.

Juillerat, who was unhurt, was charged with driving while intoxicated. His car received minor damage, officers said.

Moderate damage was reported to a car driven by Leoti Lillian Romigh, 54, of Homeworth R. D. 1, and a pickup truck operated by Frederick William Bansberg, 57, of Homeworth R. D. 1 on County Rd. 401 north of Homeworth, which collided yesterday.

Bansberg attempted to pass the auto as the woman made a left turn.

Lela Gertrude Devall, 48, of Beloit R. D. was cited for failure to stop in the assured clear distance after her car hit the rear of one operated by Gilbert Bamer, 36, of Alliance R. D. on Township Rd. 801 near Homeworth.

Bamer had stopped suddenly to avoid hitting a small child who ran onto the road, officers said.

City Pair Nabbed On Assault Case In West Virginia

An East Liverpool couple wanted for felonious assault on an elderly Parkersburg man was taken into custody Wednesday afternoon by Capt. Robert Pyle and Patrolman Charles A. Winters on a warrant from the Wood County sheriff's office.

Police identified the pair as Lija Jack Farnsworth and Mary Potts Reese, who sometimes uses the last name Farnsworth. Waiving extradition to West Virginia, they were taken to the County Jail at Lisbon, where Wood County sheriff's deputies are scheduled to take custody today.

The East Liverpool officers arrested the pair on Shadyside Ave., acting on a telegram received Monday afternoon from Wood County authorities. Police said the couple's last known local address was on a houseboat near the Newell Bridge.

Police said Parkersburg authorities alleged the pair assaulted an elderly man with a hatchet or an ax. Farnsworth admitted the assault, but said he struck the man only with his fists, police said.

Ship Strike Settled After Two Weeks

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—A two-week deck officers strike that idled 44 ships along the West Coast has ended.

Spokesmen for the Masters, Mates and Pilots Union and for the shipowners, represented by the Pacific Maritime Association, credited U.S. Undersecretary of Labor Willard Wirtz with bringing the two sides together.

Wirtz called it a compromise. Neither side seemed very happy with the settlement.

The union voted 335-252 to return to work today. The three-year contract still is subject to a referendum of the union membership.

Most of the ships idled were not expected to sail until Friday because today is Columbus Day.

Both sides agreed to negotiate further on six issues, including such key items as pension plan revisions and establishment of a mechanization fund.

The deck officers reportedly asked a 15 per cent increase and a one-year contract while the shipowners offered an 11 per cent increase in a four-year contract. Current pay and fringes range from $14,000 to $27,500 a year.

Spreading of work was a principal result of Wednesday's agreement. Masters will get 90 days vacation a year, an increase of 20 days. Relief crews will be hired out of union halls, instead of from smaller ships. Casual workers, who had been getting no vacation, will get five days of vacation a month.

Port relief officers and ships officers will receive $3.89 an hour for night relief work in U.S. ports whether or not cargo is involved.

No other wage figures were announced.

Health and welfare payments for each man will be increased from 50 cents to $1.15 per day.

Salvation Army Services Varied

Distributing dolls and toys at Christmas to area youngsters, who aren't on Santa's list, is just one of the varied year-around services of the Salvation Army, one of the agencies sharing in Community Fund proceeds. This first of six articles on participating agencies discusses the "Army's" service to the community.

Working out of the citadel at 109 West 3rd St. is a group of only 32 uniformed volunteers yet they have provided aid and comfort to more than 100 times their own number.

Some 584 families in East Liverpool, 64 in Wellsville, 17 in Chester and Newell, 16 in Salineville and another 139 families in nearby suburban areas, a total of 820 families, each with an average of four persons, have received aid from the Salvation Army in the past year.

This family service program takes many forms. Sometimes, clothing is needed, perhaps food for hungry children, coal or other fuel to warm the aged, another will need transportation in seeking medical care, and many seek wise counseling on a multitude of family problems.

The Salvation Army's spiritual and social welfare ministry goes further than extending the "helping hand" to those who are down. In the youth program, more than 600 meetings for young people have been held in the past year. These events include recreational, educational, religious and character - building activities. In addition, 28 children and 29 adults from the area participated in the Salvation Army's camp program this last summer.

The Salvation Army works diligently, too, to restore the criminal to the habits of responsible living. Representatives conducted 64 religious services in local and County Jails, bringing a spiritual message to more than 800 prisoners.

The "Army's" "League of Mercy" volunteers have devoted nearly 400 hours to visiting the sick and the aged in area hospitals and nursing homes. Through this program they visited nearly 2,400 patients, taking them small gifts, or reading materials, and offering spiritual comfort through conducted religious services.

Members of the armed forces are not forgotten. Nearly 150 inductees have been given "send-off" kits this year.

In another phase, 641 transients were given assistance in the form of meals, lodging, travel expense, or clothing.

Besides these direct community services, regional facilities of the Salvation Army are also available to meet local needs.

Among these are the Men's Social Service Centers, where homeless men have an opportunity to reclaim their lives. There are homes for unwed mothers and Harbor Light Centers where the alcoholic can and get help with his problem.

When help is needed in locating a missing relative or friend, local officers can call on the resources of the Army's Missing Persons Bureau.

Young women from this area, going to large metropolitan centers to find jobs, to further their studies, or to embark on careers, find home-like accommodations in the Evangeline residences, women's clubs the Salvation Army maintains in all big cities.

Just a little more than a third of the Salvation Army's annual budget is provided through the Community Fund campaign. The other two-thirds must be raised somehow by the salvationists themselves.

Volcano-Stricken Population Saved, Sailing To New Site

CAPE TOWN, South Africa (AP) — The entire population of volcano-stricken Tristan da Cunha sailed sadly toward the 20th century today.

The Dutch liner Tsisadane Wednesday night rescued the 260 men, women and children who had fled the island for refuge on nearby Nightingale Island, an uninhabited rock, after Tristan was shaken by earthquakes and volcanic eruptions.

The liner is expected at Cape Town Tuesday.

The Tristanians wept on bidding farewell to their primitive homeland in the South Atlantic where they have lived an 18th century existence virtually cut off from the rest of the world.

An official of the British Embassy in Pretoria is flying here to arrange for the transportation of the islanders to England. Only about a dozen of the islanders had ever left Tristan before; the rest have never seen a train, automobile or town.

Officials said it would not be safe for anyone to touch foot on the island until at least 10 days after the eruptions end.

There was some doubt whether the 42-square mile island—covered mostly by a 7,640-foot volcano—ever would be habitable again.

GIs GUARDING WEST BERLIN

West Berlin's 5,000 G. I.'s make up the only sizable American military unit behind the Iron Curtain, a living pledge of U. S. readiness to defend the city despite the immensely superior Communist forces that surround it.

Berlin is 110 miles from the border of the West German federal republic, where the nearest American bases are. The countryside in between is held by many divisions of Soviet and East German Communist troops. U. S. strength in Berlin consists of just two infantry battle groups, a single tank company and housekeeping units at Tempelhof Air Base. British and French allies have an additional 6,000 men.

Training in Berlin is keyed especially to how battles are fought in cities. Troops also do a lot of practice on controlling riots, with a view to helping West Berlin police if the Communists should try to take over by mob action.

None of this makes the life of American soldiers in Berlin particularly grim. On the contrary, it's an agreeable town and the post is much sought after.

About 1,500 men have wives with them, and their families average more than two children. The army has built attractive apartments that accommodate nearly all. Officers with the rank of major and above—several hundred of them—get private houses or duplex apartments.

The army and air force maintain four American movie houses, and a full set of shops, clubs and sports fields. There is a golf course, and swimming and boating on Berlin's lakes.

Sgt. Stanley Thornburgh of Denton, Ky., uses rope to climb up wall of house during training in dummy village.

With foot on buddy's shoulder, a G. I. climbs through window during combat practice in dummy village built by U. S. Army near sector border of West Berlin.

SOLDIERS of the U. S. West Berlin unit carry the Stars and Stripes on way to parade ground.

An off-duty task, but a pleasant one. SP4 Class David Gardener of San Mateo, Calif., feeds his five-month-old son, Igor, while his Berlin-born wife, Ingrid, looks on.

Health Experts Warn Flu Season Is Near

By The Associated Press

What to do if you get the flu, how throat swabs may help stop some heart disease, and a new aid for heart surgeons are subjects for Focus on Health:

Flu This Fall?

Health experts warn another flu season approaches. While the chance of an epidemic cannot be predicted, certain protective measures can be taken. Pregnant women, the elderly and people with chronic diseases should be vaccinated.

Here are other suggestions from the Connecticut State Department of Health:

Stay away from sick people. If flu breaks out, keep away from crowds. Be sure to wash your hands well before eating — and don't use glasses or other utensils that others have used. Get plenty of sleep. Avoid being chilled. If you do get sick, call your doctor and go to bed—for your good and the good of others.

Medical Messenger

A new attack against rheumatic fever and rheumatic heart disease involves the Post Office Department.

Chicago doctors are getting throat swab kits suitable for mailing as the latest aid to diagnosing the disease that brings on rheumatic fever. Caught in the early stages it can be cured.

A type of streptococcus germ sets the stage for rheumatic fever. Doctors will be able to take a throat swab from a sick patient, seal it in an envelope and mail it to a laboratory where the type of germ can be identified.

If the specimen is the dangerous kind, the doctor can find out quickly before rheumatic fever has a chance to develop. The mail-in system was devised by the Chicago Heart Association and Board of Health.

Heartbeat Trigger

In the heart there is a critical bundle of nerves which controls the heartbeat.

Some children are born with defective hearts. For surgeons trying to repair those hearts, the heartbeat center is often a hazard.

An operation in which surgeons try to mend a hole between two chambers of the heart comes dangerously close to the heartbeat trigger. Injury occurs in perhaps 10 per cent of these operations and may lead to death.

Now a new electronic instrument can exactly locate the center in a matter of minutes. Developed at the Children's Hospital Medical Center, Boston the device is expected to completely eliminate the possibility that the heartbeat trigger will be injured during open heart surgery.

Commercial Space Flights Could Be Reality By 1975

By ALTON BLAKESLEE
Associated Press Science Writer

NEW YORK (AP)—If your children are eager to go rocketing into space, tell them to start saving their money.

Commercial manned space flights could be a reality by 1975-80, a space researcher predicted today.

Space transportation techniques are expected to develop rapidly in the next 20 years, greatly reducing the cost of a round-trip from earth into an orbit, or to the moon, said H. H. Koelle of the George E. Marshall Space Flight Center at Huntsville, Ala.

This could be the timetable, Koelle told the space flight report to the nation sponsored by the American Rocket Society:

Large, orbiting space stations carrying men in 1968-69.

A permanent, manned station on the moon, 1970.

A lunar settlement by 1975.

Manned expeditions to other planets starting in the 1972-74 period.

Round-trips from earth to low latitude orbits involving 5,000 men every year by 1975. Several men would be involved in each trip.

About 500 annual man round-trips from earth to moon by 1975.

Commercial manned space flights developing in the 1975-80 period.

"It will be witnessed by the middle-aged generation of today, with the younger generation of today taking an active part in it," Koelle suggested.

His prepared paper did not estimate the cost of the round-trip ticket into orbital flight or to the moon.

A total of 52 first grade pupils were given physical examinations at the Calcutta School Tuesday, according to Dr. C. S. Palmer, county health commissioner.

Four immunizations, four polio shots and two vaccinations were given.

The next first grade physical will be given at Knox Local School Friday.

Monday, the Health Department staff will begin tuberculosis tests, the first being Lisbon seniors and eighth graders, Dr. Palmer said.

Hancock Residents Cautioned On Fires

Hancock County residents have been reminded to use caution in outdoor burning during the West Virginia forest fire season which opened Oct. 1 and continues through Dec. 31.

Oliver Johnson, county agricultural agent, said all burning in the first season must be done between 5 p. m. and 5 a. m.

"If any burning during the permissible hours results in damage to another's property, this shall be considered evidence that the burning was not safe, and was in violation of the state forest fire law," Johnson said.

Red Congress Opens Tuesday

Nervous Strain Indicated In Ranks Of Communists

Soviet policy under Nikita Khrushchev appears to be riding high, but the Communist chief has plenty of headaches, at home and in the world Communist camp outside the U.S.S.R. Some of these problems are likely to become evident during the 22nd Soviet Communist party congress which opens in Moscow next week. In the following article, AP News Analyst William L. Ryan outlines some of the problems and gives some of the background on what the congress is.

By WILLIAM L. RYAN
Associated Press News Analyst

The Soviet Communist party opens its 22nd congress Tuesday. Intensive propaganda promises it will mark the beginning of a march to Communist world supremacy. To dramatize Communist prospects, the Kremlin may even time a new spectacular space shot for the congress opening.

Despite the showmanship, there are in the background suspicious signs of nervous strain in Soviet party and world Communist ranks.

Premier Khrushchev, first secretary and party chief, promises the congress will be a turning point. It will consider a 20-year program to build the "base" of communism. Theoretically, the U.S.S.R. has built "socialism." Communism, implying promise of abundance, is many years away.

Party congresses in their 63 years of history often have been billed as momentous turning points. Many have cloaked internal struggled. In recent years congresses provided—as the 22nd will—platforms to consider problems and strategy.

What is the party congress?

The congress supposedly is the party's ruling body, to which the central committee and its directing presidium are responsible. Required to meet once every three years, it is made up of functionaries from major political subdivisions of the U.S.S.R. It is supposed to hear and pass on programs of the central committee and party presidium, amend programs and statutes, fix tactical lines on fundamental policy questions and elect various party leaders.

Actually it does none of this, instead merely applies the automatic stamp of approval. The congress is window-dressing for a claim to democracy. Under Stalin the dictator's hand-picked politburo was the law. Under Khrushchev, the key body appears to be the central committee, where his own political machine has been strong enough to outmaneuver his enemies in the past.

The 20th congress in 1956 rocked world communism. Khrushchev, by then clearly the boss, denounced the dead Stalin as a murderer and egomaniac.

Early in 1959, with a Berlin crisis fading away, the 21st congress ostensibly was concerned with approving a seven-year economic plan. Actually it cloaked a world strategy meeting. By then the problem of the balky Red Chinese was much in evidence. Despite Chinese resistance, the congress was forerunner of the intense peace offensive that brought Khrushchev to the United States for a visit to President Eisenhower.

Since then Khrushchev has turned truculet again—perhaps because of pressure, perhaps even because his leadership was at stake. He turned back to the brink of war policy practiced by Stalin in attempts to push communism forward by violent aggressiveness.

Khrushchev had stood for the notion that the U.S.S.R. could so build its economy that its political and economic drives would make communism invincible in the world without the risk of nuclear war. It was a cautious policy.

But while a half dozen years of supremacy by Khrushchev made headway for communism with the economic and political infiltration in many areas, Soviet Communists added no new slices of real estate to the empire. Indeed, in some respects, they experienced losses.

For hard-shell Stalinists, the world revolution moved too slowly. Communists were set back in the Middle East, notably in Iraq. Moscow quarreled with Gamal Abdel Nasser, spokesman for Arab nationalism. Communism was hesitant about pushing ahead in Indochina. It was plagued by ideological bickering with Yugoslav Communists on one hand and Chinese on the other. It made no headway in economically flourishing Europe. It gained Cuba, but that was dumped in its lap and was by no means reliable or secure.

Inside the Communist world there were political and economic strains. Attempts to integrate the European Red bloc economies brought problems to individual Communist governments.

There were strains in the U.S.S.R. itself. Party propaganda makes no bones about the fact that "building communism" will mean many more years of labor for a people impatient to share in riches now poured into heavy industry to build world power.

All in all, Khrushchev goes to the congress with a raft of troubles. Signs indicate he can ride them out, but in all likelihood he will have to make compromises to do so.

'College Day' Sessions Set At Chester, Newell Schools

Matriculation fees, sororities and fraternities, and the excitement of campus life are probably dominant thoughts this week of Chester and Newell high school students in anticipation of "College Day" observance Monday.

Representatives of 13 West Virginia colleges will furnish information on choosing a career, enrollment fees and other aspects of higher education in discussion groups with Chester and Newell pupils Monday afternoon at Wells High School in Newell.

This will be the first "College Day" event for the two schools in northern Hancock County. One was held previously for Weirton students.

Forty-seven students from Chester High and 55 from Wells have registered for interviews and discussions with the college representatives.

Principal E. Russell Slack of Wells High said discussions with the college representatives and Chester students will be held from 1 to 2:20. Newell students will meet with the college officials from 2:20 to 4 in the auditorium.

Acting as counselors, the college officials will discuss entrance requirements, costs of room and board and books, areas in which to seek degrees and other questions.

Parents have been invited to attend and discuss their questions with the representatives.

The delegation will include Elmer W. Bostow of Alderson - Broaddus College, Robert A. Sandercox of Bethany, Dr. Ralph E. Kirkman of Concord, Arthur F. Southwick of Davis & Elkins.

Robert Melott of Marshall, William J. Briggs of Morris Harvey, President E. E. Church of Potomac State, Dr. Joseph A. Bartell of West Liberty, Koester Colville of West Virginia Institute of Technology.

A. D. Longhouse of West Virginia University, Mrs. Kent Kessler of West Virginia Wesleyan, John R. Linke of Wheeling College and James B. Weaver of Salem College.

The committee of Wells High faculty members who have worked with Principal Slack in arranging the "College Day" includes Mrs. Jean George, Mrs. Janet Houk, John Robison and Mrs. Ruth Shilling.

Weygandt Issues Writ In Test Of Schools Quotas

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — A case testing the right of the state to set up quotas on admissions to the industrial schools in Lancaster and Delaware got under way Wednesday in the Ohio Supreme Court.

Chief Justice Carl V. Weygandt issued an alternative writ of mandamus requiring Mental Hygiene Director Robert A. Haines to admit a 16-year-old Cincinnati youth to the Boys Industrial School or, by Oct. 25, say why he should not be compelled to do so.

Hamilton County Juvenile Court Judge Benjamin Schwartz brought his suit after Haines said an Aug. 15 freeze on admissions to the industrial schools prevented acceptance of the youth.

Asst. County Prosecutor R. O. Lilley obtained the alternative writ at an informal conference with the chief justice over objections of Theodore R. Saker, first assistant attorney general who represented Haines.

Saker contended statutes created in the department of mental health and correction specifically provide discretion for admitting and discharging inmates of the two schools. He said the freeze, recently lifted at the girls' school near Delaware, was made to relieve overcrowding.

Gov. Michael V. DiSalle ordered the freeze.

At the time of the freeze, a quota system was established, whereby counties could commit juvenile delinquents on the basis of population and other factors as industrial school vacancies permitted.

State Auditor Honored By Cleveland Club

CLEVELAND (AP)—State Auditor James A. Rhodes was named the Ripon Club's "man of the year" Wednesday night, but he sidestepped questions on his availability as a candidate for governor in 1962.

When newsmen asked Rhodes whether he would be a gubernatorial candidate, he replied: "No comment."

State Republican Chairman Ray C. Bliss, asked how he felt about Rhodes as a candidate for governor, answered: "I speak for the Republican Party and that organization has made no endorsement yet."

More than 2,500 Republicans paid $10 a plate to see Rhodes receive an engraved tray symbolizing his selection as the club's award winner.

Rites To Be Saturday For AP Writer, 48

PITTSBURGH (AP) — Funeral services will be held Saturday for Gilbert P. Staley, correspondent for the Associated Press in Pittsburgh.

Staley, 48, died early Wednesday of a heart attack in St. Joseph's Hospital in Pittsburgh. He was stricken late Tuesday in his home in suburban Castle Shannon.

2 Ohio Escapees Are Arraigned In Car Theft Charge

BAKERSFIELD, Calif. (AP) — Two Ohio teen-agers who say they escaped from the Apple Creek State Hospital in Ohio a month ago have been arraigned in superior court here on auto theft charges.

The youths are Roy Lee Seymore, 18, Columbus and Clifford White, 19, of Rt. 1, Ironton. They were apprehended Oct. 6 in a car stolen in nearby Maricopa.

Detective O. J. Harber quoted the youths as saying they jumped a guard at the hospital Sept. 10 and took his keys. Harber said the youths related that they then stole a car and, accompanied by two other escapees, drove to Los Angeles. Since then they said they have stolen two other cars.

They said the other two youths who made the trip with them are staying in the Los Angeles area.

Detectives said they have wired Ohio authorities, telling them the youths had been apprehended, but have not received confirmation of their escape story.

Five other psychopathic patients escaped from the hospital's top security ward, but three were captured the next day in stolen vehicles. Two were caught in Medina and the third was captured on the Ohio Turnpike in a truck.

Still at large are Ronald Melvin of Washington Court House, Ohio, and John Raynor of Seattle, Wash. A hospital official had described them as not being particularly dangerous.

Add dill seed to an oil-and-vinegar dressing and serve over julienne beets and crisp greens; garnish with slices of hard-cooked egg. Canned beets are inexpensive and convenient.

Rayen Travels Here Friday

Youngtown Club Shows Fast Backs

East Liverpool had to contend with the power of Canton Central last week and tomorrow night at Patterson Field it will be the overall speed of Youngstown Rayen. Kickoff is set for 7:45 p. m.

The scouting report on the Youngstown eleven reads "fast backfield." Rayen is fresh from handing Youngstown North a 38-20 setback last Saturday when halfback Ralph Coleman, a 155-pound speedster, scored five touchdowns.

Two were of the long variety while three others were of shorter yardage.

Coach Ralph Robinette in his 10th season at Rayen faced a rebuilding campaign when the season opened and so far has held his forces at even keel with a2-2 record.

The veteran Youngstown mentor lost 25 boys from a team that tasted defeat only once in the 1960 season.

In the opener this year, Coach Lou Venditti's Canton Lincoln tripped Rayen, 14-8. Robinette's crew dropped a 30-8 decision to Youngstown East before winning its last two over Woodrow Wilson, 16-14, and last week over North.

Paired with Coleman at the other halfback spot is Jack Klein, a 160-pound senior. The other main threat in the Rayen backfield is junior quarterback Rick Ballantine. The 190-pounder is a good runner and rated a better than average passer although Rayen is known to stick pretty much to a ground game.

Ballantine played as a regular last year in his sophomore season.

The fullback for Rayen will be Harvey Gelfand, a 175-pounder.

The Rayen line will be nothing like East Liverpool faced last week in Canton Central which averaged 200-pound along the forward wall, but it is big.

At ends will be Roy Winston, 190-pound junior, and Willie Donaldson, 160-pound senior. Jay Brownlee, a sophomore at 205 pounds, will be at one tackle while Tom Nunizato, a 175-pound junior, is slated for the other slot.

The guard spots will be handled by Gerald Allen, a 170-pound senior, and Fred Fabry (215). Louis Santangelo, a 195 - pound junior, will be at center.

Robinette's 1960 team also won the City Championship of Youngstown, going undefeated in games with other city schools.

Stanton-Springfield Kickoff Set For 7:30

OSU, Northwestern OK Athlete Aid Plan

CHICAGO (AP)—Ohio State and Northwestern have voted approval of the Big Ten's proposed new aid-to-athletes program, but Illinois has voted against it.

The three schools are the only ones to vote on the matter thus far, an Associated Press survey showed. Indiana and Purdue have not yet set a date for voting. Wisconsin and Iowa are expected to act in a week or so. Minnesota and Michigan are scheduled next month. Michigan State is to vote today.

The new program drops the "need" factor for financial aid to athletes but tightens scholastic entrance requirements.

It was approved conditionally at the conference's spring meeting in Iowa City and now must be reviewed by each school before a final vote is case at the December meetings in Chicago.

Haven't Reached Full Potential

By HARRY JUPITER

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—After shutting out his last two National Football League opponents 49-0 and 35-0, Coach Red Hickey says his San Francisco 49ers still haven't developed all of the explosive potential of his shotgun offense.

The 49ers beat the Los Angeles Rams 35-0 last Sunday and clobbered the Lions at Detroit the week before that.

In both games, the 49ers used the shotgun all the way, utilizing all three of their quarterbacks.

There was a lot of criticism of the shotgun formation before it became so spectacularly successful.

In beating Los Angeles Sunday, the 49ers had touchdown drives of 81 yards in 10 plays, 80 yards in 11 plays, 80 yards in 10 plays, 77 in 6 and 93 in 13.

The Packers beat the 49ers 30-10 at Green Bay, the only 49er loss this season, and Hickey figures there were two reasons for the loss.

"The Packers have a great team, no doubt about it," Hickey said, "but we didn't use our shotgun enough against 'em. We used the shotgun about half the time and the T the rest."

Hickey had the shotgun in mind when he drafted UCLA's Bill Kilmer as his first draft choice. Kilmer is one of the three alternating quarterbacks, along with veteran John Brodie and second-year man Bobby Waters.

Italians Are Confident Over U.S. In Davis Cup

ROME (AP) — A determined U.S. tennis team vowed today to jar confident Italians who expect their Davis Cup squad to beat the Americans easily in the interzone final.

The Americans were not predicting victory for themselves, as Italian sports writers and tennis buffs were doing for Italy. But the Americans were not conceding either.

Many Italians were forecasting a 5-0 victory once play starts Friday. One was Marquis Ferrante Cavriani, a former non-playing captain of the Italian Davis Cup team and now an official of the Italian Tennis Federation.

Told of the marquis's prediction, Donald Dell of Bethesda, Md., said: "If I were them, I would not bet on it."

David Freed, non-playing captain of the American team, admitted the Italians had the edge "on paper." But he said the encounter was wide open.

Other members of the American team—Jon Douglas, of Santa Monica, Calif., Whitney Reed of Alameda, Calif., and Martin Riessen of Evanston, Ill.—were equally confident in their ability to halt the favored Italians.

But Italian tennis fans thought the Americans, short on experience in Davis Cup play, would have a tough time winning a match against the veteran Italian team of Nicola Pietrangeli, Fausto Gardini and Orlando Sirola.

After four days of strenuous workouts on the red clay courts at the Rome Tennis Club, where the matches will be played, Freed scheduled only a light workout today.

Douglas and Gardini meet in the first match Friday. Then Reed and Pietrangeli collide.

On Saturday the doubles match will be played. The Italians plan to use Sirola and Pietrangeli. Freed intends to team Dell with one of the other three American players, possibly Riessen.

Douglas and Pietrangeli meet in Sunday's first singles match. Gardini and Reed play the final match of the encounter.

Scheffing Is AL's Manager Of Year

By JERRY GREEN
Associated Press Sports Writer

DETROIT (AP)—Bob Scheffing, a weather - beaten ex - catcher who'd been fired by the Chicago Cubs, became manager of the Detroit Tigers before the 1961 season knowing he faced an obstacle course.

He took over one of baseball's most mixed-up clubs, guided it to second place and Wednesday was named the American League's manager of the year in The Associated Press' annual poll.

"I'm grateful to the fellows on the team," Scheffing said when he learned of the honor on arrival at his home in Scottsdale, Ariz., Wednesday night. "They deserve the award, not me."

Scheffing said he was very happy about the award. He added that he expected the Tigers to have about the same club next season as they had this year.

"But we've got to improve our pitching and bench," he said. "Our hitting is good. But we have to improve our defense, too."

Scheffing received 105 votes from 174 voting members of the Baseball Writers' Association of America. Second to Scheffing was Ralph Houk, the man who replaced Casey Stengel as manager of the Yankees. Houk received 62 votes. Bill Rigney of the Los Angeles Angels received 6 and Jimmie Dykes, fired recently by the Cleveland Indians, 1. The voting was based on regular season play with the Yankees' victory in the World Series not considered.

"Bob deserves this honor more than anyone," said Rick Ferrell, Tiger vice president. "He had a fine year and we're real proud of him."

Ohio State's Top Quarterback Is Hurt In Practice

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Ohio State's strenuous football practice sessions claimed another victim Wednesday, one which may cause reshuffling the backfield.

Top quarterback Bill Mrukowski of Elyria had to leave the workout early after being kicked in the leg. His departure moved John Mummey of Painesville in the No. 1 signal calling post.

Mummey, after being shuffled between fullback and quarterback through most of his career with the Buckeyes, supposedly had been placed for good in the fullback slot behind All-America Bob Ferguson.

Mrukowski's ailment ran the Buckeye sick list to 11 and nearly all of them are front line performers.

Of the group, only two, guard Jim Bearss of Toledo and end Bob Middleton of Marion have been ruled out of Saturday's game with Illinois. Bearss has a shoulder separation and Middleton a fractured jaw. Another end, Chuck Bryant of Zanesville, is on the doubtful list with a neck injury.

Has Arm Operation

Stranahan Stages Rally To Capture Ohio Crown

AKRON, Ohio (AP)—It took a brilliant clutch performance for Frank Stranahan to win his third Ohio Open Golf Championship.

The Toledo pro made up a six-stroke deficit and edged Eddie Griffiths of Youngstown by sinking a 12-foot putt for a birdie three in a sudden death playoff Wednesday.

Midway through the 36 - hole finals, Griffiths, the 1957 Ohio Open champion, led the field by four strokes with 221 and was six strokes ahead of Stranahan.

But Griffiths had his troubles on the final 18, soaring to a 76, six over par, for a 287 total—seven over par. He muffed a four-foot putt on the last regulation hole that would have given him the championship.

Stranahan, who won the Open in 1948 as an amateur and last year as a professional, settled down to a steady round, shooting par 70 over the difficult 7,165-yard Firestone Country Club course.

He sank a five-foot putt on the last regulation hole to tie Griffiths. On the first sudden death hole, both were on in two, but Griffiths' putt from 30 feet was short. Griffiths had dropped in longer putts than that during his brilliant opening round Monday when he fired a 67. Stranahan then dropped a 12-foot putt for a birdie-three and the championship.

Asked what he was going to do next after winning the $500 first prize, Stranahan said he plans to play in the Japanese Open next month.

In third place was Leo Biagetti of Ashland, who led the field going into Wednesday's 36 - hole grind, but took a 76-73 and wound up with a 288 total for the 76-hole affair.

Jim Lucius, Troy Country Club pro, came in fourth with 290.

Don Stickney, a sophomore from Ohio State University, turned in the best amateur score, a 296.

Leaders among the 25 amateurs shared $875 in merchandise prizes. The prize list for professionals totaled $2,625. Thirty-nine professionals made the finals out of 100 who started Monday; 50 amateurs started the tournament.

Capacity Crowd Seen For Packers, Browns

CLEVELAND (AP)—Depending on the weather, the National Football League game here Sunday between the Cleveland Browns and the Green Bay Packers — who haven't met since 1956 — could draw a near-capacity crowd.

Less worried about attendance than the outcome is Cleveland Coach Paul Brown who advised his team Wednesday that "you have a chance but you have to be at your very best."

The coach said he considered the Packers one of the most solid teams in football.

"The packers are a possession football team," he said. "Watching one of their game movies we kept waiting for them to turn over the ball. They just seemed to keep it and keep it, marching down the field.

"You won't find a pair of harder running backs around than Paul Hornung and Jim Taylor. They are bruising runners."

Asked if he felt his team and the Packers were somewhat similar with an emphasis on running and strong defenses, Brown replied: "That's probably true. The football thinking of Vince (Lombandi) and myself runs along much the same lines. We have compared notes frequently the past few years."

Houk's New Pact Close To $40,000

By DON WEISS
Associated Press Sports Writer

NEW YORK (AP) — The New York Yankees, happily paying the price of their 19th World Series championship, are expected to sign Manager Ralph Houk to a two-year contract today at an estimated $40,000 a season.

The champs, who set the trend Wednesday by handing relief ace Luis Arroyo a bonus reported at $5,000 for his performance during the 1961 season, have called a news conference at which Houk's signing is expected to be announced.

The 42-year-old fighting major is anxious to get started on a no-telephone, much-fishing junket to Florida and Yankee General Manager Roy Hamey indicated the club is just as anxious to get him under contract before he heads south.

Houk signed a one-year contract for about $30,000 when he succeeded Casey Stengel as Yankee manager last fall. That he'll be back in charge next year and probably 1963 as well has been taken for granted. He is the third freshman manager in baseball history to win a World Series.

"He did a great job," Hamey said at the Yankee victory dinner Tuesday night. "When you consider the spot he was on, following Stengel, you'd have to say Ralph did an exceptional job.

"He had the respect of his players all the way and personally, I never worked with a better man in all my years. We didn't have a single difference."

Even Match Is Predicted In Ryder Cup

LYTHAM ST. ANNE'S, England (AP) — Two men who live and breathe golf dismissed the idea today that the Ryder Cup matches starting Friday will be a walkover for the Americans.

They are the men who should know — American team captain Jerry Barber and British captain Dai Rees.

Bookies have made the Americans 7-2 favorites to win the cup for the eleventh time in the two-day competition.

"The bookies must be insane," said Barber after leading his team through the second day of practice on the Royal Lytham St. Anne's course. "This match will be as even as it could be."

Rees, 48, playing in his ninth Ryder Cup, said: "Don't write us off. We were the long shots in the matches played in Britain four years ago—and we still won."

"Six of that winning team will be going against the Americans this week. We have a good chance to beat anyone."

"Of course the Americans have got a formidable team—they're always formidable," Rees said. "But I reckon we're in there with a real chance—and I'm not saying that just because I'm captain." In the first two days of practice, the British have produced scores that match or better those of the Americans.

But Bill Cox, former British Ryder Cup captain and now acknowledged as the foremost golf teacher in this country, watched the Americans playing Wednesday's fierce winds and said: "Practice scores can be very deceptive. The Americans are going over this course with a fine tooth comb, trying all sorts of different shots to find out which is the best way to play it. You can be sure they will hit their best form when it counts."

Ohio Congressman Praises U.S. Press

OXFORD, Ohio (AP)—Paul F. Schenck, member of Congress from the 3rd Ohio District, believes that on the whole the American press is "doing a remarkable job."

Addressing Miami University journalism students Wednesday, Schenck said, "I would want to see nothing done to control or censor the press, radio or television. When that time comes, it will be the beginning of the downfall of our country."

Lionel Taylor of the Denver Broncos set a professional football record in 1960 when he caught 92 passes.

President's Due Honorary Degree At N. Carolina

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Kennedy flies to North Carolina today to receive his 21st honorary degree, make a speech and watch airborne troops demonstrate their readiness for combat.

Kennedy was scheduled to take off from National Airport at 9:15 (Eastern Standard Time) for the one-hour flight to Raleigh-Durham airport.

Before traveling by motorcade to the University of North Carolina's Kenan Stadium at Chapel Hill, he planned a few remarks at the airport to open the North Carolina Trade Fair in Charlotte.

His airport talk was to be recorded on tape for immediate dispatch to Charlotte and broadcasting at the fair's opening ceremony.

University President William C. Friday and Chancellor William B. Aycock waited at Chapel Hill to introduce Kennedy to an anticipated crowd of about 33,000 and present him the honorary law degree at convocation exerises. Kennedy previously has received 19 honorary doctorates in law and one in science.

The chief executive's program called for leaving Chapel Hill just before noon for the hop to Ft. Bragg. He was scheduled to land at Pope Air Force Base, a part of the military reservation, at about 12:50 p.m.

U.S. Labor Chief To Join Met Talks

NEW YORK (AP)—Local 802 of the American Federation of Musicians and representatives of the Metropolitan Opera Association will meet here Friday under the baton of Secretary of Labor Arthur J. Goldberg.

The musicians and the Met agreed to arbitration of their labor dispute last August after the Met had announced cancellation of its 1961-62 season. The season was reinstated, and Goldberg was named as arbitrator.

Set With Dodgers

Alston Gets 9th Contract

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Walt Alston, quiet-spoken former school teacher, will manage the Los Angeles Dodgers again next year as they move into their new stadium in Chavez Ravine.

Dodger General Manager Buzzie Bavasi announced Wednesday night that Alston, 49, a resident of Darrtown, Ohio, will lead the Los Angeles club for the ninth consecutive season. He started in 1954 when Charlie Dressen quit because the Dodgers wouldn't give him a long-term contract.

Alston has been operating on a year-to-year basis ever since and has accounted for three National League championships, two world championships, two seconds, a third, fourth and seventh place. He is the oldest manager in the National League in point of service.

The Dodgers finished second this year, going into a 10-game tailspin after taking a two-game lead over Cincinnati. The team had an unusualy long string of injuries and the retirement of relief pitcher Ed Roebuck because of a sore arm added to Alston's problems.

There were rumors late in the season and during the World Series that Alston might not be rehired, but Bavasi said there was no basis for them. There may be certain changes in the coaching staff, but Bavasi said he and Alston would discuss the coaching situation in a few days when they meet to plan for the 1962 season.

Out Of The Air

By MARIE TORRE

The Year Of The TV Newsmen

In China, it's the year of the Cow; in American TV, it's the Year of the Newsman. What with more than 20 electronic reporters heading shows of their own and journalism the reigning category of current TV programming, the new season represents maximum effort on the part of TV newsmen. At least one reporter is pondering the question, "Is it too much?"

Marie Torre

"They're asking an awful lot of us this year," muses David Brinkley, who hates to think what happened to quiz shows and Westerns when they reached the point of overabundance. "I wonder how many of us will survive?"

THE MAJOR difference between Brinkley and his colleagues, or most of them, is that he's conditioned to the exigencies of the business.

In the continuing excitement engendered by his and Chet Huntley's casual approach to news reporting, it generally is forgotten that Brinkley has been toiling at NBC for 18 years, a period marked by more downs than ups.

"I'm reminded, as I work on my new show, of the time in '53 when I did a show just like it at NBC," said Brinkley, whose "Journal" opens Wednesday.

"A series that was to go on early Sunday afternoons had fallen through, and I was told, on short notice, to fill in. I had no budget. No help. No cameraman to rehearse with until minutes before each program.

"When I needed a picture from the Library of Congress, I had to get it myself and arrange to get a print of it myself.

"I DON'T THINK anybody ever saw the show. The only review I received was from Variety, which had nice things to say about it, incidentally. Anyway, I'll be doing basically the same show this season.

"Yes, I've thought of the possibility of its disappointing viewers and network executives who have come to expect an awful lot of me — and all the other newsmen. I'm not losing any sleep over it, however; if it doesn't work."

It may seem a far-fetched conclusion, but Brinkley's previous plaints about the loss of anonymity that accompanies TV fame bolsters the impression that he speaks with conviction when he expresses indifference to TV success.

FAME, HE complains, often interferes with his job as reporter.

"When I worked on newspapers," he recalls, "I often found that a good way to get a story was simply to move inconspicuously around where something was happening, to pretend to be just another member of the crowd, to ask questions and talk to people without saying I was a reporter.

"It's a good way to get natural, unrehearsed, unpostured reactions and comments. It's impossible to do that now, even wearing sunglasses.

"Sometimes, of course, being known to people helps get you into places otherwise inaccessible. But, on balance, being a 'personality,' if we must use that word, is a handicap."

It's Brinkley's ambition to return to newspaper work one day. He has something to say on that subject, too.

"THE PUBLIC has the impression that anybody who works in TV is rich. This is a myth," he states. "True, part of my NBC salary goes into a fund with which I hope to educate my kids, but once that's deducted and the taxes are taken out, I'm left with living expenses and nothing to save toward old age.

"The other night Arthur Goldberg, our secretary of labor, asked me about this very thing at a party. He asked, 'Is it true that those of you in show business have no pension plans, no retirement plans or any of the other benefits usually accorded to employes?'

"I told him it was the bitter truth. They pay us more than we're worth and then we're on our own."

HOW WESTERNS are declining! In the latest Nielsen report, only two Westerns showed—"Bonanza" and "Gunsmoke." In other months, at least five or six horse operas turned up in every Nielsen survey. . . .

Irritated by the consistent criticism of excessive violence leveled at "The Untouchables," star Robert Stack spoke out in Hollywood. "Don't judge the result, judge the cause. You don't judge the quality of an auto by how many people are killed in accidents," he noted, then added:

"The period we portray was a violent era, yet we do not actually show the violence to a great degree; we imply it. The criticism of 'Untouchables' is also a paradox; it's because the show is successful. If it weren't, there'd be no need to criticize. Lots of other shows with real violence have gone off the air because they were, in fact, just plain poor shows."

City Man's Trial Set On Indecent Assault

Trial of Ralph Byers, 35, of 313 Norton St., accused of indecent assault on a minor, will begin Monday before Common Pleas Court Judge Joel H. Sharp at Lisbon.

Byers was secretly indicted by the September Grand Jury after Juvenile Judge Louis Tobin sentenced him to a year in jail on a charge of contributing to the delinquency of the minor.

Atty. Carl Stoffer of Homeworth, representing Byers, argued in court Wednesday that this constituted double jeopardy but the court upheld the contention of Prosecutor G. William Brokaw that the charges are separate and trial was ordered.

Defecting Locals Due Charters

AFL-CIO Sees Member Exodus Of Hoffa Union

NEW YORK (AP) — AFL-CIO chiefs forecast today a substantial membership exodus from James R. Hoffa's Teamsters Union now that the federation has hung out a welcome sign.

George Meany, AFL-CIO president, said he was already busy processing affiliation applications from about 100 of the nearly 900 Teamsters locals.

The AFL-CIO Executive Council voted 24 to 2 Wednesday to authorize Meany to issue charters to locals defecting from Hoffa's rule. Federation officials said they have no idea how many Teamsters may thus decide to switch allegiance, but expect a sizable number.

Hoffa can be relied upon to fight back. He has said he will meet head-on any AFL-CIO threat to his union and is confident that "we'll come out on top."

Meany declined to speculate to newsmen whether the open bid for a Teamsters rebellion will result in a labor war.

"We don't go in for headbusting," Meany said. "You'll have to ask Mr. Hoffa about that."

Hoffa said in Detroit Wednesday night that he will sue Meany for $1 million on grounds of slander and libel. The Teamsters chief said the suit will be filed in U.S. District Court in Detroit next Monday.

Hoffa said he plans the court action because he wants to force Meany to try to prove his charges of corruption in the Teamsters Union.

The AFL-CIO Council sessions this week have brought bad news to Hoffa. He'd hoped to be invited to bring his expelled 1.5-million member union back into the federation. Instead, AFL-CIO leaders voted overwhelmingly to continue the Teamsters exile and to encourage bolts of Hoffa's members.

A grand jury at Orlando, Fla., also reindicted Hoffa Wednesday on mail fraud violation charges involving alleged misuse of $500,000 Teamsters funds in a land development scheme. A prior indictment was dismissed on technical grounds.

Hoffa may retaliate against the AFL-CIO by going ahead with a blueprint plan already authorized by the Teamsters to establish a union federation rivaling the AFL-CIO. Hoffa may seek to take away some of the AFL-CIO's own unions.

Bringing Up A Family

By GARRY C. MEYERS

Child's Allowance Should Be Planned

In haste to catch the school bus, 10-year-old Cindy calls upstairs to her mother, "My allowance!" The mother scurries around to find her purse and the smallest amount she can find in it is a five-dollar bill. Finally she says, "Take this, Cindy, and bring back the change this evening." Suppose they both forget all about it in the evening. Or suppose Cindy, having so much money, chose to spend a good deal of it for sweets or other luxuries. A few mornings later Cindy may express her need for money again, just as she is hurrying off to school.

NOW SUPPOSE Cindy has one or more brothers or sisters rushing off to school at the same time.

Under such conditions, an allowance plan won't work. And the orgy of emotions may be still more if money is doled out to each child when he says he needs it, just as he is leaving for school.

In either case, the wise parent will plan a day or more ahead to have adequate change on hand. I know a father who takes responsibility for such planning.

When each school child has a budgeted allowance which he receives on a certain day of the week, preferably on an evening before a school day, having the correct amount on hand will make it easier for both the child and his parents. Besides, the child then knows exactly how much money he has for a definite period and can govern his spending accordingly.

IT'S DESIRABLE for the child of the first or second grade upward to have learned to live for a week within a definite allowance. If he has not, he may gradually learn by practice in shorter periods, then slightly longer ones.

A good allowance plan is based on the regular daily needs of the child. After these needs are listed and totaled to cover a week, a small amount for pocket money should be added. All the items in this budgeted allowance should be reviewed with the child from time to time, and sometimes revised accordingly.

Many parents suppose their child is operating on an allowance when they give him what they call "pocket money". But a good allowance is budgeted ahead. The child lists his regular needs. Pocket money, for him to spend as he chooses, is listed separately. A problem is to keep this amount reasonably low. Most parents incline to make it too high under pressures from the child.

My bulletin "Allowances" may be had by sending a self - addressed stamped envelope to me in care of this newspaper.

Crane Boom Smashes W. 8th Traffic Signal

A stop sign has been erected as a temporary control on Chestnut St. at W. 8th St., where a traffic signal was smashed Tuesday by the boom of a big crane that was being moved across the four-lane "super-road."

The traffic signal had been erected about two weeks ago at the point where a Route 267 detour to Pleasant Heights was established because of the closing of lower Lisbon St.

Authorities said a big caterpillar tread crane went out of control as the operator was driving it downgrade on former Chestnut St., moving it across the four-lane "super-road" stretch. The crane operator jumped clear and the machine drifted into the intersection, halting when its boom caught on cables supporting the light.

Ike, Wife Complete Physical Checkups

WASHINGTON (AP) — Former President and Mrs. Dwight D. Eisenhower have completed "satisfactory examinations" in their annual physical checkups at Walter Reed Army Hospital.

Eisenhower, 71 next Saturday has undergone annual checkups since his Army days.

Keep In Trim

Dieters, take action to get nature pulling for you. Fuel is burned according to the demand of the muscles for energy. All right, step up the muscle demand by life-giving exercise. Oh, how rewarding a little regular exercise can be! In fact, exercise often marks the difference between unexpected success and repeated failure.

Ida Jean Kain

Too often, dieters who find reducing slow going make the mistake of cutting down drastically on calories. This is neither the way to lose weight faster nor the way to keep your bounce while dieting. Bear in mind that the more food you can burn along with your fat, the better you will feel.

So, instead of paring down calories to semi-starvation level, which causes the body fires to burn low, have adequate amounts of the protective foods and step up exercise to burn the fuel along with body fat.

HOW MUCH outdoor exercise do you get? Physicians point out that the common feeling of fatigue and tension is often due to a lack of outdoor activity. Regular walking is the best and most natural exercise to take. Let me tell you about three career girls living in a large city who decided to put walking to the test.

At a point two miles from their destination, the girls would get off the subway and walk briskly the rest of the way to the office. One girl, however, changed her position and couldn't join her friends on their daily walk.

Result: A year later, the walkers were streamlined and in the pink of condition — no stenographer's spread. The other girl, alas, had gained ten unwanted pounds in the wrong spots.

Homemakers can perhaps fit the walk in during the late afternoon. Dieters can save the late-day energy pick-up to have as a treat at the finish of the walk.

And here's a challenge to mothers of young school-age children: Walk with the children to school, don't drive them. This may be the greatest favor you can do for your children as well as for yourselves.

—:—

ANY KIND of exercise which calls for the vigorous use of many muscles and increases the feeling of well-being is all to the good. The secret is regularity of exercise so the body is kept in toned condition.

Spasmodic spurts of physical exertion can cause harm. The medical profession warns against physical inactivity during the week followed by over-exertion on the weekends.

For the normal weights, exercise is the healthful way to control weight. For the overweights, the perfect way to reduce is to combine protective diet with regular exercise. You'll not only lose the burdensome excess pounds, but you'll come alive!

Carnival Slated By School Group

The attendance banner went to Mrs. Ila Skidmore's second grade.

Refreshments were served by the sixth grade homeroom mothers.

Local Groups Hold Key To Ford Return

DETROIT (AP) — Individual problems at 25 local bargaining units heldt he key today to resumption by Ford Motor Co. following the agreement Wednesday night with the United Auto Workers Union on a new three-year national labor contract.

UAW President Walter P. Reuther said he would recommend to the union's Ford National Council this afternoon that the settlement be approved and a nationwide strike which began 10 days ago be ended.

However, strikes will continue at the 25 local units which have unresolved problems, pending a review of all issues by the international executive board tonight.

Reuther said locals with "legitimate specific problems" will be authorized by the board to continue to strike. But he expressed hope such problems would be resolved in time to permit the company to return to production by Monday.

"We'd like to get the men back to work as soon as possible," said Malcolm L. Denise, Ford vice president-labor relations who led the Ford bargaining team. "Monday would be fine with us."

In another union action Wednesday night the international board ordered a new ratification vote by Local 72 at Kenosha, Wis., on the American Motors profit-sharing contract. The 12,000-member local rejected the pact by 63 votes in a slim turnout Sunday.

Two final pieces of the non-economic section ofthe national Ford contract were settled at a four-hour bargaining session on Wednesday night.

The two sides agreed to the economic sections of the contract just prior to the strike Oct. 3. The walkout came over the non-wage sections with production standards, union representation, outside contracting and the Ford steel plant proving the major stumbling blocks.

The contract closely matches the General Motors settlement of last month.

Execution Set Nov. 10 For Officer's Slayer

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — The Ohio Supreme Court has set Nov. 10 for the execution of James R. Buck, 24, convicted Akron police slayer.

The court rejected Buck's appeal from his first-degree murder conviction Wednesday. He had been convicted of fatally shooting policeman Floyd Weatherholt March 25, 1960.

Chico Marx, 70, Comedian, Dies Of Heart Attack

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — Leonard Marx, a tailor's son who wanted to be a businessman but instead became Chico of the Marx brothers comedy team, is dead at 70.

Chico, oldest member of the impossibly irreverent brothers whose vaudeville and movie fans included low-brows and intellectuals alike, died of a heart ailment Wednesday. He had been ill for several months.

Chico and brothers Groucho (Julius), Harpo (Arthur), Zeppo (Herbert) and Gummo (Milton) transformed low comedy into high art for three decades—with their special brand of winks, whistles and wisecracks.

Their last movie was in 1949, entitled "Love Happy," and the cast included an obscure blonde actress, Marilyn Monroe, in her first film.

Gummo and Zeppo entered private business years ago. Chico, who loved gambling, cards and golf, lived quietly in recent years.

Only Groucho, 66, is still an active performer. Harpo recently regained some prominence with "Harpo Speaks," an autobiography.

Schoolboy Rowe won 16 consecutive games for the Detroit Tigers in 1934.

Jury To Decide Friday To Hear One Of Indicted

WARREN, Ohio (AP) — The Trumbull County grand jury will determine Friday whether it wants to hear one of seven men it indicted in an alleged shakedown of contractors on city sewer projects.

The man, Frank A. Cickelli, county Democratic Party chairman, Wednesday sought permission to appear before the jury when it reconvenes. He was subpoenaed to appear before the jury when it was in session last month, but was not called to testify.

Common Pleas Court Judge G. H. Birrell recalled the grand jurors to correct possible technical errors in the original indictments. Lynn B. Griffith Jr., county prosecutor, made the request.

The indictments have been under attack in motions filed in behalf of Cickelli, James Matash, a bondsman; and councilmen Raymond J. Little, Jack G. Flask and John Janosik. These five have not entered pleas.

Two others, James R. Soda, a contractor, and Paul Lamonge, former cafe owner, have pleaded innocent to the charges in the indictments. All seven are free under bond.

Finegan Resigns Cleveland Post With AFL-CIO

CLEVELAND (AP) — AFL-CIO leaders now must find a successor to William Finegan, who has resigned as executive secretary of the Cleveland Federation of Labor.

Delegates from the unions Wednesday night approved Finegan's resignation amid only a few shouts of "No!" when a voice vote was called.

Finegan leaves a post he has held since the AFL-CIO merger in 1958 until Jan. 1. He will receive $16,900—a year's salary—as severance pay.

The CFL executive board approved the two conditions Tuesday and recommended acceptance by CFL delegates, a few of whom sought Finegan's ouster. The board's resolution also provided that a previous resolution demanding Finegan's ouster be tabled and that he continue as a delegate to the AFL-CIO.

Approval of the resignation came after Patrick J. O'Malley, federation president, asked the delegates not to get into a dispute over the resolution.

The resolution Wednesday night was recommended by a six-man committee appointed at the federation's September meeting. The committee investigated Finegan's alleged failure to carry through AFL-CIO policies.

Finegan was not at the meeting. Reports are he may accept a post with the Teamsters.

Ann Landers

ANSWERS YOUR PROBLEMS

Dear Ann Landers: I have a problem which I've never seen in your column. Furthermore, I've never heard of anyone who has had this kind of trouble.

My husband insists that I leave the door to our apartment open between 5:30 and 6 in the evenin when he is expected home for dinner. He just hates to dig around for his key.

I should tell you that he usually carried a briefcase and some books, so I concede it may be a bit of a nuisance.

I've offered to unlock the door immediately if he will only knock, whistle or ring, but this isn't good enough! He can't stand to wait. He wants the door to be open so he can walk right in.

Yesterday he got so mad he yelled loud enough for the neighbors to hear: "If this door isn't open tomorrow I'm going to kick it down!"

What do you suggest? BROWBEATEN.

Dear Brow: Of course it would be more convenient if the door were open so he could walk right in. It would be even more convenient if there were no door at all. But a grown man should have sense enough to realize that if HE could walk in, so could any vagrant, theif or lunatic.

Tell him to grow up. A major symptom of infantile behavior is the inability to defer to others. The inconvenience of using his key is a trifle compared with what he stands to lose by insisting that you leave the door open.

A Slap In Time

Dear Ann: My 10-year-old daughter was behaving badly in a department store yesterday. She was running up and down the aisles, pulling dresses off the hangers and opening stock drawers. I told her repeatedly to stop it. She'd say, "Okay, Mommy," and two minutes later she'd do something else.

When my back was turned she climbed on a table and stuck her hand in a bird cage. This was the limit so I gave her a swat on the behind. She bawled for a minute then behaved perfectly.

A close friend who was with me criticized me for spanking the child in public. She said only low-class people do this and I should have waited until we got home. Do you agree?—CRTICIZED.

Dear Criticized: The most effective punishment is the kind handed out on the spot.

Time takes on strange dimensions to youngsters. An hour can seem like a week. Had you waited until you got home she might have forgotten that she behaved badly. My only criticism is that you didn't let her have it sooner.

Free Rider

Dear Ann Landers: A friend who works near my place of employment rides to and from work with me almost every day. Sometimes he invites a friend or two to ride along. This has been going on for almost two years.

Not once has he offered to buy gas or oil for the car. I wonder if he thinks a car runs on "Thank You." I am not a petty person, nor am I in bad financial shape, but I hate to be a sap. What are your feelings on this subject? —FREE TAXI.

Dear Free: People who accept favors should reciprocate in some manner. Perhaps your friend feels you would be insulted if he offered to fill the tank. An occasional gift would show appreciation. In any event, Thanks for the ride" day after day is not enough.

Ann Landers will be glad to help you with your problems. Send them to her in care of The Review, enclosing a stamped, self-addressed envelope.

Arraignment Slated In Columbus Slaying

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—A 38-year-old house builder was to be arraigned on a first-degree murder charge today for the slaying of his estranged wife's neighbor.

Arthur C. Nebb, subject of a nationwide search for nearly a month surrendered to County Prosecutor Earl W. Allison Wednesday.

He is accused of killing Estel Stepp Sept. 14, who was visiting Nebb's ex - wife, Bernice, at her home south of Columbus. Mrs. Nebb was wounded.

Mrs. Clara Cory, Nebb's attorney, said he telephoned her Wednesday morning, and she advised him to surrender.

Shrunken Head Taken From Nebraska Site

LINCOLN, Nebraska (AP) — Someone swiped the shrunken head from the University of Nebraska Museum.

What makes the loss so tough, explains museum director C. Bertrand Schultz, is that the 60 to 70-year old shrunken human head is irreplaceable.

Indians in South America — where this specimen originated—have been forbidden to shrink heads for some time.

The owner will help you finance a 1½ story home at 932 NORTH ST. with a total of $7000.00. Extra large lot and an excellent location for privacy right in town. Gas heat, knotty pine kitchen, garage, partial basement and A-1 location.

345 Grant St. Here is a home you didn't think existed—a 1 story 2 bedroom home close enough to walk to town, gas furnace, closed in sunporch, nice kitchen, and well cared for throughout. With $1500.00 down payment the payments are just $42 per month, but if you don't have the $1500.00 we might persuade the owner to wait for some of the down payment.

At 692 Lincoln Avenue there is a 2 story 3 bedroom, modern home that can be yours for $500.00 cash and a few more $65 per month payments. Better investigate.
